ARCHITECTS' NOTES

Mr. A. D. Juilliard, 70 Worth street, New York City, has bought a building site, 30x100 feet, on West Fifty-seventh street, New York, and will erect a handsome dwelling. No architect has been selected.

Architect M. I. Kast, Harrisburg, Pa., has prepared plans for four pair double frame dwellings to be erected at Camp Hill, Pa., for T. C. Tochnauer. They will contain all modern conveniences. The plans are now ready for estimates.—The same architect has been commissioned to prepare plans for interior alteration to Grace Evangelical Church at Millersburg, Pa.

Henry G. Dagitt, architect, 431 Chestnut street, has completed plans and specifications and sent same out to builders for the new edifice for the Roman Catholic Congregation of St. Clare, to be built at Florence, N. J. It will be stone, Gothic style structure, measuring 35x78 feet. Bids due August 28th. Jas. Pasquale, of Vineland, N. J., and Jas. Wenzelberger, of this city, are bidding.

Newman & Harris, architects, Real Estate Building, are working on plans for a handsome new country residence to be built at Long Island for W. G. Carrington, of New York. It will be two-and-a-half stories high, of stone. The architecture will be of the English Manor style. There will also be a servants' house, farmhouse and stable built. Plans will be ready in about three weeks' time for bids.

Addison Hutton, architect, Stephen Girard Building, has been commissioned to prepare plans for extensive interior improvements to the Windsor Hotel, 1219-27 Filbert street. There will be a new ladies' entrance, the kitchen and dining-room will be enlarged and extensive interior alterations will be made. $30,000 and upwards will be expended in these improvements. Plans will be ready for bids in about three weeks.

McIlvaine & Roberts, architects, Land Title Building, are working on sketches for a handsome new residence for Mr. George Peterson, to be built at Ardmore, Pa. It will be three stories high, 35x46 feet, and will be built of stone. It will have a porch on front, the interior will be in hardwood and it will contain four bathrooms and will have every modern appointment and convenience. Will be ready for bids in about three weeks' time.

Jacob Naschold, architect, 504 Walnut street, has completed plans and sent same out to builders for estimates for the new hall to be built on Sixth street below Christian street. It will be two stories and basement high, 50x116 feet, and will be built of brick. The first floor will contain banquet hall, refreshment and dressing rooms, store and office. The second floor, auditorium, stage, dressing room, refreshment room, etc. Burd P. Evans and J. F. McCloskey are bidding. Bids due August 29th.

Newman & Harris, architects, Real Estate Building, have completed plans and specifications and sent same out to builders for estimates for the new Colonial residence to be built at 329 South Eighteenth street, for Albert Lucas, Esq. It will be three stories high, and will be built of brick and stone (details previously noted). The following builders have been invited to bid: Mitchell Bros., Frank S. Riggs, J. P. Thompson, Jacob Myers & Son, Chas. Gilpin and R. C. Ballinger & Co. Bids due September 3d.

Heacock & Hokanson, architects, 931 Chestnut street, have completed plans and specifications and will send same out to builders on August 27th, for a town hall or commissioners' building, to be built at Ogontz, Pa. It will be one-and-a-half-story high, with basement, and will be built of stone. The basement will contain chef's room and quarters for local police, cell rooms, etc. The first floor will contain reception room, commissioners' meeting room, lavatory, etc. The upper floor, assembly hall, etc. It will be heated by steam, wired for electricity and piped for gas, and will contain every modern appointment. The list of builders have been selected and closed. Bids due September 3d.

During, Okie & Ziegler, architects, South Penn Square Building, have completed revised plans for the new Sunday-school building to be built for the Linden Baptist Church at Camden, N. J. It will be three stories high, of brick and stone. The following builders have been invited to bid: J. S. Rodgers & Son, of Stanwick, N. J.; Thos. Haigh, Kaighn & Draper, Chas. Wifford & Son, William Seyers, of Camden, N. J., and H. C. Rea, of this city. Bids due September 2d.—The same firm have sent out plans for the parish house of St. Ambrose Mission, to be built at Ontario & Howard streets. It will be three stories high and will be built of brick and stone. The following builders have been invited to bid: John Davies & Son, Henry Brocklehurst, N. M. Bean, Edward Fay, David McClelland, W. J. Patterson, Harry Gill and M. E. Hauser. Bids due August 28th.

Arthur L. Nickelson, architect, Quinn Sharpless Building, 42 South Sixteenth street, has completed plans and will take subbids on the new ten-story DuPont office building to be built at Tenth and Market streets, Wilmington, Del. The following is the list of sub-contractors that are bidding: Cut stone work, Wm. Grey & Sons, Ridgeway & Son, Giles Shields & Co.; steam heating, Francis Bros. & Jellett Bower Bros. & Co., and Robt. Scott; fireproof and construction, Columbian Fireproof Company, Merritt & Co., Keystone Construction Company, Roebeling Fireproof Construction Company; ornamental plaster, Jno. Maine and J. P. Whitman & Co.; elevators, Howard Elevator Company, McAdams & Cartwright & Co., Otis Elevator Company, Morse Williams & Co. and Excelsior Elevator Company; electric work, J. F. Buchanan, Standard Electric Company, Deller Pike Company and Francis Bros. & Jellett; mill work, Batavia, New York Woodworking Company, O. M. Weber, Williamsport Planing Company, A. Wilt & Son and American Car Company, of Wilmington, Del.; roofing and skylight, John Byrd, J. S. Thorn & Co., Warren Ehret & Co. All bids due in two weeks' time.

Stearns & Castor, architects, Stephen Girard Building, have completed plans and sent same out to builders for estimates for the proposed Ellison Memorial Chapel, to be built at Sixty-third and Girard avenue. It will be a two-story structure, of stone and will measure 104 x57 feet, and will contain Sunday-school room, library and pastor's study. F. L. Hoover & Sons, David McClelland, Jno. R. Wiggins & Co., W. R. Dougherty, Machin & Brown and E. J. Hedden, Kendrick & Roberts, Inc., are bidding. Bids due August 31st.

BUILDING AND REAL ESTATE NOTES

Thos. Little & Sons, Geo. F. Payne & Co., Wm. R. Dougherty, builders, are bidding on alterations and additions to the residence of Dr. John B. Roberts at 313 South Seventeenth street. Plans provide for a new back building and general interior improvements. Bids due August 28th. Plans and specifications by Baker & Dallett, architects, Crozer Building.

Jno. Gill, builder, Heed Building, has plans posted for a large and handsome residence of Mr. Wm. F. Freihofer, to be built at Thirty-third street above Diamond street. It will be three stories and basement high, 30x60 feet, and will be built of brick and stone. The interior will be in hardwood finish and it will have every modern appointment and convenience. Bids due August 28th.

Jacob Myers & Son, Witherspoon Building, have plans posted for a handsome new passenger station to be built at New Brunswick, N. J., for the Pennsylvania Railroad Company. It will be three stories high, 81x49 feet, and will be built of brick and stone with green slate roof. Bids due September 4th.—They have also filed bids for a large new roundhouse to be built at Fairview, Pa., for the same Company. It will be built of iron and will be fireproof.

Wm. Steele & Son, builders, 1600 Arch street, have plans posted for a factory building to be built at Glenwood and Allegheny avenues, for the American Lacle Company. It will be three stories and basement high, 38x67 feet, and will be built of brick and slow burning construction. It will have tower fire escape and all up-to-date improvements.—The same firm will post plans in a short while for a new warehouse for the Western Electric Company, to be built at Twelfth and York streets.

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y, AUG. 26, 1903

The increased assessment of real estate values in this city for 1904, has already caused considerable alarm among the large holders. The question with them is how much of the burthen will tenants stand through an increase of rentals. What seems to be feared most is, that any considerable increase at a time when the cost of provisions is so high will have a tendency to drive many housekeepers back into the doubling-up method, which prevailed a few years ago as a result of the scarcity of employment.

As to the probable increase of the taxes on dwelling properties, it is largely conjectural at present. With a reduction of the rate the increased assessment may not amount to much, as the object is said to be intended to increase the borrowing ability of the city through an increase of real estate value; this will, of course, impose an increased burthen upon taxpayers in the way of yearly interest, and it is probable that the city's revenue from real estate will be increased to an amount equal to the interest on the proposed loans.

Any effort to determine the influence this increased assessment will have upon sales, is merely speculative. It may somewhat deter large investors from buying blocks of dwellings because of the fractional changes of percentages as to the revenue from such investments, but we are not inclined to the belief that this will amount to much, as such investments, under proper management, are more profitable and safer than the four per cent. bonds and stocks now in the market.

The sentiment of our people is naturally against any system bordering on the tenement houses of other cities. As the whole house idea is part of the make up of the average Philadelphian, he is willing to pay for it just as long as his earnings will justify it. It will require something more than a reasonable increase of rent to drive him from his home of independent occupancy and monopoly to the other method, which he detests.

On January 1, 1900, there were, by actual count, 258,685 dwellings, of all kinds in this city.

Since that time, up to June 30th, of this year, inclusive, there have been erected 14,731 dwellings (including stores and dwellings) of all kinds, some of these substituted old buildings, but very few, hence it is fair to assume that there are now at least 275,000 dwellings of all kinds in Philadelphia.

With the yearly average increase the city should have a population of about 1,380,000, requiring about 276,000 dwellings.

While these figures are merely problematical, they are perforce, in the absence of better data, sufficient to justify the conclusion that there are at present none too many dwellings to meet the requirements of the city's inhabitants.

Another element to be considered, is the kindly disposition expressed on the part of tenants to accept a modest increase of rent, amounting to about 10 per cent.

Our conclusion is that notwithstanding a reasonable increase of taxes, small dwellings for investment are infinitely preferable to all other investments now available, and that there is no cause for alarm even among the largest holders.

OBITUARY

Mr. Geo. Twibill, one of the oldest, if not the oldest, real estate men in this city, died at his residence on Spring Garden street, on Wednesday last, in his 83d year.

Mr. Twibill was a heavy owner of real estate, all of which was acquired through his own industry. He had many warm personal friends. It is thought that the business will be continued by his sons.

BUILDING AND REAL ESTATE NOTES

H. B. Shoemaker, Henderson & Co., and Wm. R. Steele & Sons have filed bids for the new barreling house to be built at Marcus Hook, for the Pure Oil Company.

J. E. & A. L. Penneck, builders, have plans posted for a new Synagogue to be built at Richmond, Va., for the Congregation of Beth Ahaba Hebrew. It will be one-story and basement high and will be built of brick and stone.

D. A. McClelland, builder, 515 South Twentieth street, will file bids on August 27th, with Flaherty Brothers, owners, for a three-story fireproof stable, measuring 48x78 feet, to be built on Passyunk avenue below Dickinson street.

John D. Lippincott, builder, of Burlington, N. J., has been awarded the contract to build the new Ophan Home at that place at a cost of $40,000. It will be a brick and stone structure. Plans by A. H. Moses, 136 South Fourth street, this city.

Jno. B. Mayer, builder, with an office on the grounds, will erect 25 houses on the west side of Ella street, north of Ontario street. They will be two stories high, 14x38 feet each, and will be built of brick with all modern improvements. This operation will cost about $35,000.

W. R. Dougherty, builder, 1664 Sanson street, has been awarded the contract to build the three-story brick addition and make alterations to the S. S. White Manufacturing Company's plant at Frankford, Philadelphia. Plans by Spencer Roberts, architect, 1524 Chestnut street.

Scott & Kriebel, builders, 1001 Chestnut street, have been awarded the contract to build 45 houses at Ambridge, Pa. They will be two-and-a-half stories high, of frame and stone, with porch fronts and will contain all modern improvements. This operation will cost about $25,000.

Chas. Johnson, builder, of Camden, N. J., has been awarded the contract to build the new Seventh Baptist Church at Camden, N. J. It will be stone, two stories high, and will cost, when finished, $20,000. Plans and specifications were prepared by Geo. Savage, architect, 1704 Chestnut street.

Alex. Chambley, builder, 707 Walnut street, has been awarded the contract to build the three-story brick addition, 20x131 feet, to the Philadelphia Laundry and Toilet Company's Building, situated at 1029-31-33 Vine street. Plans and specifications by Charles E. Oelschlager, architect, Harrison Building. Work will proceed at once.

John N. Gill, builder, Heed Building, has been awarded the contract by the Board of Directors of the Children's Homeopathic Hospital, to build an additional wing south of the present hospital, facing on Franklin street below Thompson street, and a two-story isolating ward, fronting on Eighth street. The estimated cost is $42,000 (details previously noted).

Chas. Gilpin, builder, northeast corner of Fifteenth and Chestnut streets, has plans posted for a new plant for the Pintsch Compressing Company, to be built at Altoona, Pa. It will be two stories high, 50x35 feet, and will be built of brick. Bids due August 28th. Also has plans posted for a new residence for C. F. Floyd, to be built at Narberth, Pa. It will be two-and-a-half stories high, 45x28 feet, and will be built of brick and will contain all modern improvements. Bids due August 28th. Plans by Jas. G. Fornald, architect, 5533 Wyandling avenue.

It is currently reported at Cape May, N. J., that the Pennsylvania Railroad Company has secured all the properties on Washington street from its present depot to that of the Reading Depot except the Catholic Church property on that street. The purpose, it is stated, is to erect a massive general passenger station to accommodate both roads. Our informant states that he knew of speculators who, having got wind of the desire to secure these properties, made an effort last week to obtain options on some of them, but were informed that the Pennsylvania Railroad Company has already secured them.

The American Art Marble Company, 609-11-13 North American street, have been awarded contracts to furnish decorative marble columns, pilasters and wainscoting in the following buildings: Lulu Temple, Philadelphia; New Jersey State Capitol, Trenton, N. J.; St. Bridget's Roman Catholic Church, Falls of Schuylkill; West Chester Normal School Library; Lansdowne Trust Co., Kilmer Laboratory, Binghamton, N. Y.; National Bank of Clearfield, Pa.; National Bank of Easton, Pa.; Farmers' National Bank, Frederick, Md.; Strawberry & Clothier Annex, Gimbel's Restaurant, and Houghton & Muir Building, Philadelphia.

There is an immense automobile factory to be located at Wilmington, Del. Mr. Frank B. Jones, of 242 North Broad street, is the principal owner. A building has been secured at that place, and it is expected that improvements to it will be made. We will be able to give more details later.

Mordical T. Endicott, Chief of the Bureau of Yards and Docks, of the Navy Department, has invited estimates until September 19th, for a brick and steel addition to Building No. 12 at the League Island Navy Yard. There is an appropriation of $22,000 for the work. Plans can be obtained from the Commander at the yard.

John R. Wiggins & Co., John W. Emery, F. T. Maguire, Chas. Gilpin and H. B. Shoemaker & Co., Kendrick & Roberts, Inc., are bidding on the new sub station for the Philadelphia Rapid Transit Company, to be built at Frankford and Arrott streets. It will be two stories high, 61x196 feet and will be built of brick and stone. Bids due August 28th. Plans by the company's engineers.

The revised plans drawn by McKean, Mead & White, 160 Fifth avenue, New York City, for a dwelling to be erected on Fifty-second street, between Madison and Park avenue, New York, for Captain Philip M. Lydig, 310 Fifth avenue, New York, are now ready for estimates. The structure will be 25x90 feet, five stories high, of brick and stone, fine interior finish and will be provided with all modern conveniences.

H. Marion Zane and Metzger & Wells, of this city, and three local builders, have filed bids with Harry Reinhold, Jr., architect, 1002 Chestnut street, for two houses to be built at Cape May, N. J., for Dr. C. H. S. Littleton. They will be two-and-a-half stories high and will be built of frame with shingle roof and will have porch fronts and contain all modern improvements. One will measure 24.10x29 feet, and the other 28x24 feet.

John Davies & Son, builders, Lippincott Building, have been awarded the contract to build the new residence at Seventh and Penn street, Camden, N. J., for Mr. Louis C. Coates. It will be three stories high and will be built of brick, faced with Connecticut brownstone. The interior will be in hardwood finish and it will contain all modern improvements. Plans by Thomas Stephens, architect, Masonic Temple Building, Camden, N. J.

Lewis Havens' Sons, builders, Girard Building, have been awarded the contract to build a two-story office building, 60x117 feet, of brick and slow burning construction, at Point Breeze, for the Atlantic Refining Company.

They have also been awarded the contract to build the two-story stone stable, 60x102 feet, at Rosemont, Pa., for John H. Converse. It will cost about $31,000. Plans by Richards, Harris & Richards, architects and engineers, Drexel Building.

W. R. Dougherty, builder, 1604 Sansom street, has plans posted for a fan house for the Shellpot Shops, near Wilmington, Del. It will be two stories high, 32x37 feet, and will be built of brick and galvanized iron.—He has also plans posted for an additional story and new front to the warehouse of Messrs. Dourdoure Bros., at 2324-25-28 Market street. Bids due August 28th. Plans by Ballinger & Perrot, architects and engineers, 1200 Chestnut street.

Thomas Little & Sons, Wm. R. Steele & Sons, Wm. R. Dougherty, builders, have plans posted for a restaurant building to be built at the northeast corner of Juniper and Sansom streets for Geo. B. Wilson. It will be three stories and basement high and will be built of brick with plate glass windows and will contain all up-to-date improvements. Bids due August 27th.

Plans by Furness Evans & Co., architects, 401 Chestnut street.

It is stated that an offer of $310,000 has been made for the northwest corner of Ninth and Market streets, with a frontage of 29 feet 6 inches on Market street, by a syndicate in this city.

Joseph Bird, P. J. Hurley and Henderson & Co. have filed bids with H. J. Wetherill, architect, 328 Chestnut street, for alterations and additions to the store properties at 11 and 13 North Eleventh street, for L. Dougherty (details privately noted).

THE FORBES HEATING AND VENTILATING CO.
Gentlemen:

The No. 5 Forbes Tubular Heater which you placed in the house for me has given perfect satisfaction. The house is a very large double frame about 36 feet wide, and is exposed to the north-west wind. We have had no trouble to heat the house.

Very truly yours,

F. W. OEHRLER.

3d and Olney Ave.
Olney, Phila.

made to the sewerage system at an estimated cost of about $200,000. Mr. Chester W. Cummings, the Mayor, is the chairman of the committee.

—At Fayette City, Fayette county, the Congregation of the Methodist Episcopal Society will erect a church from plans prepared by Architect J. C. Fulton, of Uniontown, Pa. It will be of brick, with fine interior finish, handsome church fixtures and furniture, and all modern conveniences. The estimated cost is about $15,000.

—At Rutherford, it is stated that the Philadelphia & Reading Railway Company will double the capacity of the freight yard at Rutherford, and will also construct a new connection with the Steelton branch in Rutherford. General Superintendent Dice and Chief Engineer Hunter have examined the yard with a view to these improvements.

—At Dayton, Armstrong county, it is said that plans have been prepared by Architect F. H. Andrews for three cottages to be erected on the grounds of the Dayton State Hospital. Bids were received a short time since for the erection of two of these cottages, but being too high, the bids were rejected and bids will now be received for the three structures.

—At Warren, Warren county, it is stated that the Warren National Bank will erect a new six-story brick and stone bank and office building from plans prepared by Architect H. G. Hardenburg, 10 West Twenty-third street, New York City. It will be finely finished and thoroughly equipped for office and banking purposes. The estimated cost is about $125,000.

—At Reading, Berks county, it is stated that the School Board has under consideration the erection of a Boys' High School at Eighth and Washington streets, at a cost of about $225,000.

—At Easton, Northampton county, the contract for the erection of Berks Hall, at Muhlenberg College, has been awarded to Ochs & Gangemere, of Allentown, Pa. The cost will be about $32,000.

—At Revere, Bucks county, a new brick school building will be erected at a cost of $12,000. It will contain four rooms and will be well finished throughout. The plans have been prepared by A. P. Cooper, of Uniontown, Pa.

—At Dunbar, Fayette county, a new two-story brick municipal building will be erected at a cost of $10,000. The plans have been drawn by Architect E. W. Campbell, of Connellsville, Pa.

—At Newtown, Bucks county, it is said that there is a prospect of a trolley line between Newtown and Willow Grove. The proposed line would connect the towns of Richboro, Southampton, Davisville and Hatboro. As the New Jersey and Pennsylvania Traction Company has its line operating from Newtown to Trenton, the new line would make the connection complete between Philadelphia, Pa., and Trenton, N. J.

—At Dawson, Fayette county, the Methodist Episcopal Congregation will erect a two-story and attic brick veneered parsonage at a cost of $8,000. Andrew P. Cooper, of Uniontown, has prepared the plans.—The same architect has drawn plans for a seven-story brick store and apartment house to be erected at Brownsville, Pa., for Mr. T. J. Ross, of that place, who is receiving bids for its erection. It will be well finished and equipped and will cost $10,000.

—At Homestead, Allegheny county, Mr. P. O. Boyd will erect a brick dwelling from plans prepared by Architect D. S. Platt. It will cost about $6,000, and will occupy a site on Ninth avenue.—The same architect is revising the plans for a three-story brick store and apartment house to be erected on Eighth avenue and Sarah street, West Homestead, for M. L. Harmett. The estimated cost is about $17,000.—Michael Masley will erect a three-story brick store and flat on Dickson street at an estimated most of $15,000.

—At Chester, Chester county, it is stated that a fifteen hundred horse hot water plant will be constructed by the city officials. Charles A. Haslett, representing Seymour Davis and Paul E. Davis, 3d, the Philadelphia architects and engineers, has been in consultation with members of City Council on the subject. It is said that at Harrisburg, Pa., Elizabeth, N. J., and a number of other cities are being visited with a view of installing heating plants.

—At Lebanon, Lebanon county, it is stated that before next season a trolley line will be constructed from Palmyra, Pa., to Valley Glen Park. The line will be an independent one and will not be connected with Lebanon Valley Street Railway Company. Among those interested in the project is Mr. Milton Hershey, the millionaire chocolate manufacturer, who is now erecting an immense factory near Derry Church, a few miles from Palmyra. William Weikel, of East Cumberland street, is the contractor for the erection of three brick dwellings.

—At Donora, a franchise has been asked from Council by the Donora & Carroll Street Railway, which will construct a trolley line on the principal streets of Donora and eventually become the connecting link between the Castle Shannon and Charleroi trolley line of the Pittsburg Railways Company and numerous towns in the Monongahela Valley. The length of the proposed line is about five miles, and the estimated cost is about $200,000. Bert W. Kastner and William T. Whiteledge, of Donora, and Isaac N. Kibler, of Charleroi, are among the incorporators of the company.

—At Chester, Delaware county, it is stated that Mr. Robert Howarth, who has erected a number of dwellings at Twenty-first street and Edgemont avenue, will erect five additional dwellings in the same neighborhood.—James R. Bagshard, Select Councilman, will make some improvements to the property at Edgemont avenue and Eighth street, including a new kitchen and bathroom.—Ground has been broken for a new building at Eighth and Morton avenue, occupied by Mr. Dunlay, the grocer.—It is stated that the details have been arranged for the purchase of the plot of ground on East Seventh street opposite St.

Michaels Parochial School, as a site for the proposed new opera house. It is said that Nixon & Zimmerman, of Philadelphia, are interested in the project.

—At Harrisburg, it is said that Mr. J. S. Sibley is having plans drawn for four three-story dwellings. They will be well finished, furnace heat, gas and electric lights, modern conveniences.—Mr. W. L. Gorgas will erect eight three-story dwellings, of frame, mansard roofs, well equipped bathrooms, wood mantels, tiling, porches, granolithic pavements. The total cost will be about $24,000.—Two three-story dwellings will be erected by Gettys & Giren. They will be well finished and provided with modern conveniences.—Mr. Jacob Simonette is having plans drawn for about twenty dwellings. They will be of brick with stone trimmings, slate roofs, fine interior finish, hot air heating, plate glass, tiling in bathrooms and vestibules, gas and electric fixtures, sanitary plumbing, porches, granolithic pavements, all conveniences.—Mr. Augustus Weidman will erect a two-and-a-half-story cottage. Brick, plate glass, tiling, sanitary plumbing, hot air heating, gas and electric fixtures, slate roofs, etc.—The Talence Graplace Manufacturing Company will enlarge its plant by the erection of a sixty-foot addition to its foundry. Mr. Joseph P. Luce is the manager.

—At Harrisburg, at a church council meeting held a few days since the contract was awarded to Samuel F. Mentzer for the erection of Trinity Lutheran Church on South Ninth street, on the site of the present edifice. The new structure will be one-story high, of brick, in size, fifty-five by sixty feet, fine interior finish, church fixtures and furniture, all modern conveniences. The cost will be about $10,000. Rev. Robert L. Weisenfelder is the pastor in charge.—The Pintsch Company, of New York City, has bought the property owned by Armour & Co., on South Second street and the Pennsylvania Railroad, a short distance below Vine street, and will erect a large gas plant to supply gas of the Pennsylvania Railroad with illuminating gas. Bids are being received for the erection of the plant. The building will be 35x50 feet, and supplied with modern machinery for the manufacture of the Pintsch illuminating gas. Josiah K. Ness, 220 Peffer street, is one of the bidders.

—At Harrisburg, it is stated that James H. Fuertes, of New York City, in his report to the Board of Public Works, has recommended the rapid method of filtration for Harrisburg. The capacity of the proposed plant will be about ten million gallons per day. The estimated cost is about $10,000.—The property at 215 Market street has been bought by J. W. Plank, the head of the Imperial Dry Goods Company, which has large establishments in Carlisle and Altoona, Pa., and also in Norfolk, Va. It is said the price paid was fifty thousand dollars. The store building has a frontage of 156 feet, the remainder of the lot, fifty-four by twenty-eight feet, is occupied by dwellings which will be demolished to make way for a large addition to the store. The present store will be remodelled and all modern improvements will be provided.—It is stated that persons identified with the Beaver Valley Traction Company, which operates 35 miles of line in Western Pennsylvania, have taken out charters at Harrisburg for two companies that will build 13 miles of electric railway between Aliquippa, Coraopolis and Monaca. The charters were as follows: To the Coraopolis & Aliquippa Electric Street Railway Company, to build 5 miles of road, from Shousetown, through Shousetown, Stoops Ferry and Coraopolis; capital, $30,000. To the Monaca & Aliquippa Electric Street Railway Company, to build 8 miles of road from Monaca, through the townships of Moon and Hopewell to Aliquippa; capital $60,000. Wm. Redwood Wright, of Philadelphia, president of both companies.

—At Pittsburg, Mr. William Kennedy, 170 Pearl street, will erect eight brick dwellings. They will be well finished throughout, provided with all modern conveniences and will cost $5,000 each.—Fifteen modern, well finished dwellings will be erected by Mr. Thomas McConnell, Fidelity Building.—Architect W. ROOFING TIN

For more than sixty years MF ternes were the world's standard for roofing, because no condition of weather, or atmospheric property, or location seemed to affect them. Frequently an MF Roof lasted fifty years without sign of corrosion. Read the following unsolicited letter just received from Mr. Jos. F. Jewar, salesman for Tanner & Sullivan, Indianapolis:

"The writer, a traveling salesman for the above firm, had something come under his observation this week that may be worth your knowing as agent for the American Tin Plate Company.

"While at Wabash, Indiana, this week a customer of mine showed me a sheet of roofing plate taken from an old building. This sheet is 14x20 of the old Welsh MF Terne, marked on the under side with the date on which the roof was laid, i. e., 1854, and was in perfect condition; almost as good as the ordinary plate before putting on the roof. Of course this may not be of any benefit to you in any way, but to me it seemed it would show the lasting qualities of a good tin roof, this being in use for 49 years."

Good plates, careful hand work, lots of honest tin and lead alloy, and rigid inspection did it. The MF brand originated in Wales, but American ingenuity is never satisfied with "good enough," it strives for further improvement; the U. S. Eagle N M (new method) is the result—the finest ternes ever made—all that can be done to this date toward making perfect roofing plates. There is the same old-time good service in MF—somewhat more in U. S. Eagle N M. MF remains the best of all ternes, with the single exception of U. S. Eagle. Our products are for sale by all first-class wholesale metal houses.

At Lawrence, Mass., plans have been prepared by John Ashton, 417 Essex street, for a three-story school building to be erected in the Second ward, at a cost of about $100,000.

At Charles City, Ia., the secretary of the library building will receive bids until September 1st, for the erection of a library. The bids must include heating with steam or hot water.

At Waterbury, Conn., the Directors of the Waterbury Hotel Company are said to have awarded Tracy Brothers, 52 Benedict street, the contract for the erection of a hotel to cost $250,000.

At Macon, Ga., a Science Hall and Gymnasium will be erected at Mercer University at a cost of about $30,000. The plans have been prepared by P. E. Dennis, 508 Cherry street, Macon.

At Springfield, Mass., bids are wanted for the erection of a fireproof, press brick and granite building for the Fire & Marine Insurance Company. Peabody & Stearns, of Boston, are the architects.

At Minneapolis, Minn., the Northwestern National Life Insurance Company is having plans prepared for an office building to be erected at Nicolet avenue and Eleventh street, at a cost of about $150,000.

At Minneapolis, Minn., it is stated that the Courthouse and City Hall Commissioners will receive bids until September 8, 1903, for heating, boilers, iron stairs, etc. F. B. and L. L. Long, Kasta Building, are the architects.

At Chicago, Ill., it is stated that the Congregation of the Metropolitan Church of Christ have under consideration the erection of a church at Oakley Boulevard and Van Buren street. The estimated cost is $50,000. Rev. C. R. Scoville is the pastor.

At Jackson, Minn., a new fireproof courthouse will be erected to cost about $60,000. Address, P. D. McKeeler, Auditor Jackson county, Jackson, Minn. Plans and specifications for this building will be received until September 30th.

At Indianapolis, Ind., it is stated that the Board of Trade Governors have invited architects to submit plans for an office building to be erected on the present site of the Board of Trade Building. The estimated cost is about $165,000.

At Atlanta, Ga., it is stated that bids will be received until September 5, 1903, by John T. Wilson, Metropolitan Bank Building, Washington, D. C., for the erection of the Atlantic Terminal Company's passenger station and train shed at Atlanta, Ga. The plans have been prepared by Architect P. Thornton Marge, 1725 H street, Washington, D. C.

At Carthage, Mo., a new high school will be erected by the Board of Education at a cost of $75,000. D. G. Wells, Secretary of Board.

At Jackson, Mich., a new central high school and manual training school will be erected at a cost of about $84,000. Mr. C. E. Aldrich, Secretary Board of Education, can give information.

At Marion, Ind., it is stated that bids will be received until September 2d by John Q. Adams, treasurer of the National Military Home at Marion, for the erection of a quartermaster's storehouse, laundry and officers' quarters; also for remodeling a storehouse.

At Maniton, Colo., plans will be wanted in a short time for a hotel building to contain about one hundred rooms, to replace the Maniton Hotel, recently destroyed by fire. Address, Maniton & Mansions Company, Dr. G. M. Bell, president. The cost will be about $100,000.

At South Omaha, Neb., competitive plans will be received until September 1st, by the Board of Education for a high school to be erected at a cost of about $75,000, exclusive of ventilating, heating, plumbing, architect's fees, etc. The building will be of brick and stone, with slate roof or tile roof. P. J. Bock, Chairman of Committee on Buildings and grounds.

At New York City, Frederick C. Browne, 143 West 125th street, has prepared plans for a twelve-story hotel building to be erected at the northeast corner of Columbus avenue and West-first street, for the Manhattan Square Realty Company, of which Mr. Henry J. Felt, is the president, and William H. Livingston, the secretary and treasurer. The site is 200x50 feet, and the building will cost about $80,000. It will be Italian Renaissance in design, of limestone and light-colored brick, also terra-cotta. The special feature will be a dining room on the twelfth floor and a fine roof garden. The ground floor will be occupied by the Colonial Bank. Messrs. Felt and Livingston are now receiving estimates for the structural steel work.—Werner & Windolph, 27

West Thirty-third street, have made plans for a temple to be erected for the New York State Grand Lodge, of Odd Fellows' on Twenty-third street, east or west, the site not yet being secured. The proposed structure will be five stories high, fireproof in construction and will cost about $350,000.—Plans have been prepared by D'Oench Yost & Thoward for alterations to the Tribune Building at Spruce and Nassau streets, including eight additional stories.—The new hospital for women will be built from plans prepared by F. R. Allen and Charles Collins, of Boston, Mass. The general contract has been awarded to J. J. Tucker & Son, 156 Fifth avenue, New York City. It will be six stories high, of brick with granite, limestone and terra-cotta facade. The building will contain administration offices, lecture hall, chapel, dormitories, private and critical wards, museum and clinic. The estimated cost is about $610,000. Mr. Charles N. Talbot, 34 Pine street, is chairman of the Building Committee.—Plans have been prepared by Robert D. Kohn, 170 Fifth avenue, for a new jewelry store and office building to be erected at 321 Fifth avenue, for Theodore A. Kohn & Sons, of 56 West Twenty-third street. The cost will be $50,000.—There will be an electric elevator. Mr. Crawford, 7 East Forty-second street, has been awarded the general contract.—Architects McKim, Mead & White, 150 Fifth avenue, are making preliminary sketches for the new building for Columbia University, for which Joseph Pulitzer has given $1,000,000. The cost of the proposed building is $500,000. The other $500,000 being an endowment. It will conform in architecture with the other buildings and will probably occupy a site in the University Triangle, on Amsterdam avenue, south of Fayer Weather Hall. It is hoped to complete the building by the autumn of 1904.

EDUCATION AND BUSINESS

It may as well be admitted that college training doesn't teach a man to keep books or to sell goods. What education aims to do is to educate—to develop the man, to awake him to the problems of the world, to widen his horizon. There is no danger that not enough attention shall be given to commercial development. But there is a possibility that the business man may become narrowed to his task and fail to take an interest in the world of ideas about him. Education ought not to prevent a man from acquiring the necessary details of business. And it ought to make him a more valuable citizen. That most successful business men believe this is shown by the fact that they are sending their sons to college.—Kansas City Star.

ARCHITECTS' NOTES

Henry D. Dagit, architect, 435 Chestnut street, is working on plans for a new powerhouse to be built at Lenape, Pa., for the West Chester Street Railway Company. It will be one story high, of brick.

It is announced that Architect James Parsons, of Washington, D. C., has been commissioned to prepare plans for the rebuilding of the Kolb Bakery at Tenth and Reed streets, recently destroyed by fire.

It is reported that the firm of Frishmuth Bros. & Co., cigar manufacturers, at 151 North Third street, this city, have purchased a large tract of land at Seventeenth and Glenwood avenue. Upon this site a manufacturing plant will be erected. Plans to govern these buildings is now being prepared.

W. L. Plack, architect, 1405 Filbert street, has completed plans for a new rectory to be built near Oxford, Pa., for the Lincoln University. It will be two stories and basement high, 70x64 feet, and will be built of brick and will have every modern convenience. Will be ready for bids next week.

Edwin F. Bertolette, architect, 1215 Filbert street, has prepared plans and specification for a store and office building to be built at Chambersburg, Pa. It will be four stories and basement high and will be built of brick and contain all up-to-date improvements. Local builders will be invited to bid.

Chas. Barton Keen, architect, 1764 Chestnut street, has completed plans for a stable for Mrs. Julia Marsden, to be built at Chestnut Hill, Phila. It will be two stories high, 34x50 feet, and will be built of brick and will have the usual up-to-date sanitary stable appointments.

James D. Lalor Engineering Company, 1305 Arch street, has prepared plans for storage and dormitory building at the Louisiana Purchase Exposition for the Philippine Government Board, care Dr. W. P. Wilson, Washington, D. C. It will be frame with three wings and will measure 176x160 feet, and will be two stories high. Bids will soon be advertised for.

Wm. Copeland Furber, architect and engineer, 421 Chestnut street, has invited the York Safe & Lock Company, Remington & Sherman, Stiffel & Freeman, Herring, Hall & Marvin Company to submit bids for the new vault for the Central Trust & Savings Company's new building now in the course of erection at the northwest corner of Fourth and Market streets.

Harry Reinhold, Jr., architect, 1002 Chestnut street, has completed revised plans and specifications and sent same out to builders for estimates for the two cottages for Dr. C. H. S. Littleton, to be built at Cape May, N. J. They will be two-and-a-half stories high, of frame with shingle roof and will contain all modern improvements. The following builders have been invited to bid: Metzger & Wells, H. Marion Zane and Mr. Joe Dyson, of Wayne, Pa. Bids due September 9th.

Heacock & Hokanson, architects, 931 Chestnut street, have completed plans and specifications and sent same out to builders for the new town hall or commissioners' building to be built at Ogontz, Pa. It will be one-and-a-half stories high, with basement, and will be built of stone (details of this structure previously noted). The following builders have been invited to bid: M. E. Hause, F. L. Hoover & Son, Inc., Jno Gourley, of this city; Samuel Foole and Wm. Conrad, of Ogontz; W. Krewson, of Ashbourne, Pa. Bids due September 9th.

Frank H. Keisker, architect, Quinn Sharpless Building, 36 S. Sixteenth street, is working on plans for 31 houses and two stores to be built at Fifty-seventh and Race streets, Race and Vogdes streets, for James Arthur, who has offices at 5705 Market street and Real Estate Trust Company building. They will be two stories high of brick, 15x50 feet, and will have porch fronts. The stores will also be two stories high; one will measure 16x54 and the other will be irregular in shape. They will contain all modern improvements. This operation will cost about $60,000.

Chas. E. Oelschlager, architect, Harrison Building, has completed plans and specifications and will send same out to builders for estimates on September 3d, for a store building to be erected at 1210-12 Arch street for Weimer, Wright & Watkins. It will be seven stories and basement and sub-basement high, 48x173 feet. It will have an ornamental front of brick and terra-cotta and will be slow burning in its construction. It will be equipped with two tower fire escapes, automatic sprinkler system, two passenger and two freight elevators. It will be wired for electricity, heated by steam and will have every convenience and appointment.

Albert W. Dilks, architect, Mutual Life Building, has completed plans and specifications and will send same out for estimates on September 2d, for the handsome new residence for C. C. Lister, Jr., to be built at St. Davids, Pa. It will be three stories high, 72x 60 feet, and will be built of stone with shingle roof. It will have stone terraces. The interior will be in hardwood finish, it will be heated by hot water, best plumbing, wired for electricity, tile bath and every modern convenience and appointment. The following builders have been invited to bid: J. D. Lengel, of Wayne, Pa.; Grays Bros. of Rosemont, Pa.; Jas. D. Croll, of Athens, Pa.; Milton W. Young, of Overbrook.

The vestry of all Saints Protestant Episcopal Church, has accepted, in competition, the plans of Field & Medary, architects, of 1414 South Penn Square, for the Washington Memorial Chapel at Valley Forge, Pa. The plans consist of a group of buildings as follows: Washington Memorial Chapel, one story high; Patriot Hall, two stories high; a bell tower and observatory, a rectory, three stories high, and sexton lodge, all to be built of stone. The committee is now endeavoring to raise the necessary money for the erection of these buildings and it is their intention to make them the finest of their kind in the country. Mr. Nathan M. Hallowell, of Norristown, is the chairman of the building committee. It will be some time before these buildings are built.

BUILDING AND REAL ESTATE NOTES

J. S. Connell & Son, builders, formerly of Girard Building, have removed to their new office, room 232 of the new Land Title Building, Broad and Sansom streets.

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y, SEPT. 2, 1903

If there is at present no city ordinance prohibiting the use of bituminous coal by the manufacturers as well as the railroads entering this city, City Councils should waste no time in passing such an ordinance after its reorganization.

The penalty which real estate owners are paying as a result of these almost incessant showers of unburnt carbon, is a serious one, which is most apparent to those who have suffered since the late anthracite coal strike, without reason or justification.

The Baldwin Locomotive Works, in its constant use of soft coal, is a nuisance as well as a menace to the property holders of the Fifteenth ward, to an extent beyond the comprehension of those who enjoy the unpolluted atmosphere of other sections.

Indeed, it is through this single influence that owners of beautiful homes on Spring Garden, Green and Mount Vernon streets west of Broad street, have been compelled to abandon them and place them in the hands of agents to sell.

One case in point is a beautiful and massive brownstone residence which cost the owner $50,000, and which he candidly confesses would not now bring $25,000.

This condition is aggravated because of the liberality of City Councils in giving two whole blocks of streets to the perpetual use of the Baldwin Works, besides what was once the sidewalk of Pennsylvania avenue, adjoining the approach to the Broad Street Bridge, on which the Baldwin Company has erected a permanent enclosed structure without right or license; while at the same time the footway on the north of the subway on the other blocks remains open.

The locomotives along the great net work of tracks of the Pennsylvania Railroad in West Philadelphia are exercising a go as you please right to vomit forth clouds of black smoke and sulphurous fumes without a minute's interruption and they have been doing it for years to the vast injury of property owners.

Is there any other city in the world whose citizens are so indifferent to such abuses and where the railroads and manufacturers express such a superabundance of unadulterated gall with not even a single daily newspaper to even say, please do not do so any longer?

When will these abuses end? we are asked. They will never end unless the boys and girls and babies who make up the coming generation are taken out of Philadelphia to grow up in some city where the citizens of which speak out loud in meeting and act in accordance with their utterances, and we say this with the greatest respect for what we consider the nicest and most wholesome people of any large city on the continent.

BUILDING AND REAL ESTATE NOTES

Chas. McCaul & Co., Lewis R. Elliott and John N. Gill & Co. have filed bids with Otto C. Wolf, architect, 1025 Arch street, for alterations and additions to the office building of Robert Smith Ale Brewing Company, at Thirtieth and Girard avenue, according to plans prepared by him.

Wm. Henderson, builder, 120 South Twentieth street, has been awarded the contract to build the new Colonial residence at Mt. Airy, Phila., for Mr. J. H. Nevius. It will be three stories high and will contain all modern improvements. Plans by Wm. Bretherick, architect, 905 Walnut street.

R. J. Murphy, builder, has been awarded the contract to build the new edifice for the Epworth M. E. Congregation at Race and Vodges streets. It will be one-story high, 82x80x109 x83 feet, and will be built of stone with slate roof (details previously noted). Plans by Stearns & Castor, Architects, Stephen Girard Building.

Armstrong & Latta, contractors, Land Title Building, have been awarded the contract to build the Mantua-Transfer for the Pennsylvania Railroad at Fifty-second street, West Philadelphia. It will be two stories high, of brick and will measure 96x59 feet. Plans by Chief Engineer, Brown, of the Pennsylvania Railroad.

F. T. Maguire, builder, 1720 Sansom street, has been awarded the contract to build new sub station at 125 East Cheltenham avenue, Germantown, for the Philadelphia Rapid Transit Company. It will be two stories high, 125x34 feet, and will be built of brick and will be fireproof. Plans by W. S. Twining, engineer for the company.

Lynch Bros., Armstrong & Latta, have plans posted for a new warehouse for the Merchant Warehouse Company of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company to be built on Carpenter between Fifteenth and Sixteenth streets. It will be four stories high, 397x54 feet, and will be built of brick, iron and slow burning construction. Bids due in Mr. Cookman's office September 8th. Plans by the company's engineers.

Frank E. Wallace, builder, 1027 Chestnut street, has been awarded the contract to build the new residence for Mr. J. C. Jocker, Jr., on Gowen avenue, Mt. Airy, Phila. It will be two-and-a-half stories high, of stone and brick, with slate roof and will have porch on side and rear. The interior will be in hardwood finish and it will contain all up-to-date improvements. Contract price $6,500. Plans by Bailey & Truscott, architects, 421 Chestnut street.

Bids have been opened at the United States Army Building, southeast corner of Fifteenth and Arch streets, for the new three-story brick and steel fireproof warehouse to be built at Schuylkill avenue, Grays Ferry road and Washington avenue. The bids were as follows: Doyle & Doak, $156,700; E. F. Fonder, $140,543; Cramp & Co., $119,600; Henderson & Co., $117,700. The bids were forwarded to Washington and it is expected that the contract will shortly be awarded.

Our statement that Angus S. Wade & Co., builders, of 1501 Sansom street, had been awarded the contract to build the new store and office building at 32 North Eleventh street, for Mr. Harry Kahn, was correctly made at that time. Owing to the above firm retiring from business the Chas. McCaul Company, of 10 North Eleventh street, builders, have now been awarded the contract and the work of demolishing the old building is now going on.

The Whitney Car Wheel Company, of this city, will build a plant at Knoxville, Tenn., for the manufacture of the Whitney Wheel. Mr. Asa W. Whitney, 310 Eighth street, Knoxville, Tenn., is to have charge of the practical details of the plant.

Chas. Gilpin, builder, northeast corner of 15th and Chestnut streets, has been awarded the contract to finish the addition to Strawbridge & Clothier building at Eighth and Market streets. This contract has been awarded to this firm through a mutual understanding with the owners. Architects and builders, Stacey Reeves & Son, former contractors, owing to some labor trouble, experienced by the latter firm. The same builder has been awarded the contract to build the new plant at Thirtieth and Walnut street for the Pintsch Gas Compressing Co. of New York. Contract price $20,000. Plans by the company's Engineer. Details previously noted. Mr. Gilpin has also been awarded the contract to alter the basement of 1414 South Penn Square building into a barber shop for Westley J. Miller.

S. R. Riley, builder, 627 Filbert street, has been awarded the contract to build the new residence for Louis C. Hickman, architect, 328 Chestnut street, on St. Mark's Place, west of Forty-second street. It will be three stories high, of brick and stone, trimmed. It will measure 19x54 feet, and have a peaked slate roof. It will contain all modern improvements.

Ballinger & Perrot, architects and engineers, 1200 Chestnut street, have awarded the following contracts for the construction of a false floor in St. Luke Methodist Church, at Broad and Jackson streets, to A. Raymond Raff, builder, 1635 Thompson street, and to Eugene J. Dorney, for the excavation and concrete work, and John Hagan & Co., for the cut stone work at the Mission Hospital, for the John B. Stetson Company at Fourth and Montgomery avenue.

ASBESTOS "FIRE FELT" PIPE COVERING

Recently published tests show an annual saving by use of this covering amounting to about 50c. per square foot of pipe surface, equal to about $30.00 per hundred lineal feet of 2" pipe. The first cost is less than 8c. per square foot or a net return of 200% on the investment. Once on the pipes, the covering needs no further attention. Can you afford to leave your pipes uncovered?

HOW STAINED GLASS WINDOWS ARE MADE

Those who follow the mediæval traditions of ecclesiastical window decoration follow in large measure the mediæval methods also, and is not without interest to those who enjoy the results of their work to know something of the technical side of the craft. As by the old French glaziers, so still, as we are informed by Mr. Harry E. Goodhue, a very successful master in his art, three drawings are made, the first being drawn more carefully, carrying out detail; the second, a transfer of the outlines of the first, known as the leading drawing, or that upon which the window is finally glazed, and the third, the pattern drawing, another transfer identical with the second. This last is cut up very much as are the patterns for a dress, taking out one-sixteenth of an inch allowance for the core of the lead. Each pattern is tacked down upon drawing No. 2. The glass is then selected and cut to these shapes and placed upon the pattern.

The painting of the glass is the next stage of the window. The pieces of glass to be painted are removed from the second drawings and placed in position upon the cartoon or first drawing, and the lines traced through very carefully, following the original. All the glass then is laid upon a large slab or easel of clear plate glass and fastened to it with drops of melted wax and rosin. This is then placed in an upright position, and an idea is obtained of how the window will finally appear, with the exception that instead of lead the pieces of glass are separated by lines of white light. This "waxing up" of the glass gives an opportunity to change any piece or color that is out of key. After all changes are made the painted glass is removed and placed in a kiln, where it is fired much as china is fired, the pigment melting into and becoming part of the glass.

The glazing of the window is the next process. The separate pieces are again laid upon drawing No. 2 and bound together with lead. The joints are then soldered on both sides and putty or cement rubbed into every crevice to make the window watertight.

"Pot-metal" glass is still used, and in the robe of a figure (we still call it red), instead of using more or less a flat tone of one color, the early French glazier would cut it up into what would appear to the American manufacturer, unnecessarily small pieces, and take care to get no two immediately next to each other of the same glass or color. Instead, he would have a bit of dark orange next to a ruby, using yellow reds and purple reds in infinite variety. So that while the robe would be red in effect, this would be accomplished by a dazzling arrangement of different colors.—Exchange.

IMPORTANCE OF PRESERVING THE FORESTS

By Theodore Roosevelt

There is no body of men who have it in their power to-day to do a greater service to the country than those engaged in the scientific study of and practical application of approved methods of forestry for the preservation of the woods of the United States.

The forest problem is in many ways the most vital internal problem in the United States. The more closely this statement is examined the more evident its truth becomes. In the arid region of the West agriculture depends first of all upon the available water supply. In such a region forest protection alone can maintain the stream flow necessary for irrigation and can prevent the great destructive floods so ruinous to communities farther down the same streams, that head in the arid regions. The relation between the forests and the whole mineral industry is an extremely intimate one; for, as every man who has had experience in the West knows, mines cannot be developed without timber—usually not without timber close at hand. The very existence of lumbering, of course—and lumbering is the fourth great industry of the United States—depends upon the success of our work as a nation in putting practical forestry into effective operation.

As it is with mining and lumbering, so it is in only a less degree with transportation, manufactures, commerce in general. The relation of all of these industries to forestry is of the most intimate and dependent kind. It is a matter of congratulation that so many of these great industries are now waking up to this fact; the railroads especially, managed as they are by men who are compelled to look ahead, who are obliged by the nature of their profession to possess a keen insight into the future, have awakened to a clearer realization of the vast importance of the economic use both of timber and of forests.

The forest resources of our country are already seriously depleted. They can be renewed and maintained only by the co-operation of the forester with the practical man of business in all his types, but, above all, with the lumberman. And the most striking and encouraging fact in the forest situation is that lumbermen are realizing that practical lumbering and practical forestry are allies, not enemies, and that the future of each depends upon the other.

The United States is exhausting its forest supplies far more rapidly than they are being produced. The situation is grave, and there is only one remedy. That remedy is the introduction of practical forestry on a large scale, and of course that is impossible without trained men, men trained in the closet and also by actual field work under practical conditions.

ARCHITECTS' NOTES

Morris & Vaux, architects, Stephen Girard Building, have completed plans for alterations and additions to the country residence of William Roberts, at Eagles Mere, Pa.

Rankin & Kellogg, architects, 1012 Walnut street, have been commissioned to prepare plans for the new building for the Department of Agriculture, at Washington, D. C. The proposed building will cost about one million and a half. Further details later.

Frank Miles Day & Bro., architects, 925 Chestnut street, are working on plans for alterations and addition to Bedford Spring Hotel at that place. The central portion of the building is to be torn out and new stairway or lobby and an administration office are to be built. The whole interior will be remodeled and a new kitchen, power plant and bathing establishment will be provided for.

Watson & Hugel, architects, 1208 Chestnut street, are working on plans for a new laundry and dormitory building for the Sisters of the Good Shepherd, on Chew street, Germantown. It will be three stories high, 40x100 feet and will be built of stone. Also a one-story building of the same material, measuring 40x40 feet, to be used as an engine and boiler house, will be ready for bids in a short while.

Heacock & Hokanson, architects, 931 Chestnut street, are working on plans and specifications and will send same out this week for bids, for a new residence for Mr. D. L. Lewis, at Ogontz, Pa. It will be two and a half stories high, 50x40 feet, and will be built of stone and shingle. It will have a porch front and will contain every appointment and convenience.

Duhring, Okie & Ziegler, architects, South Penn Square, are working on plans and specification and will send same out on September 14th for bids for an addition to the Colonial Biscuit Company's plant at Twelfth and Brown streets. The proposed structure will be four stories high and will be built of brick and slow burning construction. It will be equipped with tower fire escape and all modern up-to-date appointments.

Arthur Brockie, architect, 328 Chestnut street, has completed plans and sent same out to builders for a new stable to be built at Chestnut Hill, Phila., for F. E. Norris. It will be two stories high, 23.6x40 feet, and will be built of stone and will contain all up-to-date sanitary stable appointments. The following builders have been invited to bid: W. J. Gruhler, Thos. Seeds, W. J. Patterson, Ashton Toulson. Bids due September 10th.

Chas. J. Brooke, architect, 14 South Broad street, has completed plans for the proposed new pier to be built at Wildwood, N. J. Particulars later. Bids will be advertised for shortly.—He has also completed plans and specifications and sent same to the owners who will take bids for alterations and additions to carriage factory at 4746 Frankford avenue, for J. Harris Shumaker. It will be two stories high, 80x40 feet, and will be built of brick and slow burning construction.

Rush Anderson Ploymann, architect, Betz Building, has completed plans and specifications and sent same out to builders for altering the restaurant of Mr. John Peran, at 229 South Broad street. The work comprises the building of a three-story addition of brick, 20x99 feet, to the rear and general interior improvements. The following builders have been invited to bid: P. J. Hurley, Jas. Christie, Thos H. Marshall, Ellwood Smith. Bids due September 14th.

Thos. Stephens, architect, Masonic Temple Building, Camden, N. J., is working on plans for a house and store to be erected at Sixteenth and Mickel streets, Camden, N. J., for Mr. Jno. Phillips. It will be two stories high, 50x16 feet and will be built of brick and will contain all modern improvements. This work will be done by the day's work. He is also working on plans for interior partition for the Public Service Company, at 416 Federal street, Camden, N. J. Will be ready for bids in about two weeks time.

Henry L. Reinhold, Jr., architect, 1002 Chestnut street, has completed plans and specifications and sent same out to builders for estimates for a new cottage for Mrs. Sarah J. Davis, to be built at Cape May, N. J. It will be two and a half stories high and will be built of frame and will contain all modern improvements. The following builders have been invited to bid: Benton J. Russell, of Ambler, Pa.; Mr. Cummings, Mr. Elwell, York Bros., of Cape May, N. J.; English & Johnson, Ocean City, N. J.; Jos. Dyson, of Wayne, Pa.; E. Ellsworth Smith, of Chelsea, N. J.; Metzger & Wells, and H. Marion Zane, of this city. Bids due September 12th.

BUILDING AND REAL ESTATE NOTES

H. Marion Zane, builder, has been awarded the contract to build the new store front at 519 Market street according to plans prepared by Chester A. Kirk, architect, Harrison Building.

H. B. Shoemaker Co., 17 S. Ninth street, have been awarded the contract to build the one-story steel structure 200x149 feet for the Pure Oil Company, at Marcus Hook. Contract price $20,000.

Chas. Gilpin, builder, northeast corner of Fifteenth and Chestnut streets, has been awarded the contract for new front and marquis to 2314 Wharton street, for Mr. John Fox. Work will proceed at once.

The Architectural Woodworking Company, 1416-18-20 Wood street, has been awarded the contract to furnish the Bar Fixtures for the new Restaurant on the first floor of the Pennsylvania Building, corner Fifteenth and Chestnut street. The design is very unique, and is entirely different from anything in this country.

Payette R. Plumb, of Frankford, and James and Tacony streets, will build an addition to his hammering shop. It will be one-story high, 50x112 feet, and will be built of brick. Will be ready for bids in a short while. Plans by J. J. Kennedy, architect, of New York.

Wells Brother Co., builders, Stephen Girard Building, have been awarded the contract for 4 new buildings for Claus-Spreckels Sugar Refining Co., at Yonkers, N. Y., two of the buildings will be two stories high and two will be three stories high. Contract price $300,000.

The following builders, J. H. & T. W. Dagny, Samuel Poole and Wm. Conrad, have submitted their bids to Walter Smedley, architect, Stephen Girard Building, for alterations and additions to store front for Horace Erwin, at Ogontz, Pa., according to plans prepared by him.

P. J. McDevitt, builder, 1918 Cherry street, has been awarded the contract for new front and interior improvements to 422 Walnut street for Agricultural Insurance Co., according to plans prepared by Wm. Copeland Furber, architect and engineer, 421 Chestnut street.

F. E. Wallace, Rush J. Whiteside & Son, Appleton Burrell and F. W. Allison & Co., builders, have filed bids with Architect Wm. Charles Hays, of 1012 Walnut street, for alterations to office and warehouse of Lautz Bros. Co., at 13 S. Front street, according to plans prepared by him.

Lynch Bros., builders, Lippincott Bldg. have plans posted for a refectory building for the Lincoln University, to be built near Oxford, Pa. It will be two stories and basement high, 76x64 feet, and will be built of brick with all modern improvements. Bids due September 14th. Plans by W. L. Plack, architect, 1401 Filbert street.

Thos. Little & Son, builders, 1222 Ranstead street, have plans posted for alterations and additions to house at the northwest corner of Sixteenth and Girard avenue. Bids due September 10th. Plans by R. G. Kennedy, architect, 931 Chestnut street.—The same firm has been awarded the contract for addition and alteration to 604 Market street, by B. Neidman, Esq. Plans by D. K. Boyd, architect, Harrison Building.

The Grand Opera House at Broad and Montgomery avenue, will have some of the dressing-rooms rebuilt, the fire escape and stage floor repaired and the balcony over the main entrance supported by new iron columns.—At the Lyceum Theatre, Eighth and Vine streets, general repairs will be made. The floors strengthened and new stack built. This is the result of the inspection of the Philadelphia theatres recently made by the Bureau of Building Inspectors.

BUCK LEAD

The time to paint woodwork is during the fall or winter for it is a settled question that in order to secure durability in the hermetical sealing which is the great object to be attained, the pigment should not be deprived of its oil, which dry, hot wood will surely accomplish. Indeed, woodwork, when well oiled and dried before painting, advances the durability of the paint as well as adding to its smoothness and lustre at any time.

The pigment itself, however, is of the greatest importance, for however good the oil, an effective sealing cannot be obtained with a pigment that either scales or rubs off like chalk.

Here, then, is the great superiority of Samuel H. French & Co.'s Buck Lead. It is preferable to pure white lead just because it is not pure, for if it were pure it would not be any better than any other white lead.

Buck Lead costs about the same or a trifle less than pure white lead. It is whiter, more durable and will stand up in salt air or salt water, which pure white lead, however good the oil, will not do.

There are thousands of boat owners who know this to be the fact as a result of years of practical experience, and who will not use any other pigment than Buck Lead for both boat and house painting.

It must be understood that Buck Lead is not a recent fad of some scientific crank. It was originated over fifty-eight years ago by that old firm of Philadelphia chemists, French, Richards & Co., who aimed to create a pigment which when properly mixed with linseed oil could be relied on under all conditions.

That the effort was a success is evidenced in the fact that for over half a century Buck Lead has constantly grown in favor to an extent that those who have tried it will not experiment with pure white lead or any of the many mixtures.

The man who desires a smooth durable paint that will remain clean and fresh looking for years, knows a thing or two when he uses Buck Lead for inside or outside work.

The Philadelphia Record's Washington correspondent on Monday last said that the net increase of expenditures over the preceding fiscal year was over $31,000,000, a decrease of about $7,000,000 in the military establishment serving to bring it down to that figure from the total increase of over $38,000,000.

Assistant Secretary Keep has made an analysis of the increased expenditures, so far as the principal items are concerned, and for the first time the list is now made public. The figures have not appeared on any printed statement issued by the Treasury Department. The list of increases over the fiscal year 1902 is as follows:

INCREASED NATIONAL EXPENSES.

Rivers and harbors	$4,800,000
Philippines relief	3,000,000
State war claims	6,000,000
Public buildings	2,500,000
Judgments, etc.	3,000,000
Internal revenue refunds	1,500,000
Suppression of bubonic plague	1,000,000
Increase of the navy	8,000,000
Other naval expenditures	6,500,000
Indian trust fund	2,000,000

BUILDING AND REAL ESTATE NOTES

Horace Moor, builder, of Spring Lake, N. J., has been awarded the contract to build the three story colonial residence at that place for Mr. Frank Watson, of the firm of Watson & Huckel, architects, 1208 Chestnut street, this city. It will be built of stone and frame and will measure 34x68 feet and will contain all modern improvements.

M. P. Murphy, builder, has been awarded the contract to build the restaurant building at the northeast corner of Juniper and Sansom streets for Mr. Geo. B. Wilson. It will be three stories and basement high and will be built of brick with plate glass windows and will contain all up-to-date improvements. Plans by Furness-Evans Co., architects, 401 Chestnut street.

Wm. Steele & Son, builders, Sixteenth and Arch street, have plans posted for alterations and addition to the Union Tabernacle Presbyterian Church at York street, west of Coral street. The plans provide for a new rear addition to the church on Boston avenue, with the extension of same facing York street, and general interior improvements. Bids due September 15th. Plans by Hugh M. Wilson, architect.

Builders Mandeville & Son, and C. T. Long, of Wilkesbarre, Pa.; Chas. Neast & Co., of Mauch Chunk, Pa.; Cornelius Beyshier, of South Bethlehem; Howard D. Folkenson, of Easton, Pa., will submit bids on September 10th for the sanitarium buildings to be built at White Haven, Pa. They will be frame and stone one and two stories high. Plans were prepared by Lindley Johnson, architect, Harrison Building, Phila.

Members of the Master Builders' Exchange have been invited to submit estimates for the installation of an electric wiring system for the extension of the United States post office at Scranton, Pa., until October 7th; also on installation of a conduit and electric wiring system for the United States Customhouse and post office at Newport News, Va., until the 7th day of October. Plans by James Knox Taylor, Supervising Architect of the Treasury Department at Washington, D. C.

The following bidders have been invited by Chas. E. Oelschlaeger, architect, Harrison Building, to submit bids on the proposed 7-story store building for Weimer, Wright & Watkins, to be built at 1210-12 Arch street: Stacey Reeves & Son, Geo. Watson & Son, Thos. Little & Son, A. Raymond Raff, Alex. Chambley, W. R. Dougherty, Jno. R. Wiggins Co., P. J. Hurley, Lewis Havens' Sons, Cramp & Co., Wells Bros. & Co., and Chas. Gilpin are bidding. Bids due September 12th.

The architects of this city report very little on hand at present. The opinion among many of them is that fall business will greatly improve present conditions. There are a few, however, who do not regard the outlook as at all bright. Transfers of real estate last week increased in numbers over the previous week just fifty-nine. Local building news at present is extremely scarce and while there are several big contracts under way there is very little showing in the way of new work on the boards of our contractors and builders. There is a feeling of distrust among owners which in many instances amounts to an absolute abandonment of contemplated improvements, as a result of labor troubles. It is argued that no man is safe in commencing any improvements that is liable at any time to be held up for an indefinite period, as is the case at present, the cost is an unknown quantity.

THROUGH PENNSYLVANIA

—At Bradford, McKean county, the School Board has under consideration the erection of a new school building.

—At Lancaster, Lancaster county, bids will be received until October 5th for the construction of sewers in three streets.

—At York, York county, the Burrows Manufacturing Company, of Williamsport, Pa., will move its plant to York and will erect works in the East End.

—At Johnstown, the Odd Fellows will erect a building for business and lodge purposes. The plans have been prepared by Architect H. C. Park, of Ridgway, Pa.

—At Harrisburg, the directors of the Harrisburg & Lewisberry Street Railway Company have decided to extend the line from Lewisburg to Bowmanville by the way of Lishburn.

—At Titusville, Crawford county, the Titusville Hospital will be enlarged by the erection of an addition to cost about $10,000. Mr. S. S. Bryan is president of the School Board.

—At Mechanicsburg, Cumberland county, the Borough Council has under consideration an ordinance granting the White Hill & Mechanicsburg Street Railway Company a change of route in that place.

—At Braddock, Allegheny county, the contract for the erection of the Union National Bank has been let to George Hogg & Co., of Braddock. It will occupy a site at Braddock avenue and Library street and will cost about $40,000.

DEAR SIR:

I Will Contract

to heat your residence, however large or small, with HOT WATER, and file a Trust Company's bond for ten times the cost, the same to be forfeited if I fail in any direction.

This means that there shall be more than enough radiation at the smallest possible cost for coal. No leaks, no mistakes, no annoyances of any kind. The boiler to be of the best make.

The responsibility all mine, and the cost no greater because of good work and material.

Yours Truly,

MISCELLANEOUS

At New York City, Architect G. W. Kramer, 1 Madison avenue, has prepared plans for two churches to be erected in Brooklyn; one at the southwest corner of Eighth avenue and second street, to cost about $40,000, and the other at Prospect avenue and Macy Place, for the Prospect Avenue Methodist Episcopal Congregation at a cost of $45,000. The first church mentioned will be erected for the Park Congregational Church.—Isaiah & Harder, architects, 31 West Thirty-first street, have prepared plans for an eleven-story apartment house or hotel to be erected on the Southwest corner of Columbus avenue and Seventieth street, for Elizabeth A. Wilcox, of 85 Ocean avenue, Jersey City. It will be about 100x100 feet, the first two stories of limestone and the remaining stories of brick and terra-cotta. The first floor on Columbus avenue will be fitted up as stores. The apartments will be arranged in suites of two, three and four rooms, with bath, fine interior finish, sanitary plumbing and all modern conveniences. The cost will be about $550,000.—Bernard McQuillan, 437 42d East Sixty-fifth street, has the contract for excavating but no other contracts have been let, and estimates are now wanted by the general contracts, Ranold H. Macdonald & Co., 5 West Thirty-first street, New York City.

—The Board of Trustees of the Bellevue and Allied Hospital will receive bids on September 16th for the construction of the new Harlem Hospital, on Lenox avenue bounded by 136th and 137th streets.—Sealed bids will be received for work in the public schools by C. B. J. Snyder, superintendent of school buildings, at Park avenue and Fifty-ninth street, New York City, until September 14th, for: Bronx—gas-fitting at new P. S. 6 (65), 177th street, between Bryant and Vyse avenues. Brooklyn—Installing heating and ventilating apparatus in new P. Goldstone, 40 West Thirty-fourth street, has made plans for a five-story brick stable, 100x87 feet, to be erected at 335-341 West Sixteenth street, at a cost of about $100,000 for Samuel Green and Daniel Richman, of 57 Maiden Lane. No contracts have yet been let.—Bids for the installation of two electric passenger elevators in the U. S. Appraisers' Warehouse, New York City, will be received until September 30th at the Treasury Department, Washington, D. C., by James Knox Taylor, Supervising Architect.

American millionaires are building their country seats after the fashion of the Old World castles. Architects give the credit of the fad to the turrets and donjon keeps of popular accessions. The unwritten law of the stage almost seems to be that a successful season in America must be followed by the purchase somewhere of a schloss. Patti set the precedent by establishing herself at Craig-y-Nos, Jean de Reszke retreated to the depths of Poland, to his beautiful estate of Borovna, Bernard took to an island in the Mediterranean and Calve ensconced herself in the South of France on a rock that recalls Gibraltar. Alluring word pictures of these castle homes prove tempting to the millionaire, whose great ambition is to eclipse neighboring Mr. Moneybags in the erection of a palace. But occasionally does American wealth get the better of American common sense and bring to pass such haunting absurdities, emphasized by incongruous surroundings in grounds and gateways.

When the American imitation of the British castle is fashioned tactfully after ancestral homes, and when good taste is displayed throughout the result is more pleasing. Imposing and massive stone entranceways sentinel these suburban keeps, and not only the doorways, but the domed and turreted conservatories and all the various details of the huge mansion, correspond in architecture with the striking entranceway to the extensive grounds.—The Cosmopolitan.

CROPS, PROSPERITY AND WALL STREET.

The August crop report of the Government was less favorable than the July reports as regards the volume of the wheat crop, the figures being reduced from 720,000,000 to 650,000,000. This, however, is a bountiful yield, and one to be thankful for—the high prices being very satisfactory to Western farmers. The August estimate for corn, on the other hand, was better than had been expected, and the corn crop will, after all, probably fall short of that of 1902 by only 10 per cent. or thereabouts. Taking into account the other cereals, the hay crop, and the pasture, the fruit crop, and the potatoes and the lesser products of garden and farm, the season will have averaged a very good one indeed for the American tillers of the soil. The past year has been decidedly the greatest in our manufacturing history, and for the first time the total volume of our domestic exports has exceeded that of Great Britain or any other nation. It is only in Wall street that the times have been bad. The stock-market slump of July continued well into August, although after the middle of the month a better condition set in, of a sort that made it seem that the worst was over. The Wall street promoters and speculators had simply been the victims of their excesses. Many of them had borrowed large sums of money for the sake of holding shares of stock that they expected to sell to the public at a profit. Not being able to do this, they were obliged to liquidate quickly, and thus they made sacrifice of their holdings. The average market price, which had been too high, was depressed until it became much too low. Then the conservative investing public began to come in quietly to steady the situation. It is the opinion of most wise men that this rather drastic experience has been a good thing for the legitimate business of the country at large.—Exchange.

HUGE AQUEDUCT IN AUSTRALIA.

For many years the great gold fields of the famous Coolgardie mining district of Western Australia have been suffering seriously from the lack of an adequate water supply. It was by no means an uncommon occurrence to pay as much as seventy-five cents for a gallon of drinking water. Hotel-keepers in many towns and villages were wont to guard more jealously the manner in which the customer helped himself to the water than to the whisky bottle. Even the richest mine owners in Coolgardie were not able to take a bath. This necessity for procuring an adequate and permanent water supply had forced itself so strongly upon the attention of the government that finally, after many preliminaries, the government decided to accept and carry out a plan of the engineer-in-chief of the colony for a daily supply of 5,000,000 gallons of water. In July, 1896, the report was presented to Parliament, with a bill authorizing the raising of a loan of $16,500,000 for the scheme. The plan was finally adopted and work on the immense scheme was started in 1898. The following figures will give an idea of the magnitude of the huge enterprise:

According to the report accepted and the work carried out a pipe line had to be constructed over a total length of no less than 328 miles. The pipes are of steel and have a diameter of thirty inches. The velocity of the water is 2124 feet a second, while the weight of the water to be raised per day is 25,000 tons. The horse-power of the engines to carry out this work is 6,137 and the quantity of water to be pumped each twenty-four hours has been fixed at 5,600,000 gallons. One of the reservoirs—the Helena reservoir—cost in the neighborhood of $2,700,000. The cost of the pipes alone was nearly $11,200,000.

The whole undertaking is now nearing completion, and it is hoped that within a month or so the Coolgardie gold fields will be provided with an abundant supply of water, which in all probability will give a new impetus to the important mining industry in that section of Australia.—Exchange.

ARCHITECTS' NOTES

W. F. Kolle & Co., architects, Heed Building, are now ready for bids on boilers, engines, refrigerating machinery, vats, stacks, etc., for the Shamokin Brewing Company, to be built at Shamokin, Pa.

John F. Flynn, architect, Harrison Building, has completed plans and specifications for alterations and additions to Mr. G. Trumolillo's dwelling at 927 South street. Builder P. J. Hurley is bidding. Bids due September 19th.

Chester A. Kirk, architect, Harrison Building, has sent plans and specification to H. Marion Zane, Doyle & Doak, Cramp & Co., Appleton & Burrell, for exterior alterations to Green's Hotel, northeast corner of Eighth and Chestnut streets. Bids due September 19th.

Geo. I. Lovatt, architect, 418 Walnut street, has completed plans for a dormitory building for "Sunnyrest" Sanitarium, to be erected at White Haven. It will be three stories high, frame and stone. It will be heated by steam, wired for electricity, etc. Bids are now being taken from local parties.

Arthur L. Nickelson, architect, 42 South Sixteenth street, has completed plans for two summer cottages for Sarah Elkinton. One to be built at Naomi Pines, the other at Mount Pocono, Pa. They will be constructed of frame and will be two-and-a-half stories high, with all modern improvements.

Henry D. Dagitt, architect, 435 Chestnut St., will complete plans and send same out the latter part of this week for estimates for the new power-house for the W. Chester Electric Traction Co., to be built at West Chester, Pa. It will be a one-story structure, of brick and slow burning construction (details previously noted). Bids due in about ten days' time.

Walter Smedley's, architect, Stephen Girard Building, plans have been accepted by the building committee for the new clubhouse for the Fairmount Boat Club, to be erected on boathouse row of Schuylkill River, East Park. It will be two stories high of frame and stone and will have a mansard roof and will be equipped with all modern improvements. Will be ready for bids in a short while.

G. W. & W. D. Hewitt, architects, Bullitt Building, have been commissioned by Frishmuth Bros. & Co. of 151 N. Third street, to plan their new manufacturing plant to be erected at Seventeenth and Glenwood avenue on a tract of land recently purchased by them. Preliminary sketches only have been made at present. There will be a group of buildings, some of which will be one, some two and some four stories high. Further details later.

Stearns & Castor, architects, Stephen Girard Building, are working on plans for a new stone residence to be built on Penn street above House street, Frankford, for Mr. Jos. Saul. It will be three stories high and will contain every modern convenience.—They have also Ballinger & Perrot, architects and engineers, have sent plans and specifications to Paul Bertrand, Samuel Harting, A. Raymond Raff, Robert Tarlo & Son for alterations and additions to the residence of W. P. Datz, at 947 North Fifth street, according to plans prepared by them. Bids due September 18th.

Completed revised plans and are now taking estimates for the Allison Memorial Chapel at Sixty-third and Girard avenue. It will be two stories and basement high, of brick and stone. The same list of builders that bid on the original plans have been invited to submit bids.

Plans of Philip Johnson, architect and engineer, Fidelity Building, Philadelphia, were accepted by the State Board of Charities for the new State Homoeopathic Hospital to be erected near Allentown, Pa., at a cost, when completed, of $900,000. The plans provide for a handsome brick construction of Colonial architecture, an executive building, an administration building, dormitories, an auditorium to seat 1,000 people, sun parlors and connecting corridors. The hospital, when completed, will accommodate 1,000 inmates and will be modern in all respects.

Rowland W. Boyle, architect, 1626 Chestnut street, is working on plans for new church and rectory to be built at Bridgeport, Pa., for the St. Augustin's R. C. Congregation. They will be constructed of stone. The house will be three stories high. Further details later.

Also working on plans for interior alterations to the convent for the Sisters of St. Francis, 742 South Tenth street. Plans provide for new chapel, new plumbing, electric wiring and general interior improvements.—Also engaged on plans for an addition to the Convent of Sacred Heart, at Third and Reed streets. Plans provide for a new three-story addition to be built at the rear, to be used as a dormitory building. It will be constructed of brick.

Chas. W. Bolton, architect, Witherspoon Building, is working on plans and specification and will send same out in a few days for bids for alterations and addition to school house at Moreland Township, Huntingdon Valley, Pa. The addition will be one and a half stories high of stone and general interior improvement to school house.—Also will send revised plans out in a few days for the new residence of Mrs. Horace G. F. Hallowell to be erected at Conshohocken, Pa. It will be a colonial structure two and a half stories high of brick and stone. It will contain 13 rooms with all modern improvements. This revision is necessary owing to the change of lot.—Also has plans in the course of preparation for a handsome stone edifice to be built at Stroudstown, Pa., for the Blue Mountain Union Church. It will be built of native stone with Indiana Limestone trimming and will contain audience, Sunday-school rooms, and will have the usual appointments. Will be ready for bids in about 3 weeks time.

BUILDING AND REAL ESTATE NOTES

Chief Pierie, of Bureau of City Property, will ask Councils for an appropriation so that four elevators can be placed in the northwest corner of the City Hall.

Brucker & Brogheim, of 2213 North Front street, are ready for bids for their new stable to be built at 2022 Fletcher street. It will be two stories, of brick and will have the usual appointments.

S. Cassals & Co., builders, 703 Lippincott Building, have filed bids with the owner, Mr. J. B. McHugh, for interior work to his residence at 4141 Girard avenue. Plans by private parties.

Wm. S. Twining, Chief Engineer of the Rapid Transit Company, is preparing plans for a large machine shop to be erected in this city. The exact location cannot be learned at the present time.

Jos. Bird, builder, 1021 Race street, will make general interior improvements and build a three-story brick addition to the property at 1324 Arch street, at a cost of $10,000. Work has been started on the above improvement.

It is stated that the Wabash R. R. Company is contemplating the building of a line across the upper section of Delaware county, going through Haverford and Upper Darby townships and entering Philadelphia at Sixty-third street.

Jacob Myers & Sons, builders, Witherspoon Building, have been awarded the contract to build the 44-stall roundhouse, 300 feet in diameter, at Fairview near Harrisburg, Pa., for the Pennsylvania Railroad Company. Contract price $70,000.

The members of the Master Builders' Exchange, 35 South Seventh street, will hold their regular quarterly meeting on Tuesday, September 22nd, at 2 o'clock. It will be preceded by a luncheon and an address. A large attendance is expected.

Harry T. Saunders, builder, 230 N. Twenty-second street has been awarded the contract to make alterations and additions to the residence of Jacob Henly, at 1590 N. Seventeenth street. Plans by Watson & Huckel, architects, 1208 Chestnut street.

John R. Wiggins and John W. Gill & Co., Oakes & Tyas, builders, have filed bids with Otto Wolf, architect, 1025 Arch street, for alterations for Chas. F. Ehrenpfort, to Mineral Springs Hotel, at Willow Grove, according to plans prepared by him.

James Doyle, builder, 846 North Forty-eighth street, has been awarded the contract to build the new dormitory building for St. John's Orphan Asylum, at Forty-ninth and Wyalusing avenue. It will be two stories high, 42x112 feet, and will be built of brick and stone. Contract price $17,475. Revised plans prepared by Rowland W. Boyle, architect, 1626 Chestnut street. Work will proceed at once.

THE SYMPATHETIC STRIKE AND THE MASTER BUILDERS.

If there is a particle of common sense remaining under the headgear of the officers and members of the Trades Unions identified with the mechanical end of construction work of all kinds, not only in this city, but all over the whole country, they will waste no time in settling forever the question of sympathetic strikes as well as that of arbitrating all disagreements between employers and employees.

The sooner this is done the better it will be for every one directly or indirectly interested in construction work of every kind.

If not settled and in a way to assure perpetual confidence and security to builders and contractors as well as to the owners, who are after all essentially the factors to be considered, even more than the men who take the contracts, the mechanics and laborers who obtain their livings through work of this character, will be living on snow balls before the winter is over.

Owners will not invest their money, however promising the investment, facing as they are now compelled to do, conditions so fraught with danger that no sane man could be expected to accept them. Nor can they be expected to accept contracts from builders filled with exception clauses as the result of crank Trade Union notions, as unreasonable as they are unjust and which have already had such discouraging influence all over the whole country that building enterprises have been checked to an extent beyond conception.

Trade Unions, however good or bad—and we are not discussing this end of the proposition—must be run on sound common sense principles, and the conservative man, however imbued with Trade Union doctrines, must recognize, even in the absence of argument, that any principle, doctrine or method is wrong which seeks to establish the right to perpetually order men to strike who have absolutely no grievance, in order to accomplish the ends and purposes, right or wrong, just or unjust, of perhaps a minority of a half dozen members of some Trade Union, tying up hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of work for an indefinite period, causing serious loss and delay and perhaps ruin to innocent owners who have committed no wrong against the unions or their members, but who unfortunately have expressed enterprise and courage by entering into a simple business proposition without which these self-same working men must beg, starve or steal.

The resolution of the Master Builders' Exchange members, to wit:

"Resolved, On and after a time to be fixed at the discretion of the Advisory Board of the Master Builders' Exchange, no workman shall be employed on any of our buildings in Philadelphia, unless he is willing to agree not to engage in any sympathetic strike and to arbitrate any differences that may arise, work to continue meanwhile.

"We, the Advisory Board, have determined that on and after the first day of January, 1904, the above resolution shall be enforced and we call upon you to adhere strictly to the resolution."

is as sound as the Mosaic law, the Magna Charta or the Declaration of Independence.

It embraces all the principles of the sacred law of self-defence, which after all is the foundation on which all trade combinations rest.

For any man to assert that the present condition of estrangement existing between employers and employees in the direction in which these men on both sides are most interested, can be and will be perpetuated to the detriment of every one, is to epitomize the worst form of stupidity, arrogance and injustice, if not the very essence of anarchy itself.

To rob a man of his inherent right to labor; to grab him by the throat and tell him that he and his children must starve and suffer because Jones and Smith and a few others have quit their jobs, is as much worse than any doctrine ever preached by Herr Most as any one can imagine.

Fall work has already been greatly curtailed.

The golden eggs, as reflects of the great prosperity all over the country, are growing scarce in the building line and the Trades Unions are immensely responsible for it.

Capable mechanics of other tongues by the thousands are here and more are coming and they will continue to come as long as the absence of opportunity prevails in their own countries.

If a dearth of building enterprises on one hand, and a large superabundance of skilled labor on the other hand, mean anything worth considering to the men engaged in this business of killing opportunity, they can do some serious thinking right now and the sooner they think it out or get out of the country altogether the better it will be for those remaining.

While it takes money with which to buy corn some one must grow the corn.

If owners won't build or even improve their properties in any direction, who is going to employ the mechanics?

This seems to be the condition the Trades Unions are foolishly aiming to establish and we assert that they have already gone a long way towards that end.

The curative rests with the members of the Unions; a single meeting and a single resolution will adjust all differences. If this adjustment is made at once a large amount of contemplated building will be commenced this fall, if not done, the responsibility for the consequences, however serious, must rest with those who have forced the issue upon the builders and contractors who might as well shut down at once, as to attempt to run their business on any such tom foolery basis as that which the sympathetic strike nonsense has inaugurated. Arbitrate all differences, but the sympathetic strike principle of settling such differences is monstrously inefficient and as cruel as it is wrong.

BUILDING AND REAL ESTATE NOTES

John McShane, builder, 2117 Appleton street, has been awarded the contract to build the new laundry building for the Merion Convent, at Merion, Pa. It will be three stories high and will be built of brick. Plans by Edwin F. Durang, architect, 1200 Chestnut street.

Macchin & Brown, builders, 401 Chestnut street, have submitted their bid to W. L. Plack, architect, 1403 Filbert street, for the proposed three-story stone and brick refectory building for the Lincoln University near Oxford, Pa., according to plans prepared by him.

B. Ketchum & Son, R. C. Ballinger & Co., Jas. Kinniers & Son, builders, have submitted bids to Morris & Vaux, architects, Stephen Girard Building, for alterations and additions to house of Mrs. Sarah W. Rhoads, on School Lane, Germantown, according to plans prepared by them.

It is reported that the Independent Turners Singing Society, of this city, will establish a park at Lester, Pa. The proposed pleasure ground contains about 289 acres, 38 of which comprises magnificent forest lands. It is the intention of the society to make it one of the finest pleasure grounds in that section.

Kendrick & Roberts, Inc., Keith Building, have plans posted for a new church to be built at Seventeenth and McKean streets, for the Church of the Brethren. It will be stone, one-story and basement and will measure 24x52 feet.

Bids due September 18th. Plans by Jno F. Bowers, 2436 South Juniper street.

H. Marion Zane, builder, Hale Building, has filed bids with the owner, Geo. M. Dunlap, of 45 North Water street, for store and apartment house to be built on Atlantic avenue, Atlantic City, N. J. It will be three stories high, of brick and will measure 30x125 feet, and will contain the usual appointments.

Shamokin Lumber & Manufacturing Company, of Shamokin, Pa., have been awarded the contract to build the new plant for the Shamokin Brewing Company, of that place. They will comprise of new brew house, mill and malt and storage house, stack house and racking room, wash house, boiler and engine house, all to be built of brick and fireproof throughout, and will cost about $33,000. Plans by Wm. F. Kolle & Co., architects, Heed Building, Philadelphia.

I Will Contract

to heat your residence, however large or small, with HOT WATER, and file a Trust Company's bond for ten times the cost, the same to be forfeited if I fail in any direction.

This means that there shall be more than enough radiation at the smallest possible cost for coal. No leaks, no mistakes, no annoyances of any kind. The boiler to be of the best make.

The responsibility all mine, and the cost no greater because of good work and material.

ASBESTOS "FIRE FELT" PIPE COVERING

Recently published tests show an annual saving by use of this covering amounting to about 50c. per square foot of pipe surface, equal to about $300.00 per hundred lineal feet of 2" pipe. The first cost is less than 25c. per square foot or a net return of 200% on the investment. Once on the pipes, the covering needs no further attention. Can you afford to leave your pipes uncovered?

build water works and reservoirs, construct bridges and operate quarries and asphalt plants. Those interested are William F. McGovern, Benjamin Godshalk and State Senator George Pfeiffer, of Camden.

At Asbury Park, Monmouth county, the Beach Commissioners at a recent meeting discussed plans for the improvement of the beach and it was decided that various changes would be made before the summer of 1904. It is planned to construct an auditorium for conventions, etc., at the extreme end of the pier, and there will be an arcade at the boardwalk end of the pier, where band concerts will be given. Galleries will contain seats for those who wish to pay a small sum for the privilege of listening to the music and watching the boardwalk procession. The Commission is also planning to install its own electric light plant to supply the boardwalk illuminations. Jetty work was also discussed, and it is probable that contract for this work will be made in a short time. George W. Rogers & Co., of New York City, are the engineers in charge of the work. Various other public improvements will be made before next summer.

THROUGH DELAWARE

At Wilmington, it is stated that the Baltimore Construction Company has been awarded the contract to construct about three thousand feet of bulkhead between the mouth of the Christiana River and Edgemore, at $71,000.—J. C. Sanford, Captain Engineers, U. S. Engineers office, will receive sealed proposals until October 2, 1903, for dredging the Christiana River, Del. For additional information apply at office.—It is said that the Woodlawn Company will make a number of improvements to the property owned by the company between Fourth and Seventh streets, and Union street and the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad. Arrangements have been made by the company for a series of small parks in the centre of Grand avenue, extending from Fourth to Seventh street. Grand avenue will be one hundred and sixty feet wide to allow for this parking. The dwellings to be erected by the company will be set back to allow for lawns in front. A number of dwellings are now in course of construction by the company, also a drug store at Fourth and Union streets, and it is said a row of dwellings will be started by the company on the east side of Springer street, extending from Sixth to Seventh street.

—The Directors of the Street and Sewer Department have decided to curb Sixth street on both sides from Union street to Bayard avenue.

CHEAPEST GAS IN THE WORLD.

The cheapest gas in the world, it is claimed, is made by the municipal gas works of Widnes, England, and sold at from 32 to 24.3 cents per 1000 cubic feet. The works have a daily capacity of 1,000,000 cubic feet, and a total annual consumption of about 250,000,000 cubic feet. There are 5,822 consumers, of whom 3,745 make use of penny-in-the-slot meters.

The selling prices of gas within the borough are 32 cents and 28 cents, and for motive power purposes 24.3 per 1,000 cubic feet, net. Consumers of gas by slot or prepayment meter are allowed 40 cubic feet for 2 cents, which includes service meter, internal pipes and fittings, with boiling burner, also the continual maintenance of same. The illuminating power of the gas is maintained at 18 candles, notwithstanding the fact that the statutory standard is but 14. Electricity for power purposes, to be comparable with gas at the Widnes price, must be sold at 0.5 cents per unit. The gas undertaking contributes to the relief of the general district rate of the borough by doing the whole of the public lighting free of cost; which amounts to a charge of almost 4 cents per 1,000 cubic feet on gas sold.—Engineering News.

BUILDING AND REAL ESTATE NOTES

Builder D. H. Rapp, of Lancaster, has been awarded the contract to build the Old Ladies' Home at Lancaster, Pa., for H. S. Long. It will be a three-story structure, of stone and brick, and will cost $49,000. Plans and specifications by Paul & Seymour Davis, architects, 907 Walnut street, this city.

CITY HAS TO BE PUMPED DRY.

The City of New Orleans, like most of the land at each side of the Mississippi River in the alluvial country, lies considerably below the high water line of the Mississippi River. The whole city would be inundated by the river occasionally if it were not protected by a levee along the river front. The city is also protected by levees running at right angles to the river—above the city and one below it—and also by a levee along the shore of Lake Pontchartrain and by levees along the banks of the various canals which reach from that lake into the territory of the municipality, says the Engineer Magazine.

New Orleans is so near the mouth of the river that the land upon which the city is built is not only lower than the high water stage of the river, but is in part lower than the level of the Gulf of Mexico and of the various lakes in the vicinity of the city. Therefore, there is no natural drainage for the land inclosed by the levees surrounding the town. The rain water that falls upon this area has to be pumped so as to force it into either Lake Pontchartrain or Lake Borgne. The city itself covers a large area, although the major portion of its area is not built up as a city. The part at present chiefly occupied by buildings consists of a strip a mile or so wide along the bank of the river.

This area is the subject of rainfalls the greatest of which for many years has been about seven and a half inches within 24 hours, which is equivalent to a cube of water 870 feet high, wide and deep. Of course, such a rain occurs only at very rare intervals. In 1804, before work on the new drainage system was commenced, records were kept of the amount of rainfall each year, and these records have been continued until the present time. During the month of July, 1894, 325,729,830 cubic feet of water were drained away from about half the total area included in the drainage plan. This discharge for one month is equivalent to a cube of water 685 feet on edge or to a lake ten miles long, 600 feet wide, and ten feet deep, or to a canal 80 miles long, 40 feet wide and 20 feet deep.—Exchange.

N. Bloom, corresponding secretary, 1037 Fifth avenue. Arnold W. Brunner, 33 Union Square West, who was the architect for the Hebrew Technical School for Boys on Stuyvesant Place, is a friend of Mr. Lewisohn's and will probably be chosen to design the new school for girls.

THE PENSION ROLL.

There have been few reports of the Pension Office so full of interesting facts and suggestions as that which has just been issued by Commissioner Ware. It shows the certain and significant reduction of the roll of pensioners, and also of the per capita cost of pensions. The high water mark of pensioners was reached in 1902, when the total number on the list was 909,446; in 1893 the per capita charge was $2.44; now, ten years after, it is but $1.75. No doubt the largely increased population has had much to do with this material reduction, as the aggregate amount paid has not decreased proportionately with the per capita cost of the roll. The highest total annual amount paid was $161,774,327.36; this year it is $141,752,870.50. Even this is a vast sum to be paid thirty-eight years after the close of the war for the Union, though a part of it is due to the pensioners of the Spanish War.

One of the most significant parts of Commissioner Ware's last annual report is the length of the mortality list, death having removed the names of 27,842 pensioners during the year. For the present fiscal year it is estimated that the deaths will aggregate 45,000. The melancholy suggestion is thus made of the rapidly thinning ranks of the soldiers and sailors of the Civil War. Old age is fast decreasing their number, and another decade will find few of the names of the participants in that great struggle on the roll. This suggestion is given force by the ever lessening number of the members of the Grand Army of the Republic, the annual reunions of which are marked by significantly decreased attendance. The list of pensioners at the close of the last fiscal year was nearly 3,000 less than the previous year, and the percentage of deaths must obviously increase with each additional year. These pensioners, like Webster's veterans of the Revolution, have come down to us from a former generation; but it is not only this generation, but generations yet unborn, that will reap in a united country the rich harvest of freedom, peace and prosperity which our pensioners sowed on a hundred battlefields. It is right that the nation's gratitude to them should be shown in a generous pension roll.—Philadelphia Ledger.

STATISTICS OF SUICIDE.

The New York Spectator presents the statistics of suicide in 1902 for 50 American cities, with the result of showing that the average for the year named was 17 per 100,000 of population, against 16.6 in 1901—a notable increase. Comparing 1890, when there were but 12 per 100,000, with 1902, it shows a rapid growth of the number of suicides. St. Louis leads, showing an average of 25.7 per 100,000 in the decade of 1892-1901. In 1902 St. Louis had 142 suicides, Chicago 439, New York 455, Brooklyn 222, Philadelphia 176, Baltimore 61, Washington 30, Boston 83. The rate per 100,000 in St. Louis in 1902 was 23.5, Chicago 23.7, New York 21, Brooklyn 19.3, Philadelphia 13, Baltimore 11.6, Washington 10.4, Boston 14.1. About 2,500 persons suicided in the 50 cities had in view. Hoboken, N. J., is credited with the highest rate, of 35.7—a proof perhaps of the power of the mosquito to make life seem not worth living. It is shown that the suicide rate is highest in cities which contain a large proportion of German population, or of allied nationalities, such as Bohemians, Russians, etc. This accords with the census of 1900, which says: "The suicide rate of native Americans is returned as 6.8 per 100,000 of population, against 6.1 for those of Irish origin, 19.3 for those of Irish origin, 19.3 for those of German origin, and 22.0 for those of French origin. By age periods, it is shown that at ages 15-44 the suicide rate of natives was 7.2 of the Irish, 6.7 of the Germans, 16.6 of the French 16.5 and of the Bohemians 16.6. At ages 45-64 the suicide rate of natives was 16.7 of the Irish 7.3, of the Germans 41.5, of the French 33.3 and of the Bohemians 62.4."

BEFORE THE FRENCH REVOLUTION.

Before the revolution the government established warehouses at which the inhabitants were compelled to purchase their stores of salt. These warehouses were numerous in some provinces and few in others, but whether sufficient or insufficient for the needs of the population they were often situated at a considerable distance from the towns and villages, whose inhabitants had to trudge miles along bad roads to buy their salt. But this was not all, It was prescribed by law that the head of every family must lay in his stock of salt, not at such times as might suit his own convenience, but on one stated day in the year. Should he fail in this observance he was fined, and he was also fined if he purchased a smaller quantity than the law prescribed. His hardships did not stop even there.

On making his annual purchase he had to state the different purposes for which he intended to use the salt during the ensuing year, and in the event of his being discovered salting his soup instead of his pork according to his statement or his pork instead of his soup on the day he had named he was also liable to a fine. His kitchen was never secure from the intrusion of the inspecting officer, and woe to the house-wife who was detected in any petty infraction of this law. —Exchange.

WASHINGTON'S NEW RAILROAD DEPOT.

The new B. & O. Station in Baltimore will be constructed in the Romanesque style of white marble.

Some idea of its magnitude may be obtained from the fact that its cost will be something over $4,000,000, while the approaches will probably amount to $10,000,000 more. The building will have a frontage of 260 feet on the north side of Massachusetts avenue, between North Capitol and Second streets. The axis of the station and train shed extends back 751 feet 4 inches directly on the line of Delaware avenue. With space for thirty-six tracks, approached over a ten-track viaduct, the station will be ample to accommodate all the trains of the Baltimore & Ohio, the Pennsylvania, the Atlantic Coast Line and the Louisville & Nashville system, the Chesapeake & Ohio, the Norfolk & Western, the Seaboard Air Line and the Southern Railway, representing over 40,000 miles of territory traversed by the several systems which directly or indirectly through their connections will use the station.

Without entering into a general description of the new station, it may be incidentally mentioned that the central portion of the front of the building rises to a height of 90 feet, the masonry being pierced by three main doorways, each 60 feet high and 44 feet wide, so there is little possibility of crowding of travelers in their entrance or exit.

The Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Company will have supervision over the building of the eastern approach to the new terminal, the contract for which it has awarded to McCullen & McDermott and the Hoffman Engineering Company, of Philadelphia. The cost involved for this portion of the work is $2,000, and includes the stone viaduct from Montello, three miles distant on the Washington branch of the Baltimore & Ohio; the freight yards, roundhouses and connecting tracks. The southern approach, with the tunnel under Capitol Hill, has been delegated to the Pennsylvania Railroad Company's supervision. When the work is finished Washington will have, beyond question, the finest and the greatest railroad terminal in the world. —Exchange.

ARCHITECT NOTES.

W. L. Plack, architect, 1403 Filbert street, will send revised plans and specifications out this week for the proposed new refectory for the Lincoln University to be built near Oxford, Pa. Details previously noted.

M. I. Kast, architect, Harrison Building, is preparing plans for extensive alterations and addition to the property of the Imperial Drygoods Co., at 215 Market street. The building when completed will be 26x210 feet and will have all modern equipment for a department store. Work on the building will start at an early date.

M. H. Dickerson, 3d, architect and engineer, 1420-21 Land Title Annex, is working on plans and specifications and will send same out soon for estimates for alterations and addition to the store at Fifteenth and Venango streets, for Mr. George Jackson. The addition will be two stories high, of brick and minor alterations to the store will be made.

Amos W. Barnes, architect and engineer, 901 Walnut street, has completed plans for a new five-story office and light manufacturing building to be erected at 13-15-17 S. Third street for Mr. Chas. Sinnickson. It will be built of stone and brick and will measure 60x80 feet. It will have a tower, fire escape, and will contain all up-to-date appointments.

Arthur Brockie, architect, 328 Chestnut street, has completed plans and specifications and sent same out to builders for estimates for interior alterations to National Export Exposition Building at Thirty-fourth and South streets, for the Philadelphia Museum. Thos. Seeds, Appleton & Burrell and Frank E. Wallace have been invited to bid. Bids due September 24th.

Sturgis & Barton, architects, of Boston, Mass., have completed plans for a handsome new residence to be built at Eighteenth and Pine streets, this city, for Mr. Philip L. Spalding, chief engineer of the Bell Telephone Company, who has an office in the Pitcairn Building at Eleventh and Arch streets. It will be three stories high and will be built of brick and is said it will cost $50,000.

F. T. Mercer, architect, 717 Walnut street, has completed plans and specification and sent same to the owner, who will take bids for new colonial residence to be built at Olney, Pa., for Richard Torgin, Jr. It will be two and a half stories high, of frame and stone and will measure 32x42 feet. It will have a porch on front. The interior will be in hardwood finish and it will have every modern convenience and appointment.

A. W. Dilks, architect, Mutual Life Building, has completed plans and specification and sent same out to builders for estimates for alteration to the residence of E. P. Alexander, Esq., at the southeast corner of Thirty-sixth and Hamilton streets. Work will comprise of the best plumbing, heating, new stairway, mantles, etc. The following builders have been invited to bid: R. C. Ballinger & Co., Arthur L. Williams & Son. Bids due September 25th.

Stearns & Castor, architects, Stephen Girard Building, have plans in the course of preparation for a pair of three-story houses to be built at Cheltenham, Pa., for Christopher Koehler. They will be stone and frame, 35x52 feet and will have all modern improvements.

Rush Anderson Plowman, architect, Betz Building, has been commissioned to prepare plans for strengthening the amphitheatre of the Chestnut Street Theatre. The work will include making new exits, improving the present ones, and building additions to the fire escapes. He is now ready for bids.

Angus S. Wade, architect, has opened offices on the second floor of 1626 Chestnut street. He has completed plans and specifications and sent same out to builders for alterations and addition to the rectory of St. George R. C. Church, situated at Venango and Salmon street. The work will include hot water heating, plumbing, gas fitting, carpenter and mill work, painting, glazing, gas fixtures, etc. Bids due September 28th. P. J. Hurley is bidding.

J. Franklin Stuckert & Son, 1421 Chestnut street, architect, has completed plans and specification and sent same out to builders for bids for the new building for the Quaker City Rubber Co. to be erected at Wissinoming Pa. It will be three stories high, 60x200 feet, and will be built of brick and slow burning construction. Bids due September 26th. The following builders are bidding: W. R. Dougherty, Wm. Steele & Son and the Flint Construction Co., of Boston, Mass.

Henry A. Macomb, architect, Real Estate Building, has completed plans and specifications and sent same to the Collingswood Land Company, who will take bids for the new store and dwelling as designed by him to be built at West Collingswood, N. J., for Mr. H. G. Pettit. It will be two stories high, of frame. It will have a porch on each side of the house. The interior will be in hardwood finish. It will be heated by steam, wired for electricity and will contain all modern improvements.

Bailey & Truscott, architects, 421 Chestnut street, has completed plans and specifications and sent same out to builders for House No. 7, for Mr. Joshua L. Bailey, to be built on the north side of Lancaster turnpike above Wynemwood Station, Pa. It will be two stories and attic high, 31x45 feet, and will be built of stone and frame with all modern improvements. Bids due September 26th. The following builders are bidding: F. E. Wallace, F. L. Hoover & Son, of this city; Grey Bros., of Rosemont, Pa.; Geo. Risien, of Bryn Mawr; Jno. S. Rogers & Co., of Stanwick, N. J., and Jno. D. Lengle, of Wayne, Pa.

Watson & Huckel, architects, 1208 Chestnut street, have completed plans and sent same out to builders for estimates for the proposed new laundry building for the Convent of the House of Good Shepherd, on Chew street, Germantown. It will be two stories high, built of brick and will have every modern convenience such as up-to-date plumbing, steam heat, etc. Bids due September 26th. P. J. Hurley, Cornelius Kiely, Reynolds & Caldwell, Mr. O'Brien, H. S. Shoemaker & Co., F. Riely, J. Johnson, W. R. Dougherty are bidding.

Edwin F. Bertollette, architect, Heed Building, has prepared preliminary plans and has invited Frank S. Riggs to submit estimates for a large new Baptist Church, the exact location and name withheld for the present. It will be one-story and basement high, 67x130 feet, and will be built of stone and will contain auditorium, main Sunday-school classroom, etc.—The same architect has finished plans and specifications and sent same to local builders for estimates for a four-story, 35x110-foot brick publishing house, to be erected at Chambersburg, Pa.

Chas. E. Oelschlagger, architect, Harrison Building, has completed plans and specifications and sent same out to builders for estimates for extensive alterations and addition to 142 North Tenth street, for Benjamin Alexander. Alterations will consist of a new two-story addition of brick, 20x90 feet, new bulk window with ornamental copper work and other interior alterations. The following builders have been invited to bid, bids due September 26th, at 10 o'clock: John R. Wiggins & Co., Chas. Gilpin, P. J. Hurley, Alex. Chamblay, Mitchell Bros. and Henderson & Co.

Chas. J. Brooke, architect, 14 South Broad street, has completed plans and specifications and sent same to owner and builder, James C. Stevenson, who has an office at Ridge avenue and Diamond street, for 10 houses and one store, to be built on Diamond street, 40 feet east of Twenty-ninth street. They will be three stories high, 16x54 feet, each of brick and will have porch fronts and will contain all modern improvements. This operation will cost about $50,000.—Also plans for 28 houses and one store to be built on Twenty-eighth street, 74 feet north of Cumberland street, for the same party. They will be two stories, of brick, 16x42 feet, and will contain all modern improvements. This operation will cost $60,000.—He has also completed plans and specifications and sent same to the owner, who will take bids for a stable and wagon shed for Mr. Harry E. Ropley to be built at 4136-38 Paul street, Frankford, Phila. It will be two stories high, 33.6x22 feet. Mill construction covered with corrugated iron, supported on iron frame. The second floor will be a hay loft.

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y, SEPT. 23, 1903

ARCHITECTS' NOTES

A number of Philadelphia architects have submitted plans in competition for the proposed new bank building to be built at Broad and Germantown avenue, for the North Philadelphia Bank Company. The successful architect will be announced in a short while.

David Knickerbocker Boyd, architect, Harrison Building, has completed plans and sent same out to builders for a new residence to be built at Pelham, Phila. It will be two-and-a-half stories high, 34x62 feet, and will be built of stone and will contain 12 rooms with all modern improvements. McClintock & Weaver, W. Kohl, M. W. Young, Reynolds & Caldwell and John Kohl have been invited to bid. Bids due September 26th.

Watson & Huckel, architects, 1208 Chestnut street, have completed revised plans and specifications and sent same out to builders for estimates for the new proposed Monmouth Hotel, to be built at Spring Lake, N. J. It will be five stories high, 360x192 feet, and will be built of brick and stone and will contain all modern improvements. Bids due September 28th. The following builders have been invited to bid: H. C. Kafer, Trenton; H. H. Moore, Frank S. Riggs, of Philadelphia; C. M. Russell, of Newark, N. J.; H. C. Rodgers, Asbury Park, N. J.; Wm. Hedden, of Newark; General Building & Construction Company, the Church Construction Company and M. Moore, of New York.

BUILDING AND REAL ESTATE NOTES

Geo. Osbourne, of 5017 Willow street, Frankford, Phila., is now ready for sub-bids for two two-story brick residences to be built by him at Frankford, Phila.

A. H. Worstall, engineer, with office in the Witherspoon Building, will be ready soon for bids on the erection of the one-story brick building for the Tuckerton Gas Company, of that place.

S. Casals Co., builders, Lippincott Building, have plans posted for interior and exterior improvements to the residence of E. H. Carroll, Esq., at Sixtieth and Girard avenue. Bids due September 24th. Plans by Jas. C. Fernald, architect, 5533 Wyalusing avenue.

Otto Domsen, Electrical Contractor, 2813 Germantown avenue, has secured the contracts for all Electrical Work on 94 dwellings, at Fifty-second and Girard avenue, St. Francis Xavier School, Twenty-fourth and Green streets, and firehouse at Branchtown.

Jno. T. Bowers, builder, 2436 S. Juniper street, has been awarded the contract to build the new church at Seventeenth and McKean street, for the Church of the Brethren. It will be of stone, one story and basement, and will measure 24x52 feet, and will cost about $3,600.

Armstrong & Latta, builders, Land Title Building, have been awarded the contract to rebuild for the Pennsylvania Railroad Company their lay warehouse on the east side of Front, south of Perks street, recently destroyed by fire. It will be a brick structure and will cost $15,000.

Cramp & Co., builders, 1421 Filbert street, have been awarded the contract to build the proposed fireproof warehouse at the Schuylkill Arsenal, for the United States Army. Their price was $124,000. The new building will be four stories high and will measure 350x60 feet.

John W. Emery and Kendrick & Roberts, Inc. have plans posted for a frame building for officers' quarters at the League Island Navy Yard. It will be a two-story structure, 41x59 feet. Bids due at the office of the Quartermaster Department, Washington, D. C., on October 3d.

Edward Fay, builder, 2666 Richmond street, has been awarded the contract to build the three-story addition of brick, to measure 12x31 feet, to the public school on the north side of Bainbridge between Ninth and Tenth streets. His price was $19,000. Plans by J. Horace Cook, architect of the Board of Education.

The Delaware River Steel Casting Company has purchased a tract from the Parson estate along the river in the western section of Chester, Pa., and is preparing to build large works. The contracts for the structural work of the main building have been awarded to the McClintock Marshall Construction Company, of Pottstown, Pa.

John Camburn, builder, of Plymouth Meeting, Pa., has been awarded the contract to build the new stable for Mr. Samuel Goodwin, at Chestnut Hill. It will be two stories high, of frame and stone and will have the usual up-to-date sanitary stable appointments. Plans by Arthur R. Brockie, architect, 328 Chestnut street.

Kendrick & Roberts, Inc., Keith Building, have filed bid for the proposed new Carnegie Library, to be built for the Columbus Public Library at Columbus, O. It will be two stories and basement high, and will be constructed of stone, with every appointment and convenience. Plans by Albert R. Ross, architect, 542 Fifth avenue, New York.

Elmer E. Cuthbertson, builder, at Roxborough, Phila., has been awarded the contract to build the Sisters house for St. Josephat Polish R. C. Congregation at Manayunk. It will be three stories high, 26x28 feet and will be built of brick and stone. Plans by Amos W. Barnes, architect and engineer, 901 Walnut street. Work will proceed at once.

Jno. R. Wiggins & Co., builders, Heed Building, are bidding on alterations to the old retort house of the U. G. I. Company.

E. J. Kreitzburg, builder, 804 Walnut street, has been awarded the contract for new work for the Corinthian Yacht Club at Essington, Pa. The plans provide for a two-story stone and frame storehouse 96x44 feet and a one-story spare house 41x26 feet of frame. Contract price $6,000. Plans by Chas. Barton Keen architect, 1604 Chestnut street.

F. L. Hoover & Son, Inc., 629 Chestnut street, builders, have plans posted for a freight house to be built at Kurtz Station near Reading, Pa., for the Philadelphia & Reading Railway Company. It will be one-story high, 30x60 feet, and will be built of frame.—also for a coal trestle to be erected at the same place for the same company. Bids due September 26th.

The members of the Master Builders' Exchange, 18-24 South Seventh street, held their regular quarterly meeting last Tuesday afternoon, September 22d, which was preceded by a luncheon. The bill of fare was excellent and very much enjoyed by the members and invited guests. After the luncheon the meeting was held and some important business was transacted.

J. S. Rogers & Co., builders, at Stanwick, N. J., have been awarded the contract to build the handsome new passenger station at New Brunswick, N. J., for the Pennsylvania Railroad Company. It will be two stories and basement high, and will be built of brick with limestone trimmings. It will have the usual station appointments. A shelter shed 230 feet long will be erected on the track side of the station. Work will proceed at once.

A New York syndicate has completed a deal for a block of about 300 acres, mostly unimproved land, at Cape May Point, N. J., and propose to begin at once the work of improvement on an extensive scale. The property included in the deal is that belonging to the estate of Israel H. Johnson and Sarah Marshall, containing in all 300 acres of both ocean and bay front real estate, including the Carlton and Cape House. We will be able to give, at a later date, more particulars concerning these proposed improvements as well as the name of the members who comprise this syndicate.

Chas. Gilpin & Roydhouse Arey & Co. have plans posted on new repair shops for the Pennsylvania Railroad, at Fairview, Pa. The work will include the erection of a smith shop, 50x50 feet; a material building, 52x60 feet; a storeroom, 237x60 feet; a men room, 110x60 feet; a lavatory building, 60x60 feet; a planing room, 40x60 feet; a machine shop, 80x60 feet; a fan house, 60x45 feet; an office, 140x50 feet; a bunk house, 100x40 feet, and an oil house, 25x50 feet, all to be of brick and steel, slow burning, and will cost a total of about $500,000. Bids due October 4th.

DEAR SIR:

I Will Contract

to heat your residence, however large or small, with HOT WATER, and file a Trust Company's bond for ten times the cost, the same to be forfeited if I fail in any direction.

This means that there shall be more than enough radiation at the smallest possible cost for coal. No leaks, no mistakes, no annoyances of any kind. The boiler to be of the best make.

The responsibility all mine, and the cost no greater because of good work and material.

ASBESTOS "FIRE FELT" PIPE COVERING

Recently published tests show an annual saving by use of this covering amounting to about 50c. per square foot of pipe surface, equal to about $50.00 per hundred lineal feet of 2" pipe. The first cost is less than 25c. per square foot or a net return of 200% on the investment. Once on the pipes, the covering needs no further attention. Can you afford to leave your pipes uncovered?

At Montgomery, Ala., it is said that bids are wanted for school bonds to the amount of $50,000. R. S. Williams, City Treasurer.

At Marion, Ind., it is said that the County Commissioners will receive bids in a short time for the erection of a jail at a cost of about $115,000.

At Hopkinsville, Ky., plans have been prepared by James L. Long for an addition to South Kentucky College. The estimated cost is about $30,000.

At Muncie, Ind., the City Council has under consideration the erection of a city hall at Jefferson and Jackson streets. The estimated cost is about $125,000.

At Cedar Rapids, Iowa, new buildings to cost $750,000 will be erected at Coe College. The plans have been prepared by H. H. Holman, 153 La Salle street, Chicago, Ill.

At Louisville, Ky., Plans have been filed for the erection of a jail at Sixth and Green streets. The cost will be about $253,000. D. X. Murphy & Bro., 250 Fifth street, architects.

At Chicago, Ill., plans have been prepared by William W. Blair, Marquette Building, for a three-story brick building to be erected at 567 North Clark street, for Froehling & Heppel. The estimated cost is about $45,000.

At Worcester, Mass., plans have been prepared by George H. Clemence, 405 Main street, for a brick dwelling and stable to be erected for Mr. A. P. Christy, at a cost of about $28,000.

At Ashville, Ohio, a handsome dwelling will be erected by Mr. G. P. Teegarten from plans prepared by Architect R. Z. Dawson, Jr., Outlook Building, Columbus, Ohio. The estimated cost is about $10,000.

At Boonville, Ind., bids will be received until October 26th, for the erection of a courthouse to cost about $65,000. Harris & Snopce, of Evansville, are the architects. R. D. Moore, County Auditor.

At Watertown, Conn., Architect Joseph T. Smith has prepared plans and awarded the contract for the erection of a handsome fourteen-room dwelling for Burton G. Bryan, of Watertown, to E. C. Smith, of Waterbury, Conn.

At St. Paul, Minn., it is stated that a handsome three-story dwelling will be erected on Summit avenue for Mr. H. E. Thompson, at a cost of about $35,000. The plans have been prepared by Wicks & Green, of Buffalo, N. Y.

At Cincinnati, Ohio, the Yeatman Lodge F. & A. M. No. 102, will erect a Masonic Temple to cost about $25,000. The structure will be of brick and stone and will be well finished throughout. The plans have been prepared by Architects Dittoe & Wisenall.

At Lima, Ohio, plans have been prepared by Architects Leech & Leech for an I. O. O. F. Temple. It will be 50x90 feet, two stories high, of brick and stone, well finished throughout and provided with modern conveniences, including elevators, steam heat, gas and electric lights.

At Athens, Ohio, the contract for the erection of the new public library has not yet been awarded. L. M. Jewett, Secretary of the Board of Trustees of the Ohio University, can give information. The plans have been prepared by Architect F. L. Packard, of Columbus, Ohio.

At Scarsdale, N. Y., a convalescent home for boys, in connection with the convalescent home for older people, will be erected by Adrian Iselin, Sr. Information may be obtained by addressing Miss Georgine Iselin, ex-Adrian Iselin, Sr., Davenport's Neck, New Rochelle, N. Y.

At Nashville, Tenn., the ordinance granting an extension of the terminal facilities of the Nashville Terminal Company, has been signed by Mayor Head. It is said that about $500,000 will be expended on improvements. The ordinance will be submitted to the people at an election to be held October 8th.

At Newport, R. I., bids will soon be wanted for an addition to the barracks at the Training Station at Newport, for which Congress has made an appropriation of $217,500. The new structure will accommodate 750 boys and will consist of three pavilions with dormitories, bathrooms, kitchens, messrooms, drill halls, etc. There will be a large swimming tank.

At Waterford, Conn., plans have been prepared by Architect Edward G. Hapgood, of Hartford, Conn., for a handsome dwelling to be erected at Waterford, Conn., for Dr. C. S. Beach, of Hartford. It will be three stories high and will contain twenty finely finished rooms, tile work, open plumbing, plate and ornamental glass, artesian well, hot air engine and a gas plant.

At New Haven, Conn., Yale University has under consideration the construction of a large glass house in which her athletes will practice during the winter months. It is proposed to build a roof over a lot near the gymnasium which will be 40 feet from the ground and 160x220 feet in dimensions. Under the glass roof will be laid out a baseball diamond and a first-class running track. It is probable that the football men will also use it when the weather keeps them from going on the field. The glass will be protected by a wire netting. It is estimated that the improvement will cost $50,000.

At Galesburg, Ill., plans have been prepared by Architect John F. King, Jr., 123 Adams street, Peoria, Ill., for a two-story building to be erected for Burns Bros. and L. Weinand at Chatsworth, Ill. It will be of brick and concrete, iron beams and columns, furnace heat, electric lights, metal ceiling, plate glass, sanitary plumbing, handsome store front, all modern conveniences. The estimated cost is about $20,000.—Architect William Wolf, Galesburg, has made plans for a two-story brick veneered dwelling 35x55 feet to be erected for Mr. Charles Murphy at a cost of about $5,000. It will be of local brick and continental stone, plate and ornamental glass, tile work, sanitary plumbing, gas and electric fixtures, brick porch columns, bath tubs, heating, metal cornices, fine interior finish, modern conveniences.

At Chicago, Ill., plans have been prepared by Architect L. G. Hallberg, Oxford Building, for a four-story press brick factory 125x90 feet to be erected at the southeast corner of Van Buren and Peoria streets for the Addressograph Company, 173 S. Canal street. The estimated cost is about $75,000.—The same architect has made plans and is ready for bids for the erection of a three-story press brick apartment house 75x140 feet, to be erected on Vincennes avenue and Forty-sixth street at a cost of about $65,000. Hardwood interior finish, marble and tile work, wood mantels, sideboards, electric and gas fixtures, steam heat, mosaic work, and all modern conveniences.—Architect Louis Brodthag, Oxford Building, has made plans for a one-story storage warehouse 72x100 feet; also plans for a three-story flat to be erected on Rokely street. Hardwood interior finish, tile and mosaic work, grilles, steam heat, gas and electric fixtures, wood mantels, sideboards, composition roof, all modern conveniences.

At New York City, the Christian Brothers, in charge of Manhattan College and other educational institutions throughout the country, have bought ground, about twelve acres, on Broadway opposite Van Cortlandt Park, upon which the order will erect a group of college buildings. A number of architects in various parts of the country are preparing plans.—John E. Kerby, Knox Building, Fifth avenue and Fortieth street, is making plans for a main structure, six stories high, and for several separate buildings for the arts and sciences, with a large assembly room and library. The estimated cost of the group is about $500,000. Brother Jerome is president of the college, and Brother James, who erected the Christian Brothers Institution in St. Louis, will superintend the construction of the new college in New York.—Work is progressing on the dwelling in course of erection on Riverside Drive for Charles M. Schwab. The plans were prepared by Architect Maurice Hebert, 323 Fifth avenue.—Architect C. P. H. Gilbert, 1123 Broadway, has prepared plans for a fireproof dwelling to be erected at 6 West Fifty-third street. It will be six stories high, 26x95 feet, limestone front, fine interior finish. The general contract has been awarded to D. Mitchell, 302-06 West Fifty-third street.—George Frederick Pelham, 503 Fifth avenue, is receiving bids for an apartment house to be erected on Park avenue and Ninety-sixth street, for Mr. William F. Rohrig, 1123 Park avenue. It will be 90x100 feet, well finished throughout, and provided with modern conveniences. The cost will be about $150,000.

H. Sprunk & Son, Stapleton, Staten Island, have been awarded the contract for the erection of the new church for Zion African M. E. Congregation at 127-131 West Eighty-ninth street. The plans have been prepared by E. A. Sargent, 1 Broadway, and the estimated cost is about $68,000.—The United States Cut Flower Company, of New York, have plans for the largest greenhouse in the world in Elmira. The enterprise is backed by a capital of $500,000, and it will require an outlay of nearly $400,000 to get the buildings and equipment on a running basis. The president of the company is William Algie, who is one of the executors of the Dale estate, which is the largest grower of cut flowers on this continent, having now in operation at Brampton, Canada, a greenhouse plant with an area of 350,000 feet of glass. The vice-president of the company is A. H. Mattox, of New York City, vice-president of the National Economic League. Robert O. King is the constructing engineer. He is a constructor of greenhouses and a member of one of the firms who erected and designed the Brampton plant. The treasurer of the company is G. C. St. John, of New York City, president of the New York Steam Company. The remaining director is Daniel De Wolf Weaver, with the law firm of Marsh & Weaver, No. 120 Broadway. The New York office of the company is No. 13 Astor Place.

MISTLETOE.

The mistletoe comes chiefly from Brittany. Some 700 tons of the charming white berried plant are exported from French ports yearly. This mistletoe is to the Breton what the pig is to the Irishman—it pays the rent. The peasants of Normandy and Brittany cultivate the parasite on their apple trees—contrary to popular belief, it rarely grows on oaks—and it forms their most profitable crop. A few years ago the French department of agriculture decreed the destruction of all mistletoe, on the ground that it injured the apple trees. The peasants, however, denied the impeachment, and, as the order is not enforced, they grow and export more "guy" than ever for the Christmas enlivenment of English and American homes.—Exchange.

STORY OF AN EAR OF CORN.

A Yorktown (Va.) correspondent says: "Twenty-two years ago the past spring, Mr. James Moore, a farmer living in the lower part of this county, had a son born unto him, and coincident with the child's birth the mother had previously made one of the old-fashioned shuck mattresses.

While in the process of making an ear of corn of that season's growth got into the bed, and, even though observed by the good wife, she allowed it to remain.

Says she: "When my boy shall come of age I will remove the ear of corn and plant him a crop for a start in life."

Accordingly, the last spring the twenty-first birthday arrived, and in celebration of the event the mattress was opened and the seed ear removed and consigned to Mother Earth. The crop was worked quite carefully, and the result was one of the finest crops that Mr. Moore, always a successful farmer, has ever raised.—Exchange.

THE TREASURY AND BANKS.

A brief review of the latest Treasury statement will show that funds are available for the use of the Secretary. The total Treasury surplus is something over $235,000,000, exclusive of the $150,000,000 in gold for redemption of more than double that amount in outstanding greenbacks. Of this surplus, of which the Treasury can dispose for any demand upon the Government, over $156,000,000 is on loan in national banks throughout the country. This leaves about $79,000,000 as a "working balance" in the Treasury. As the theory of the department authorities is that the Treasury has need of no more than $50,000,000 for a working balance, there would still remain about $29,000,000 or so above this necessity.

It is readily seen that the chief financial embarrassment of the Government as well as the banks is in the enormous drain of currency from the channels of business for deposit in the Treasury vaults. In other Governments, England, France and Germany, such embarrassment cannot exist for the simple reason that they prefer an occasional financial deficit, to be covered by a temporary loan, to taxation of the people beyond the absolute needs of the Government. There the banks go to the relief of the Government in cases of financial emergency. Here the Government goes to the relief of the banks. It is true that there are many national banks with large capital and deposits that care nothing for a loan of the Treasury surplus. But there are others to which the permanent loan of a million or two of Government money might be so advantageous that they would be willing to return the favor by liberal contributions to the party campaign fund for the election of a President or of Administration members of Congress.

The obvious remedy for this condition is to reduce taxation so that there will be no enormous surplus for loans to pet banks and so that the independent Treasury may normally and smoothly perform all the legitimate financial functions of the Government.—Philadelphia Record.

(ENTERED AT THE PHILADELPHIA POST-OFFICE AS SECOND CLASS MATTER.)

VOL. XVIII.—No. 39.

PHILADELPHIA, WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 30, 1903

$5.00 PER YEAR.

ARCHITECTS' NOTES

Newman & Harris, architects, have moved from the Real Estate Trust Building to large and handsome offices in the Land Title Annex Building, Broad and Sansom streets, Rooms 1527-28.

McIlvain & Roberts, architects, being cramped for room and to accommodate their increasing business, have moved from Room 1502 Land Title Building to Rooms 1517-18 Land Title Annex.

H. L. Reinhold, Jr., architect, 1002 Chestnut street, has plans in the course of preparation for interior alterations and improvements to suit the needs of office purposes, to a building on Main street, Norristown, Pa.

David Knickerbacker Boyd, architect, Harrison Building, has completed plans and specifications and sent same out for bids for interior alterations to the stairway of Mr. Saml. P. Tull's residence at St. Davids, Pa. Bids due October 2d. J. D. Lenge, M. W. Young, M. N. Croll and S. Heister are bidding.

Heacock & Hokanson, architects, 931 Chestnut street, have completed revised plans and specification and invited estimates from the original builder for the Commission Building or Town Hall to be built at Ogontz, Pa. Bids due October 5th.

Through a recent interview with Architects Paul & Seymour Davis, 907 Walnut street, we were informed that ground had not been secured for the proposed addition to St. Luke's Hospital, 338 North Broad street. That Messrs. Paul & Seymour Davis had not been selected as the architects as had been reported (but not in these columns), and that while they have made sketches, nothing is settled at present.

Adin B. Lacey, architect, 1012 Walnut street, has plans in the course of preparation for a house and stable for John Conyngham Stevens, Esq., to be built at Rydal, Pa. The house will be two-and-a-half stories high, of frame and stone and will contain all modern conveniences and appointments. The stable will also be constructed of frame and stone, and will be one-story and loft high. Will not be ready for bids for about two weeks.

Arthur Brockie, architect, 328 Chestnut street, has completed plans and specification for a new residence to be built at Ardmore avenue and Graver's Lane, Chestnut Hill, Phila., for Mr. Joshua Howell. It will be three stories high of stone, the interior will be in hardwood finish and will contain all modern improvements. F. C. Wallace, W. J. Grubler, Geo. S. Roth & Son, John Owens, Wm. R. Dougherty and Thos. Leeds, Jr., are bidding. Frank R. Hill, of the firm of Hill & Stevens, builders, at Oak Lane, is having plans prepared for two handsome residences to be built by him on Sixth street, Oak Lane, Phila. They will be two-and-a-half stories high, and will be constructed of stone with porch fronts and sides. The interior will be in hardwood finish. They will be heated by hot air, wired for electricity, tile baths and will contain every modern convenience and appointment. They are estimated to cost between $6,000 and $7,000.

Franklin Keagy, architect, 576 Philadelphia avenue, Chambersburg, Pa., has prepared plans and specifications for a substantial frame building 48x102 feet for a public hall to be erected at Mercersburg, Pa. It will contain dressing rooms in the basement, well equipped stage, fire engine room, parlor, council rooms, poll rooms, gallery, steam heat, wired for electricity, hardwood finish, town clock, galvanized iron cornices, one thousand feet of granolithic floors, etc, figured glass, etc.

Chas. Balderson, architect, 411 Walnut street, is working on plans for a 10-story manufacturing building to be built on the northeast corner of Juniper and Cherry streets, for Mr. Geo. F. Lasher. It will measure 120x150 feet, and will be constructed of brick with copper balconies, and will be fireproof. On the side it will have two tower fire escapes and will have its own heating and power plant and is designed to carry extra heavy weight, such as printing presses, etc. It will be sometime before it is ready for bids.

Rowland W. Boyle, architect, 1626 Chestnut street, has been commissioned to prepare plans for a new front building at 56 North Thirty-ninth street, for Mr. H. C. Melon. It will be three stories high, 20x30 feet, and will be built of Pompeian brick and ornamental cut stone cornices and tin roof. It will be heated by hot water and contain all modern improvements.—The same architect will send plans and specifications out this week for the janitor house to be built north of St. Patrick's parish hall, now in the course of erection. It will be three stories high, constructed of Sayer Fisher brick and Indiana limestone trimmings.

Ballinger & Perot, architects and engineers, 1200 Chestnut street, have completed plans and specification for the Carpet manufactory of Thomas L. Leedom Company at Bristol, Pa. There will be a main building 55x190 feet and will be three stories with the basement. A one-story weaving shed extension 40x87 feet, a supply house triangular in shape 50x50x68 feet, all of slow burning with the exception of one portion which will be fireproof. The following builders have been invited to bid: E. N. Ford, of Trenton, N. J.; John W. Begroot, of Bristol, Pa.; Burd P. Evans, Appleton & Burrell, A. Raymond Raff, B. Ketchem & Son and Robt. Tatham & Son, of this city. Bids due October 5th.

Isaac Pursell, architect, 119 South Fourth street, has completed plans and specifications and sent same out for bids for the new rectory for the Congregation of St. Martin P. E. Church, to be erected at Oak Lane. It will be two-and-a-half stories high, 29x32 feet, and will be built of stone and shingle. The interior will be in hardwood finish and it will contain all modern improvements. Bids due October 2d. Kendrick & Roberts, Inc., are bidding.

It is reported that the Bell Telephone Company are having plans prepared for a ten-story stone building to be erected at 1633 Arch street. Details later.

The Board of Directors of the Jewish Hospital Association is stated to have selected Furness Evans & Co., architects, 401 Chestnut street, to prepare plans for an isolating ward pavilion for contagious diseases to be erected at York and Tabor roads, which is to cost $25,000.

Peter Kuhn, architect, 1524 Sansom street, has plans in the course of preparation for a six-story factory, 58x112 feet, and an additional story on the old building, in Brooklyn, N. Y. The improvements will be of mill construction and will cost about $200,000. The exact location and owner's name withheld for the present.—The same architect has finished plans and is taking estimates for a three-story mansard roof house, 16x60 feet, to be erected on Fifth above Venango street, for William Fisher.

Chas. J. Brooke, architect, 14 S. Broad street, has been commissioned to prepare plans for a handsome colonial residence to be built at South Westville, N. J., for Mr. Henry Albrecht. It will be three stories high and will be constructed of frame and stone and will have a porch on the front and side. The interior will be in hardwood finish. It will be wired for electricity, heated by hot water, tile, baths and will have every modern appointment and convenience. Mr. Brooks has also completed plans and specification and sent same to the owner, Mr. J. Lancaster Daly, 412 Betz Building, who will take bids for an operation of 50 two-story porch front houses and 4 stores to be built at Fifty-fifth and Arch streets. They will be as follows: 23, 16x56 feet on Arch and Fifty-ninth street; 27, 15x49 feet, on Sulford and Redfield streets and 4 stores, 16x58 feet, on Arch and Fifty-ninth streets. They will be constructed of brick and will have all up-to-date improvements. This operation will cost about $150,000.

BUILDING AND REAL ESTATE NOTES

D. W. Sperry, builder, 1305 Arch street, has been awarded the contract for the erection of a two-story stone store building, 68x33 feet, at Fort Washington, Pa., for Hooper & Townsend.

St. James' M. E. Church is asking for bids for the erection of a new chapel to be built at Fifth and Ruscombe streets. Rev. S. A. Heilner, of Olney, Philadelphia, is the pastor. It will be one-story high, 43x75 feet, and will be built of frame.

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y, SEPT. 30, 1903

LIMOID.

Very few of the young men of the present time comprehend the many years that were required to evolve their comfortable underclothing.

It is difficult to understand why the knitting of cotton and wool thread and yarn into close-fitting shirts and drawers required ages to reach the present consummation.

A half century ago there were none of these garments, except the home-made kind, and, indeed, there are many old gentlemen who can tell the reader that in his early life, men lived and died who were strangers to underclothing of any kind.

Why didn't some one think of these things many years before they were first made? Why was not the steam engine, the telephone, the uses of electricity and last, but not least, the resolving of ordinary lime into a dry, strong, durable, long-keeping flour, to be used at one's pleasure to make when mixed with sand and water, a mortar of high-grade for brick and stone work thought of before.

The world's progression is the result of the earnest work of thinking men and women. A great result, when once accomplished, is bound to start on the high road of improvements, just because its inception creates higher uses.

The idea of bolting powdered lime with the self-same machinery with which flour is bolted, is as original as it is efficient.

The Charles Warner Company has reached this stage of treatment in the manufacture of its celebrated "Limoid." This enables the company to place upon the market three grades of its product, "Limoid Number 60," which is the regular building and plastering grade; "Limoid Number 100," which is more finely bolted and is specially advantageous for many of the manufacturing industries. And yet another grade, which is designated "Limoid Superfine," which is finer than the finest ground Portland Cement and as pure as is distilled water; this also has found many uses "wherein fineness and great bulk are necessary."

The demand for Limoid is not only steadily increasing, but it is now regarded as a handy adjunct, whose true value cannot be over estimated.

BUILDING AND REAL ESTATE NOTES

Chas. H. Kooker, builder, 7817 Germantown avenue, has been awarded the contract to build the one-story addition, 18x35 feet, of brick and make interior alterations to the Bethesda Baptist Church at the southwest corner of Fifth and Venango streets, at a cost of $1,500. Contract includes steam heating.

D. W. Sperry, builder, 1305 Arch street, has been awarded the contract to build the new residence on York road near Second street pike for Mr. D. D. Lewis. It will be two and a half stories high of stone and half timber (details previously stated). Plans by Heacock & Hokanson, architects, 931 Chestnut street.

Oakes & Tyas, builders, 45 North Thirteenth street, have been awarded the contract to build the bowling alley in the rear of the saloon, 851 North Fourth street, and also make interior alterations and additions for the Consumers' Brewing Company. Work will cost $4,000. Plans by Otto Wolf, architect, 1025 Arch street.

Wm. J. Grubler, builder, 77 Herman street, Germantown, has been awarded the contract to build the new stable for S. E. Norris, at Chestnut Hill, Philadelphia. It will be two stories high, of frame and stone, and will have the usual sanitary stable appointments. Plans by Arthur H. Brockie, architect, 328 Chestnut street.

Thomas Killough, builder, with an office on the grounds, has broke ground for an operation of 17 two-story houses, 16x42 feet each, to be erected on the west side of Sixty-first street between the railroad and Greenway avenue. They will be built of brick and will have all modern improvements and will cost about $25,500.

S. Casals Co., builder, Lippincott Building, have filed bids with the owner for an addition to the Owosso Manufacturing Company on Fifty-sixth street south of Woodland avenue. The addition will be three stories high 54x80 feet and will be built of brick and slow burning construction and will have slag roof. Plans by private parties.

Robert A. Patton, builder and owner, 3662 Frankford avenue, will build an operation of 24 two-story brick, porch front dwellings, each 15x42 feet, on the north and south sides of Pacific street, between Emerald and Jasper street. They will be built of brick with slag roof and contain all modern improvements. It is estimated to cost about $48,000.

Chas. Gilpin, builder, northeast corner of Fifteenth and Chestnut streets, has been awarded the contract for the new Chestnut street entrance to the Pennsylvania Building at Fifteenth and Chestnut streets. Work will consist of marble, ornamental iron, mosaic and ornamental plaster, etc. Plans by H. L. Jekel, architect, Pennsylvania Building.

Lynch Bros., Kendrick & Roberts, Inc., H. B. Shoemaker, Reynolds & Caldwell, builders, have filed bids with Watson & Huckel, architects, 1208 Chestnut street, for the first National Bank Building to be erected on Broad street, Elmer, N. J. It will be two stories high, and will be built of stone and terra-cotta and will have the usual bank furnishings.

Bids have been filed with Edgar V. Seeler, architect, Land Title Building, for the brick and pebble-dashed house to be built at Ardmore, Pa., for Mr. H. L. Cooper. It will be two-and-a-half stories high, with porch front. The interior will be in hardwood finish and will contain all modern improvements. The contract for this work will be awarded soon.

Jno. D. Lengle, builder, at Wayne, Pa., has been awarded the contract for the handsome new residence for C. C. Lister, Jr., Esq., to be built at St. Davids, Pa. It will be three stories high and will be constructed of stone and shingle and will measure 72x60 feet (details previously noted). Plans by Albert W. Dilks, architect, Mutual Life Building, this city.

The trustees of the Free Public Library, of Camden, N. J., have adopted a resolution urging City Council to comply with the conditions of Andrew Carnegie's offer of $100,000 for a library and calling attention to the length of time elapsed since the offer was made. The Library Committee will give a public hearing next Wednesday evening to advocates of the different sites.

Chas. Gilpin, builder, northeast corner of Fifteenth and Chestnut streets, has plans posted for combination station and dwelling to be built at West Laurel Hill, for the Pennsylvania Railroad Company. It will be two-and-a-half stories high, and will be built of frame and stone. It will have the usual appointments of a structure of its kind. Bids due, October 5th. Plans by the company's engineer.

Jacob Myers Son, W. W. Rea & Son, G. W. Haws, J. S. Wilson, Jesse R. Pharaoh, D. F. Comey, Burd P. Evans, Kendrick & Roberts, Inc., Wm. Steele & Son, Geo. F. Payne Co., Lewis Havens Son, have filed bids with Duhring Okie & Ziegler, architects, South Penn Square Building, for the addition to the Colonial Biscuit Company's plant at Twelfth and Brown streets. It will be four stories high of brick and slow burning construction. It will have tower fire escape and all modern improvements.

G. W. & J. M. Zane, operator builder, office 2200 North Twenty-second street, will erect an operation of 33 two-story dwellings and two two-story stores on the site of the old Dingee brickyard, at Twenty-fourth and Cumberland streets. The houses will be as follows: Fifteen on the north side of Hagert street, between Twenty-fourth and Twenty-fifth streets, to measure 15x46 feet; two stores, each 16x55 feet, on the north side of Hagert street at the corners of Twenty-fourth and Twenty-fifth streets; six houses, each 15x53 feet, on the south side of Cumberland street between Twenty-fourth and Twenty-fifth streets; six houses, each 16x46 feet, on the east side of Twenty-fifth street, south of Cumberland street. All to be built of brick with modern improvements. This operation will cost about $143,000. Work will start at once.

The Tubular Heating and Ventilating Company, Philadelphia, Pa.

Dear Sir:—In sending you the inclosed check, to cover the small balance due you on account of extras, we take the opportunity to say that the two No. 6 Forbes Heaters purchased from you last fall have given the fullest satisfaction in every particular. They are in use in the "Madrid," a small apartment house in this city, containing twenty rooms that are heated by them, and we have found that they not only furnish plenty of heat, but did it with a very satisfactory coal bill. The fuel used was soft lump coal for the first fire in the morning but the rest of the day only slack from soft coal was used, costing $2.50 per ton. We think the heaters a great success and do not see how you can improve upon them.

Very truly, etc.,

ARCHITECTS' NOTES.

Emil Hartman, architect, 512 Walnut street, is preparing plans for a new brewery for Samuel Hyde, to be built at Fall River, Mass. The main building will be five stories high, 8,400 feet, and will be built of brick and slow burning.

Albert W. Dilks, architect, Mutual Life Building, has completed plans and specifications for alterations and additions to the summer residence of H. M. Rolin, Esq., at Spring Lake Beach, Monmouth county, N. J., and sent same to owner who will take bids.

Philip Johnson, architect, has moved from the Fidelity Mutual Building to Rooms 1824-25 Land Title Annex, Broad and Sansom streets. He has prepared plans and specifications and sent same out, to builders for estimates for alterations to the front of 2010 Pine street, for Mr. Chas. Hall.

G. W. & W. D. Hewitt, architects, Bullitt Building, plans will be ready for bids in about one week's time for the new plant of John Frishmuth Bros., at Sixteenth and Lehigh and Glenwood avenues. The plant will consist of a group of five buildings, from one to five stories high (details previously noted).

Angus S. Wade, architect, 1626 Chestnut street, has completed plans and specifications and sent same to the owner, Mr. A. Pomerantz, who is taking bids for alterations and additions to 22 South Fifteenth street. The following builders will submit estimates: Doyle & Doak, John Gill & Co., Chas. Gilpin, B. Ketchum & Son.

The College of Physicians, now at northeast corner of Thirteenth and Locust streets, have purchased a site at Twenty-second and Ludlow streets on which it is proposed to erect a new building for the college. A meeting of the Board of Directors will be held on November 1st, when the matter of a new building will be taken up.

Architect E. L. Rice, of Wilmington, Del., won the first prize of $250; Lacey & Hays, of 1012 Walnut street, the second prize of $100, and Hale & Morse, of the Drexel Building, of this city, won the third prize of $100, in the competition for the new Y. M. C. A. to be built at Wilmington, Del. (details of this building fully described in our previous issue).

Architect A. A. Ritcher, Lebanon, Pa., is preparing plans for a number of dwellings to be erected on The Heights, owned by Mr. H. H. Light. Between the present time and next spring it is expected that twenty or thirty dwellings will be erected in addition to those already building. The plans prepared by Architect Ritcher call for dwellings with fine interior finish and all modern conveniences.

Ralph White & Co., architects and engineers, Pennsylvania Building, have completed plans and specifications for altering the property at 1417 Filbert street, into a restaurant for Mr. A. Wheaton. Plans provide for the altering of the interior to suit the needs of a first-class cafe, and making minor changes in the basement. Bids due October 9th. P. J. Hurley is bidding.

Dr. Lawrence F. Flick, of 732 Pine street, reports that Mr. Henry Phipps, of New York, has the matter in charge for the proposed new hospital and home for the treatment of tuberculosis, and that a firm of New York architects have been commissioned to prepare preliminary sketches. At present the institute is at 238 Pine street, this city, and in a short time a site will be selected, and work on the new building will proceed at once.

Peter Kuhn, architect and engineer, 1524 Sansom street, has completed plans and specifications for two stores and 6 houses to be built at Seventeenth and Lehigh avenue, for Jno. Loughran, operator builder. The stores will be three stories high, 16x57 feet. The house will also be three stories high, with porch front and will measure 14x56 feet. They will be built of Pompeian brick and will contain every modern and up-to-date improvement. The owner will take subbids.

W. L. Plack, architect, 1403 Filbert street, has completed plans for a handsome Italian villa to be built at Fall Creek, Pa., for Mr. G. A. Gocella. It will be two stories with a finished attic and will measure 63x45 feet, and will be built of stone with a slate roof. It will have a covered porch, a porte cochere. It will have hardwood on the interior and will be heated by natural gas radiators, wired for electricity and pipe for gas. High-grade plumbing and will contain 3 tiled bathrooms and will have every modern convenience. It will cost about $20,000. The owner will take subbids.

Mellvaine & Roberts, architects, Land Title Annex, have completed plans and specifications and sent same out to builders for estimates for the handsome new residence for Mr. George Peterson, to be built at Ardmore, Pa. It will be three stories high, 34x46 feet, and will be built of stone. It will have a porch on front, the interior will be in hardwood finish and will contain 4 tiled bathrooms and every modern convenience. Bids due October 12. The following builders have been invited to bid: F. T. Maguire, of this city; Grey Bros., of Rosemont, Pa., and F. T. Mahan, of Ardmore, Pa.

BUILDING AND REAL ESTATE NOTES

Henderson & Co., builders, Heed Building, have been awarded the contract for an oil tank house to be built at Marcus Hook (details previously noted).

Geo. Hay, builder, has been awarded the contract to build the new residence at Pelham, Phila., for Wm. Kohl. It will be two-and-a-half stories high, of frame and stone, and will measure 68x38 feet. It will contain 12 rooms and two baths and will have every modern convenience and appointment. Plans and specifications were prepared by David Knickerbocker Boyd, architect, Harrison Building.

James J. Ryan, Henry Reeves, Franklin M. Harris, George Watson, John S. Stevens and John Atkinson have been elected by the Master Builders' Exchange as delegates, and J. Little, Wm. Albertson, Thos. F. Armstrong, John R. Wiggins and Jno. D. Carlisle, as alternates to attend the meeting at Scranton, Pa., on January 13 and 14, for the formation of a State Builders' Exchange.

Burd P. Evans, builder, 706 North Ninth street, has been awarded the contract for the Allison Memorial Chapel to be built at Sixty-third and Girard avenue. It will be two stories high, 104x57 feet, and will be built of stone. It will contain Sunday-school room, library and pastor's study and will have all the up-to-date church furnishings. Plans and specifications were prepared by Stearns & Castor, architects, Stephen Girard Building.

Linley Johnson, architect, Harrison Building, has awarded the contract to Howard D. Folkenson, builder, of Easton, Pa., for the power-house, superintendent's cottage, two infirmaries and domestic building for the Sanitarium at White Haven, Pa. Contract price $33,522.92, according to plans and specifications prepared by him. The work to be completed in 7 months. The heating and electric lighting awarded to Dr. Drysdale, Hale Building, this city, and not included in above contract.

H. B. Shoemaker & Co., builders, 17 North Nineteenth street, have been awarded the contract to construct concrete footway tunnels under the Philadelphia & Reading tracks at Jenkintown, Pa., for the above company. They have also been awarded the contract for interior alterations to 328 Hansbury street, Germantown. Work will consist of interior improvements and minor alterations. Work on both of the above structures will proceed at once. The former must be finished by January 1, 1904.

Wm. Steele & Sons, builders, 1600 Arch street, have been awarded the contract to build the three-story brick warehouse and large one-story brick power-house for the Western Electric Company, at the southwest corner of York and Eleventh streets. The work will cost $118,000 and will proceed at once. They have also plans posted and request subbids on the following: A machine and smith shop, storeroom and men's room, boiler and engine house, oil house, fan house and water-closet, lumber shed, planing mill, store house and office building, coal wharf, trestle and sand house, ash and inspection pits and stack and crane runway, to be erected at Hollidaysburg, Pa., for the Pennsylvania Railroad Company. They will be built of brick and frame. Bids due October 15th.

BUILDING AND REAL ESTATE NOTES

F. L. Hoover & Sons, Inc., and Armstrong & Latta, builders, have filed bids for the coal-gas station to be built at Bridgeport, Pa., for the Philadelphia & Reading Railway Company. P. J. Hurley, builder, 1216 Chancellor street, has plans posted for alterations and additions to the residence of Mr. J. B. Caruth, at the northeast corner of Sixteenth and Spring Garden streets.

Armstrong & Latta, builders, Land Title Building, have submitted bids for restaurant building for the Greenwich shops of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company. It will be one-story high, of frame and galvanized iron.

H. Marion Zane, builder, has moved his office from the Hale Building to 314 North Fifteenth street. This move was necessary owing to him being cramped for room. Mr. H. M. Zane has the entire building of the above address. Armstrong & Latta, contractors, Land Title Building, have plans posted for the one-story frame interlocking signal tower, 12x40 feet, to be built at Harrisburg, Pa., for the Philadelphia & Reading Railway. Bids due October 10th.

F. L. Hoover & Sons, Inc., builders, 620 Chestnut street, have filed bids for office building and stable to be built at 925 Newmarket street. It will be one-story high and will be built of brick and slow burning construction, for Messrs. Geo. W. Kugler & Son.

Wm. D. Laverell, builder, 1730 North Uber street, has been awarded the contract for interior improvements to the office building of Lautz Bros. & Co., at 13 South Front street, according to plans prepared by Wm. Chas. Hays, architect, 1012 Walnut street.

H. B. Shoemaker, Reynolds & Caldwell and F. T. Maguire, builders, have filed bids with Architects Watson & Huckel, 1208 Chestnut street, according to revised plans prepared by them for the laundry building for the Convent of House of Good Shepherd, at Chew street, Germantown.

Harry Kates, builder, of Willow Grove, has been awarded the contract for the new public school to be built at Bethayers, Pa. It will be three stories high, of stone and will contain all the appointments of a building of its kind. Plans by Chas. W. Bolton, architect, Witherspoon Building, Phila.

John H. Jordan, Philip Haibach, E. H. Sturis, John Dettels, H. B. Shoemaker & Co., William D. Mensing, E. C. Abalom & Co., and Jesse Pharoah have submitted bids for the three-story building to be erected at 2930 Ridge avenue, according to plans and specifications prepared by Carl P. Berger, architect, South Penn Square Building.

Frank S. Riggs, builder, 610 Chestnut street, has been awarded the contract to build the Monmouth Hotel at Spring Lake, N. J. It will be five stories high, 350x102 feet, and will be built of brick and stone and will contain all modern improvements (details previously noted). Plans and specifications by Watson & Huckel, architects, 1208 Chestnut street.

J. P. Thompson, builder, 1432 South Penn Square, has been awarded the contract for general repairs to the fire-damaged building on the west side of American above Brown street, for the Sterilaqua Water Company. The work will cost $20,000. Plans and specifications were prepared by Philip H. Johnson, architect and engineer, Land Title Building.

THROUGH PENNSYLVANIA

—At Bradford, McKean county, a part of East Main street will be paved at a cost of $26,293.

—At York, York county, negotiations are under way for a trolley line between York and Wrightsville.

—At Gap, Lancaster county, it is said that a ten-mile macadamized road will be constructed from Gap to Cambridge.

DEAR SIR:

I Will Contract

to heat your residence, however large or small, with HOT WATER, and file a Trust Company's bond for ten times the cost, the same to be forfeited if I fail in any direction.

This means that there shall be more than enough radiation at the smallest possible cost for coal. No leaks, no mistakes, no annoyances of any kind. The boiler to be of the best make.

The responsibility all mine, and the cost no greater because of good work and material.

—At Allentown, Lehigh county, it is said that a new industry will be established at Allentown, for the manufacture of cast-iron enamel bathtubs and other enamel ware, as well as a general line of plumbers' supplies. Secretary Weidner, of the Board of Trade, has announced that Mr. W. W. Wilson is the person interested in the plant. Mr. Wilson is now looking for a suitable site in Allentown on which to erect the necessary building.

—At Chester, Delaware county, the building occupied for some years by the First National Bank, No. 408 Market street, has been bought by the Pennsylvania National Bank, which will occupy the new place of business about the first of November.—The Snyder farm in Lancaster county, which has been bought as a site for a country club. It is situated about a mile from Chester and contains about sixty-five acres of ground with a frontage of some distance on the Providence road and touches the Chester and Springfield roads. Messrs Henry P. Dixon and David K. Martin, of Lancaster, have been chosen to have taken title to the property. Another meeting of the projectors of the club will be held in a few days at which time definite action will be taken as to new buildings, improvements, etc.

—Ground was broken on Saturday, October 3d, for the new Sunday-school addition to the First Church in Chester. The new building part will be well finished and will be provided with modern conveniences.

THROUGH NEW JERSEY.

At Plainfield, Union county, it is said that plans are in course of preparation for a high school.

At Dover, Morris county, the Morris County Traction Company will extend its lines from Dover to Morristown.

At Cape May, Cape May county, Mr. George W. Boyd has bought a lot at Beach and Pittsburg avenues and will erect a brick and stone dwelling to be thoroughly equipped with all modern conveniences.

At Paterson, Passaic county, Architect William S. Ackerman has prepared plans for a five-story brick and stone structure to be fitted up for hotel purposes. The owner is Captain Charles Curie, of Paterson.

At Princeton, Mercer county, Marie F. Coddington, of New Castle, Me., will erect a handsome dwelling on Elm street, Princeton. The contract has been awarded to William Matthews, of Princeton, for $19,070.

At Carteret, Middlesex county, Benjamin Moore & Son, the paint manufacturers, have under consideration the erection of a large plant at Carteret. The present plant of the company is situated on Water street, Buffalo, N. Y.

At Trenton, it is stated that a favorable report has been made by Engineer Rudolph Hering, of New York City, and Charles A. Hague, also of New York City, in regard to the Asylum trunk sewer. A thirty-six-inch pipe is proposed.

At Camden, at a recent meeting of the Library Committee of Camden City Council, a resolution was adopted to turn over to the Board of Trustees of the Free Public Library $15,000 for the purchase of the Dialogue site for the Free Public Library.

At Hackensack, Bergen county, the Union School Building will be enlarged by the erection of an addition to cost $15,500. The contract has been awarded to George Collins, of Stanley Place, Hackensack. The new structure will be well finished throughout and provided with all modern conveniences.

At Jersey City, the Board of Education has appropriated $85,000 for the erection of a new high school.—The North Jersey Street Railway Company has bought ground on the Hackensack Meadows west of the old Catholic Cemetery in Jersey City, and it is said that the Public Service Corporation of New Jersey, will erect a large power-house on the site.

At Newark, it is said that the Lidergood Manufacturing Company, 94 Liberty street, New York City, has decided to defer the construction of the proposed machine and erecting shops at Newark. The foundry and powerhouse will be erected at once and bids for these buildings are now being received. The specifications for the equipment of these buildings have not been issued yet.

At Asbury Park, Monmouth county, at the last meeting of Council it was decided to issue bonds for the erection of a new fire house and to buy a new fire engine. Bonds will be issued to the amount of $12,000.—Work will begin shortly on improving Kingsley street and Eighth avenue. The ordinance to improve Fourth avenue has passed first reading.—

Architects William C. & Arthur F. Cottrell are preparing plans for extensive improvements to the Hotel Bristol at Fourth and Ocean avenues. The hotel will be extended thirty-six feet on Fourth avenue and seventy-six feet in the rear in the shape of an L. The whole will be remodeled and all modern conveniences will be provided. New plumbing, fixtures, etc., will be added as well as about fifty new bedrooms en suite; also a number of new and handsomely equipped bathrooms, enlarged dining-room, reception-room and an entire new kitchen, pantries, range, etc. The estimated cost of these improvements is about $25,000.—The committee in charge of erecting sites for the new Baptist Church has been inspecting the large lot at Sewell avenue and Emory street, formerly occupied by Harry Morford's stable. The location of the new church will be decided upon at a meeting of the members of the congregation to be held October toth.—Architects W. C. & A. F. Cottrell have prepared plans for a handsome cottage to be erected at Seventh avenue and Webb street, for Mrs. F. F. Wilson. It will be of brick and stained shingles, fine interior finish, tile, open plumbing, ornamental glass, finely equipped bathrooms, modern conveniences.

At Allenhurst, Monmouth county, estimates are being made on the extensive improvements to be made to the Curlew Hotel and cottages at Allenhurst, on which work is to begin about November 1st, 1904. The front of the Curlew will be improved and seven new rooms with finely finished and equipped baths will be added also a beautiful porte cochere. The interior will be enlarged and finely decorated, new parlors and writing-rooms, new sun parlors and private office, also new elevators in office. The present dining-room will be turned into an old Dutch lounging room, with leather bound chairs and couches and handsome rugs of German design. The new dining-room will extend seventy-eight feet east and will be forty feet wide, to be furnished in Colonial style. The music-room will occupy the space between the lounging-room and the dining-room. There will be a private dining-room, a nurses' hall and other conveniences. The pantries and kitchen will be enlarged and in the basement will be located a cold storage plant and game boxes. The basement will also contain the billiard and poolroom, bowling alleys and children's play room. The new dining-room will be located thirty new bedrooms, each room will be located thirty new bedrooms, each bathroom to have hot and cold sea water; also fresh water. The interior will be finished in white enamel with cherry trimmings and there will be a three hundred-foot porch with electric lights, new toilet and lavatories on each floor and there will be a handsome barber shop. The cottages will be improved and re-furnished and decorated and all improvements will be provided. The grounds are to be put in the hands of a competent landscape gardener and they will be brilliantly lighted with electricity, each drive to have an arc light. The tower on the top of the hill will be lighted and many other improvements made. The new house one of the finest on the coast. Mr. Hammond will occupy one of the cottages all winter and will superintend the work of improvement.

At Newark, Mr. Joseph H Gay will erect

GENTLEMEN:—One year ago I had my old heater removed and a Forbes put into its place. I found a very great difference, all in favor of the Forbes. It produces much more heat, while its coal consuming capacity is not as great. Besides these improvements over the old one, I find it to be so much more easily attended to. I know no heater on the market that is the equal of Forbes'.

AMERICAN TIN PLATE CO., Battery Park Bldg., New York.

a brick church to be erected for the congregation of the Immaculate Heart of Mary. It will occupy a site of Brereton avenue and will cost $100,000.

At Dayton, Ohio, plans have been prepared by Architect F. M. Andrews for a ten-story hotel to be erected for the Sellsback Realty Company. It will be 135x135 feet, fine interior finish, all modern conveniences. The estimated cost is about $1,000,000.

At Brooklyn, N. Y., it is stated that the Bedford Branch of the Brooklyn Y. M. C. A. has had preliminary plans drawn by Jackson & Rosenkraus, 31 Union Square, New York City, for a building to be erected at Monroe street and Bedford avenue, at a cost of $250,000.

At Columbia, S. C., it is said that bids will be received November 1, 1903, by the Building Committee of St. Peter's Roman Catholic Church, for the erection of a new church to cost about $40,000, and for which plans have been prepared by Architect Frank P. Milburn, of Columbia.

At Boston, Mass., the Walker & Roger Buildings of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Boyston street, will be connected by a two-story brick building, 97x48 feet, for which plans have been prepared by Architects Rand & Skinner, 336 Boyston street. The estimated cost is about $35,000.

At West Point, N. Y., it is said that nothing will be done in regard to the central heating plant for the United States Military Academy for some time, as little can be done until the architects decide upon the size and location of the proposed buildings. Henry C. Meyer, Jr., 114 Liberty street, New York City, will design and superintend the construction of the plant.

At Cleveland, Ohio, the plans for the large sixteen-story office building to be erected by John D. Rockefeller at Superior and Bank streets have been prepared by Architects Knox & Elliott, Mercantile Building, Cleveland. It will have fine interior finish, tile work, open plumbing, elevators, steam heat and all modern conveniences. The estimated cost is about $750,000.

At Worcester, Mass., plans have been prepared by Geo S. Clemens, 405 Main street, for a brick dwelling to be erected for Mr. A. P. Christy. A stable will also be erected. The cost of both will be about $28,000.

At Columbus, O., the proposed Carnegie Library will be erected from plans prepared by Architect Albert Randolph Ross, 542 Fifth avenue, New York City. Bids are now being received for the erection of the building.

At New York City, Architect F. A. Minuth, 280 Fourth avenue, has been chosen in competition as the architect for the new clubhouse which the Workmen's Educational Association of 206 East Eighty-sixth street, will erect on the north side of Eighty-fourth street, west of second avenue. The new structure will be a five-story and basement building, of fireproof construction, of stone, brick and terra-cotta with metal cornices. It will contain two electric elevators, bowling alleys, kitchens, storerooms, refrigerators, dressing-rooms for servants, restaurant, billiard-rooms and gymnasium, two school-rooms and a library; also four assembly-rooms, ladies' parlors, large hall with stage and a roof with a garden and promenade. The final plans have been stated by the architect and will be ready for estimates in four or five weeks. The estimated cost is about $125,000.—The Spencer Realty Company, 35 Nassau street, composed of Robert S. Finney, Charles H. Easton, William Robert and Stewart B. Matthews, Andrew M. Clute and E. De P. Livingston, will build a twelve-and-a-half-story apartment house at a cost of $750,000, on a plot 112.1x106.8x110.1x110.5 at the southeast corner of Broadway and Sixty-ninth street, which they have just purchased with a building loan of $500,000 from the United States Realty and Construction Company. Muliken & Moeller, 7 East Forty-second street, will draw the plans, which will call for three apartments on a floor.

WEALTH AND THE MAN

Wealth is but relative. A million now is as but $100,000 a hundred years ago. And then in this land was a group of landed aristocracy, an oligarchy of slave-owners, a class above the mass who, like Dr. Hillis' pampered sons and daughters of to-day, still sought the primrose path. Poor old human nature! It is much the same the world over day in, day out. God isn't trying the American people especially. Rather do we believe that the same natural laws work now as hitherto. If you eat too much your head aches. If you drink too much you suffer of various diseases and are likely to die as a whiff of smoke disappears in thin air. If you run the automobile against a tree you are likely to split your head. If you travel too fast a life you are likely to collide with eternal things. The early ripe and the early rotten are waste by-products of life. Man goes on digging, delving, doing things. Such a man of wealth as Peter Cooper Hewitt, who, instead of swelling around in a yacht loaded with champagne, puts his time into inventing such marvelous things as the mercury lamp, the electric interrupter and the electric converter, is a signal example that there are men and men, thank God!—Leviatown (Me.) Journal.

VOL. XVIII.—No. 41.

PHILADELPHIA, WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 14, 1903.

$5.00 PER YEAR.

ARCHITECTS' NOTES.

Wm. Bretherick, architect, 905 Walnut street, has completed plans and is taking bids for a new residence for Mr. Harry G. Glenn, to be built at Observatory Hill, Pa. It will be three stories high, of brick and frame and will contain all modern improvements.

Ballinger & Perrot, architects and engineers, 1200 Chestnut street, are working on plans and specifications for a new heating plant, new roofing and addition, and new bathroom for the mansion purchased by Eldridge R. Johnson, at Merion, Pa. Will be ready for bids soon.

Fields & Medary, architects, 1414 South Penn Square, are making preliminary plans for a handsome new residence to be built at "Fox Hill," Villa Nova, Pa., for Mrs. Mabel R. Morrison. Also working on plans for a new cottage to be built at Cape May, N. J., for Mr. Wm. M. Field.

Albert Kelsey, architect, 931 Chestnut street, is preparing plans for a two-story building, 60 x 80 feet, for the National Cash Register Company, of Dayton, O., to be erected in the Model City, at the St. Louis Exposition at St. Louis, Mo. Also for a railway station at the same place for the City of Atlanta, Ga.

C. E. Schermerhorn, architect, 430 Walnut street, has completed plans and is taking estimates for alterations and improvements to residence at 916 South Forty-seventh street. The work will consist of new bathroom and fixtures, tile work, a kitchen and laundry, open fire places, electric wiring and interior woodwork.

Steps are being taken to secure an appropriation from Councils of $500,000 for the erection of a Manual Training School for Boys and a Commercial High School for Girls, at Broad and Jackson streets, which is to cost $500,000.

Peter Kuhn, architect, 1520 Sansom street, is working on plans for 11 houses and three stores to be built on Eighteenth and Nineteenth, Huntingdon and Glenwood avenue, for John Loughran, operative builder. They will be 16 feet front and will be L shape and struted of brick with all modern improvements. The owner will take bids.

Ballinger & Perrot, architects and engineers, 1200 Chestnut street, are working on plans and specifications for a handsome new edifice for the St. Anthony R. C. Congregation, to be erected at Atlanta, Ga. The building will be of granite and will measure about 55x110 feet, and will cost about $50,000. Bids will not be taken on this work until next spring.

A number of architects have been invited to prepare plans in competition for the handsome new high school to be built at Reading, Pa., at a cost of $200,000. It will be a stone structure and will be modern in its appointments. All plans are to be in the hands of Mr. Rowland, Secretary of the Board of Education, Reading, Pa., by October 25th. Among those that will submit plans are Seymour & Paul Davis and Hale & Morse, Jacob Naschold, of this city.

Milligan & Webber, architects, 520 Walnut street, have prepared plans and specifications for a $110,000 apartment house for the Hamilton Apartment Company, to be built at Hamilton Terrace, West Main street, Norristown, Pa. It will be a five-story building, 200x60 feet, and will be built of red brick and terra-cotta. It will have all the up-to-date appointments of a building of its kind.

Savery & Scheetz, architects, Stephen Girard Building, have completed plans and specifications and sent same out to builders for estimates for a stable and coachman's house for Mr. Walter J. Crowter, to be erected at Mt. Airy, Phila. It will be two stories high, 41x29 feet, and will be built of brick and shingle. The following builders have been invited to bid: Alex Brownlee, Geo. A. Sober, W. J. Gruhler and Fred. Elvidge. Bids due October 20th.

The firm of Herbert D. Hale and Henry G. Morse, associate architects, 1075 Drexel Building, had their plans accepted in competition in which 15 architects were engaged, for the handsome new high school to be erected at Plainfield, N. J. The structure will be constructed of brick and stone and will be one of the handsomest high schools in the State and will cost $105,000. Hartwell, Richards & Triver, of Boston, won second prize; Marchant & Haskell, of New York, 3d prize.

Adin B. Lacey, architect, 1012 Walnut street, has completed plans and specifications and sent same out to builders for estimates for the house and stable to be built at Rydal, Pa., for John Conyngham Stevens, Esq. The house will be two-and-a-half stories high, of frame and stone. The stable will be one-story and loft high, also constructed of frame and stone (details previously noted). The following builders have been invited to bid: Wm. Morrow, E. D. Lever, Jr., J. T. & W. H. Dagney, D. W. Sperry and Frank E. Wallace. Bids due October 19.

Cope & Stewardson, architects, 320 Walnut street, have completed plans for an extension to the dormitory of the University of Pennsylvania to be erected on the south side of Spruce below Thirty-ninth street. It will be three-stories high, of brick and Indiana limestone, and will measure 75x38 feet, conforming as nearly as possible to the present dormitories. There will be 10 rooms to a floor, and will have communicating doors with the main building. The following architects have been invited to bid: Doyle & Doak, Wells Bros. & Co., W. R. Dougherty, Cramp & Co., Stacey Reeves & Son, Thos. Little & Son, J. E. & A. L. Pennock, The Chas. McCaul Company and Chas. Gilpin. Bids due October 19.

Architect, E. L. Rice, Jr., Wilmington, Del., has prepared plans for the new market house to be erected at Eighth and Orange streets, Wilmington, on the site of the building destroyed by fire sometime since. The new structure will be two stories high. The first floor will be fitted up for business purposes and there will be two or three stores in the western end of the building. The first floor will be of cement. The market house proper will occupy the space between Orange street and the stores. The second floor will be fitted up for offices and light manufacturing purposes. The interior will be well finished and will be provided with the usual modern conveniences. The contract will be awarded at once. The Farmers' Market Company, owners.

BUILDING AND REAL ESTATE NOTES

Wm. Kohl, builder, East Washington Lane, Germantown, has been awarded the contract to build a new residence at Mower south of Carpenter street, Germantown. It will be three stories high, 34x42 feet, with a rear part, 16x20 feet. It will be constructed of brick and stone and will contain all up-to-date improvements and will cost about $10,000.

F. L. Hoover & Sons, Inc., builders, 629 Chestnut street, have filed bid with Chief Hunter, of the Philadelphia & Reading Railway, for a new passenger station to be built at Telford, Pa., on the Bethlehem Branch of the Reading Railway. It will be one-story high, 51x22 feet, and will be built of stone and brick, with slate roof and all the station appointments.

M. E. Hauser, builder, Glenside, Pa., has been awarded the contract to build the town hall or commissioners' house for Cheltenham township, at Ogontz, Pa. It will be two stories and basement high and will measure 32x35 feet, and will be built of stone (details full described in one of our recent issues). Plans and specifications were prepared by Heacock & Hokanson, architects, 931 Chestnut street.

F. T. Maguire, builder, 1724 Sansom street, has been awarded the contract to build the dormitory and laundry building for the House of Good Shepherd, on Chew street, Germantown. It will be three stories high, of stone, and will contain the usual up-to-date appointments (details previously noted). It will cost $35,000. Plans by Watson & Huckel, architects, 1210 Chestnut street. Work will proceed at once.

Burd P. Evans, builder, 706 North Ninth street, has been awarded the contract to build the new plant at Bristol, Pa., for the Thomas L. Leedom Company. The main building will be 55x190 feet, and three stories high. There will be a one-story weaving shed extension 40x87 feet, and a supply house, triangular in shape, 50x50x68 feet, all of slow burning construction, with the exception of one portion, which will be fireproof. It will cost about $37,000. Plans and specifications by Ballinger & Perrot, architects and Engineers, 1200 Chestnut street.

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y, OCT. 14, 1903

ROOFING FOR THE PHILIPPINES

On April 30, 1903, the War Department asked for bids for 11,120 rolls of roofing paper and on July 7, 1903, for 2,900 rolls, each to contain 216 square feet, the same to be used on the army buildings in the Philippines. After a spirited contest, in which price and quality were both important factors, the award was made to the H. W. Jones Manville Company, 100 William street, New York. The first contract for 11,120 rolls was completed within 30 days after the order was given, while it took less than ten days to fill the second order of 2,900 rolls.

As a matter of fact this promptness in filling such a large order as the first has scarcely a parallel in the manufacturing interests of the country and it emphasizes the magnificent resources of the Johns-Manville Company.

That the Johns-Manville people are disposed to celebrate this important victory is but national and in keeping with that idea they are mailing to their friends an elaborate, highly-colored folder, representing Uncle Samuel in his easy office chair, solemnly and seriously listening to the claims of the many competitors and wisely considering the merits of the many samples before him, while another view shows him a few months later pointing to the report of the test made by the Government experts and announcing that the orders have been awarded to H. W. Johns-Manville Company.

BUILDING AND REAL ESTATE NOTES

Bids submitted to Admiral Endicott for the officers' quarters at League Island, Phila., were too high. Revised plans and specifications will be prepared and new bids invited.

GENTLEMEN:—As to No. 3 Heater placed in my home last fall, beg to say has given very good satisfaction indeed. In fact we use no more coal than we previously used with three stoves before placing your heater. As we had considerable sickness through the winter, found the heat healthy, there being no escape of gas. You will kindly understand we live in a corner seven-roomed house, and while I know nothing about heaters, I will but add it is very satisfactory indeed. Believe me to be,

Sincerely yours

THE SPEED ON RAILROADS.

Through a Chicago newspaper we learn of a series of experiments just completed by the Pennsylvania Railroad over a selected portion of its track in the West, to test the limit of speed attainable by a modern passenger train. There is a belief that a speed of one hundred miles per hour is attainable under favorable circumstances by high-class engines, and many high speed enthusiasts have confidently predicted the time when express trains would run over select pieces of road at that rate of speed.

These experiments by the Pennsylvania seem to show conclusively that such a rate of speed is not possible under present conditions. The experiment was made with one of the fastest locomotives owned by the company, and under the most favorable circumstances. A stretch of track twenty-five miles long, in perfect physical condition, and with a slightly descending grade, was chosen, with the last mile a dead level track. Under these very favorable conditions the highest speed attained was, at the rate of 95.1 miles per hour.

A chronograph of great accuracy was used, the track being equipped with electric circuit breakers, connected with a recording apparatus, spaced by steel tape measurements. The trial began with the engine hauling eight coaches, and running the entire twenty-five miles down grade to attain the highest possible speed before the recording apparatus was reached.

As each failure to attain a speed of 100 miles an hour was recorded, one coach was cut off from the train, and the attempt renewed. This plan was continued until only the engine was left, and then the highest speed reached only during the experiments was attained, namely 95.1.

From these carefully conducted experiments it is very safe to conclude that the reports sometimes heard of, where engines are said or believed to have been driven at the rate of one hundred miles an hour, have been either intentionally or unintentionally misleading. Here was a test made under the most favorable circumstances. There are no faster engines than those owned by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company. There are no better railroad tracks than those it puts down, and no more skillful engineers. Therefore, until locomotive builders shall learn how to turn out fleetier engines than they are making now, the track layers be able to put down swifter tracks than any we have now, and more skillful engineers shall persuade steam to do its work more expeditiously than at present, we may fairly conclude that no train of cars has ever been sped over a mile of railroad track faster than 95.1 miles an hour.

ARCHITECTS' NOTES

It is reported that Hudson Vaughn, architect, Law Building, Atlantic City, N. J., has prepared plans for the remodeling of Young's Pier, at that city, and the building of a theatre on this pier to face the Boardwalk.

H. L. Reithold, Jr., architect, 1202 Chestnut street, is working on plans for a stable and carriage house to be built at Ardmore, Pa., for Mr. S. S. Eyeland. It will be two stories high, of frame and stone and will have the usual sanitary stable appointments.

Plans have been finished for the rebuilding of the plant of the General Chemical Company on the east bank of Cooper's Creek, between State street and River road, recently destroyed by fire and is now ready for bids on the erection. Work on these new structures will start at once.

Newman & Harris, architects, Land Title Building, are working on plans for new residence to be built at Greenwich, Conn., for Mr. Wm. Corrington, Esq. It will be three stories high, of brick and plaster, and will measure 120x75 feet, and will be in the English farmhouse style with a courtyard. Further details later.

Edwin F. Durang, architect, 1200 Chestnut street, has completed plans and sent same out to builders for estimates for the four-story stone addition to the Trinity College at Washington, D. C. (details previously noted), which is to cost $75,000 to $80,000. W. J. McShain, of this city, is bidding. Bids due October 28.

Harry Macomb, architect, Real Estate Building, has completed plans and specifications for a number of twin houses to be built at Wildwood, N. J., for Builder Isador Green, of Camden, N. J. They will be three stories high, 35x60 feet, and will be constructed of frame. They will have a porch on front and will have all modern improvements. Mr. Green will take sub-bids for the erection of these houses.

Duhring, Okie & Ziegler, architects, South Penn Square Building, have been commissioned to prepare plans for a new residence to be built at Jenkintown, Pa. It will be three stories high, of frame and stone and will contain all up-to-date improvements. The following builders have been invited to bid: John Owens, M. E. Hauser, Davies & Sons, Harry Gill, H. Brockelhurst and Frank E. Wallace. Bids due October 27.

C. J. Brooke, architect, 14 South Broad street, has completed plans and specifications for two handsome residences and two stables, to be erected at Moorestown, N. J. (The owner's name withheld for the present.) The residences will be 3 stories high, 37x34 feet, and will be constructed of frame and stone. One of the houses will have a porch on the front and an open veranda; the other one a porch on three sides. The interior will be in hardwood finish with open fireplaces, tile baths, heated by hot water, wired for electricity and every modern appointment and convenience. The stables will be two stories high, also of frame and stone and will measure 20x30 feet, and will have all the up-to-date sanitary stable appointments.

Collins & Autenreith, architects, 410 Walnut street, have completed plans and specifications for a new five-story and basement store and light manufacturing building for Mr. H. C. Lea, to be built at 19-21-23 South Second street. It will be constructed of brick and stone with fireproof floors and will measure 62x112 feet. It will have tower fire escape and all modern improvements. Bids due October 26. Stacey Reeves & Sons are bidding.

M. H. Dickenson, 2d, architect and engineer, Land Title Annex, will send plans out the latter part of this week for bids for a handsome new residence to be built at Forty-sixth and Spruce streets. It will be three stories high, 38x49 feet, and will be built of Flemish black header bricks. The interior will be in hardwood finish, it will be wired for electricity, heated by steam, best plumbing, tile baths and every improvement and convenience.

Arthur Brookie, architect, 328 Chestnut street, has completed plans and specifications and sent same out to builders for estimates for a handsome Colonial residence to be built at Villa Nova, Pa., for Thos. E. Baird, Jr., Esq. It will be two-and-a-half stories high and will be L shape, measuring 55x70 feet, and constructed of stone and will have every modern convenience. Bids due October 28. The following are bidding: J. D. Lengle, of Wayne, Pa., and Jacob Myers & Son, of this city.

Architect Chas. E. Oelschlager, Harrison Building, has been commissioned by the trustees of Oliver Presbyterian church, of Moore's Station, Pa., to prepare plans and specifications for their new church and Sunday-school building to cost about $10,000. The size is about 45x90 feet, and will be built of local stone with slate roof. There will be a tower on the corner which will be about 80 feet high. The interior finish will be of chestnut and it will be heated by steam, lighted by electricity and will have the usual church furnishings.

Lawrence V. Boyd, architect, Harrison Building, has completed plans and specifications and sent same out to builders for estimates for a new edifice for the congregation of St. John Evangelical Lutheran, to be erected at Ogontz, Pa. It will be one-story and basement high, 40x70 feet, and will be built of stone with slate roof. The following builders have been invited to bid: D. W. Sperry, Hill & Stevens, J. Johnston, McCintock & Weaver, W. R. Dougherty, H. B. Shoemaker & Co., and Kendrick & Roberts, Inc. Bids due October 22.

Ballinger & Perrot, architects and engineers, 1200 Chestnut street, have completed plans and specifications and sent same out to builders for estimates for restoring the property of the Front Street Warehousing Company, recently destroyed by fire, situated on Front street north of Poplar street. Work consists of constructing new floors and the building of a four-story basement and sub-basement building, of slow burning construction type. The following builders have been invited to bid: Dietrich & Bowers, A. Raymond Raff, Thos. Lynch, Burd P. Evans, R. C. Ballinger & Co., Samuel C. Rea and Kindrick & Roberts, Inc. Bids due October 26.

Ballinger & Perrot, architects and engineers, 1200 Chestnut street, have completed plans and specifications and sent same out to builders for estimates for two extensions to the plant of T. I. Birkins at the corner of Second and Clayton streets, Chester, Pa. A one-story bleaching house, 33x50 feet, and a two-story and basement addition, 60x103 feet, are provided for. They will be built of brick and a combination of fireproof and the slow-burning type. Bids due October 22. The following builders have been invited to bid: Burd P. Evans, W. R. Dougherty, Kaighn & Draper, A. Raymond Raff, Appleton & Burrell, Chas. Gilpin and H. B. Shoemaker & Co.

Rowland W. Boyle, architect, 1626 Chestnut street, has completed plans and specifications for 10 houses to be built on Hicks and Spring streets for Mr. Malloy, owner, who has an office at the southwest corner of Seventeenth and Race streets. They will be three stories high and will be built of brick with all modern improvements. The owner will take bids. —Mr. Boyle is also working on preliminary plans for a three-story addition to the building at Tenth and Reed streets for Mr. Daniel Dever. It will measure 53x47 feet and will be built of brick and contain shuffleboard, bowling alley and billiard-room. It will be wired for electricity, heated by steam, best plumbing and every modern appointment.

BUILDING AND REAL ESTATE NOTES

Hinkle, the latter, now at 768 South Second street, will erect a new store and dwelling with a two-story hat factory in the rear at 752 South Second street.

PHILADELPHIA, WED. OCT. 21 1903

THE HALL-KLINE CONSOLIDATION.

The compounding of things whether it be the interest on money on deposit, the hoarding of miserly wealth or the concentration of well directed business effort often produces results which are a surprise to those without experience in that direction.

The consolidation of two separate and successful old established and popular houses in the same line as were the old firms of Matthew Hall and Charles B. Kline was bound to have a telling effect on the building trades and building enterprises of this city.

To combine two such important distributing houses of mantels, tiles, heaters and ranges and interior woodwork of all kinds was to combine the energy and enterprise of two active forces in the building line which would sooner or later make themselves felt as a unit of business energy in many directions.

That men are judged from the results of well directed effort, which is the gauge of success in the business world, is quite evident, consequently the Hall-Kline Company, embracing as it does the executive heads of the two former old concerns, has reason to be proud of its very flattering success since the company was formed, for the many orders which it has secured since its organization, March 15, 1903, representing as they do, business amounting to over $95,000, and embracing mantel and tile work, heaters and ranges, as well as their installation, wardrobes, china closets and interior wood work, all of which were manufactured at its manufactory and warehouses, 1927 and 1929 Market street, represent a consolidation of that self same energy and push which characterized both concerns.

Prompt delivery and experience gained through years of care and responsibility, together with a thorough knowledge of the details of an extensive manufacturing and distributing business, are the secret of this great success which has but few examples of equal magnitude in the entire city.

BUILDING AND REAL ESTATE NOTES

Walter Smedley, architect, Stephen Girard Building, has awarded the contract to Elwell & Son, of Cape May, N. J., for alterations to the Newkirk cottage at that place, according to plans prepared by him.

200 % RETURN ON FIRE FELT ASBESTOS COVERING

Recently published tests show an annual saving by use of this covering amounting to about 50c. per square foot of pipe surface, equal to about $300 per hundred lineal feet of 12" pipe. The first cost is less than 25c. per square foot or a net return of 200% on the investment. Once on the pipes, the covering needs no further attention. Can you afford to leave your pipes uncovered?

TUBULAR HEATING AND VENTILATING CO.

DEAR SIR:—Having worked on heaters for twenty-five years, and put up all kinds, can say for the Forbes Warm-Air Furnace—it is PERFECT, I all that can be said, as we have been putting them in for the last three years, and letters of congratulation have come to us, and wanting to give us their references, but I find the heater and proper construction will do more for its recommendation than all references. Good goods and proper construction will recommend themselves.

Yours respectfully,

ARCHITECTS' NOTES.

A number of architects of this city have been invited to prepare plans in competition for the proposed new home for the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, to be erected at the southeast corner of Arch and Juniper streets. It is estimated that the building will cost about $150,000.

Rush Anderson Plowman, architect, Betz Building, has completed plans for a smoking room on first and second floors of the Grand Opera House, Broad and Montgomery avenue and a ladies' retiring room at the same place. The smoking room will be located south of the lobby and the other room on the north where stores are now located.

Guy King, Architect, 431 Walnut street, is taking bids for a power house for Rochester and Lake Ontario Water Company at Charlotte Pier near Rochester, N. Y. It will be two stories high, 261x58 feet, and will be built of brick and stone with tile roof and will have cement and iron floor and every up-to-date power house appointments.

H. L. Reinhold, Jr., Architect, 1002 Chestnut street, has completed plans and specifications and sent same to the owner who will take bids for a new residence for Mr. P. McGranaghan to be erected at Ardmore, Pa. It will be two stories and attic high, 32x35 feet, and will be built of brick and frame with shingle roof. It will contain all modern improvements.

Addison Hutton, architect, Stephen Girard Building, has completed plans and specifications for the ten-story fireproof hotel to be erected on the Hotel Chalfonte grounds, at Atlantic City, N. J., for the Leeds Co. (details previously noted). Chas. Gilpin, the Wells Bros. Co., Stacey Reeves & Son, J. E. & A. L. Pennock, Cramp & Co., Doyle & Doak, and Daniel T. Knauer, of Atlantic City, are bidding. Bids due November 3.

Edwin F. Bertolet, architect, Heed Building, has completed plans and specifications for a two-story church to be erected at the Southwest corner of Sixteenth and Christian streets, for the Colored Baptist congregation, now at Cherry street, below Eleventh street. It will measure 130x67 feet and be constructed of stone and terra-cotta and will contain classrooms, an assembly room, a church library, kitchen, auditorium and Sunday-school room, and will have the usual church furnishings. H. B. Shoemaker & Co., are bidding.

We reported, some time ago, that the Pennsylvania Railroad Company was buying land on Washington street, Cape May, up to the Reading Depot and it was started with the view of erecting a Union depot.

We are informed by a reliable party that plans have been made by a Pittsburg architect and estimates are being received for a Union Depot to be erected jointly at Cape May by the Pennsylvania and Reading Railroad Companies.

It is now also stated that the Pennsylvania Railroad will double track the West Jersey Railroad. After the elevation of the tracks through Camden and West Jersey the Reading company's road to Cape May will be abandoned altogether as the traffic cannot be made to justify the continuance of both roads. This statement coming to us through the source it does, indicates more than anything else the reported combination of the Baltimore & Ohio, the Pennsylvania Railroad and the Lake Shore interests in this section, in the control of the Reading Railway Company.

The U. S. Civil Service Commission will on December 9th and 10th next, hold an examination for the purpose of selecting from the applicants persons to fill the vacancies as they may occur of Architectural draftsmen in the Philippine service at $1400 per annum and other similar vacancies as they may occur in that service. The Secretary of the local board at Philadelphia will furnish application blanks. The circular of the commission giving particulars can be seen in the office of the Real Estate Record.

Watson & Huckel, architects, have moved from 1208 Chestnut street to their new office building at 1211 Walnut street. This building has been handsomely laid out to suit their purposes. The second floor front is a handsome reception-room. In the rear of this room is the firm's private offices. On the third floor back, is the large draughting room, so arranged as to have plenty of light at all times. The fourth floor will be used for the storing of plans. The estimating room is provided for on the second floor landing and is well lit by electricity, making the building one of the most complete architects' offices in the city.

M. H. Dickenson, 2d, architect and Engineer, Land Title Building, has completed plans and specifications and sent same out to builders for estimates for a new residence to be built at Forty-six and Spruce streets. It will be three stories high, 38x49 feet and will be built of Flemish black header bricks. Details previously noted. The following builders have been invited to bid: Frank Riggs, John Wiggins Co., Doyle & Doak, Dietrich & Bowers, Thomas Seeds, Jr., and Lynch Bros. Bids due October 31.

Wilson, Harris & Richards, Architects & Engineers, Drexel Building, have completed plans and specifications and sent same out to builders for estimates for a new dormitory and a number of other buildings for the Catholic Protectory, at Fatland, Pa. They will be stone and two and three stories high. The following builders have been invited to bid: Appleton & Burrell, Geo. W. Beard Co., Inc., Dietrich & Bowers, Dorsey & Smith, Henderson Co., Limited, Michael Magee Co., George L. Sipps, John R. Wiggins Co., Doyle & Doak, L. H. Focht, Chas. Gilpin, Lewis Haven & Son, F. L. Hoover, Inc., Stacey Reeves & Son, Nolan Bros., J. E. & A. D. Pennock, Melody & Keating, Jacob Meyers & Son, the Charles McCaul Company, Ryan & Kelley, Thomas Reilly and George F. Payne Co., bids due October 30th.

T. Mitchell Hastings, architect, 328 Chestnut street, plans have been accepted by the Building Committee in competition for extensive improvements and additions to the Rush Hospital for Consumptives, situated at Thirty-third and Lancaster avenue. The work will comprise the rebuilding of the old hospital. But at the present time plans will be prepared only for a new wing to be in the Georgian style of architecture and will be four stories and basement high 180x45 feet, and will be built of brick with Granite base and Indiana limestone trimmings. It will have a large porch on the outside and will be fire proof throughout. It will be heated by hot water, wired and lit by electricity with every modern, up-to-date hospital appointment and is estimated to cost $100,000. It will be some time before plans are ready for bids.

Thomas Stephens, architect, Masonic Temple Building, Camden, N. J., has completed plans and sent same to owner who will take bids for a large stable to be built at Second and Division streets, Camden, N. J., for Volmeyer G. Bennett Lumber Company, of that city. It will be two stories high, 95x36 feet, and will be built of stone and brick with the usual sanitary stable appointments. He has also completed plans and specifications and sent same to the owner who will take bids for a $5000 house to be erected at Haddonfield for C. Hudders. It will be stone and frame and will be two stories with a finished attic. The interior will be in hardwood finish and it will contain all modern improvements. He is also working on plans for a Refreshment Building or Cafe to be built at the Philippine Village of the St. Louis Exposition at St. Louis, Mo. It will be in the Spanish style of architecture and will be one story high. Mr. Stephens has been commissioned to prepare plans for a large soap manufacturing plant to be erected at Pine and Haddon avenue, Camden, N. J. The plant will consist of the following buildings: A five-story building, 80x80 feet. The first floor will be fitted up for offices; a 1-story and basement boiler and engine house; a 2-story stable and a 1-story wagon house, all to be built of brick and slow burning construction. It will be equipped with two elevators, a cold storage system, heated by steam, lit by electricity and every modern factory appointment. It is estimated to cost between $50,000 and $60,000. Also preparing plans for a warehouse for Gatley & Hurley, of Broadway & Pine, Camden, N. J. This new structure will be erected at Welsh and Division streets, that city. It will be five stories high, 40x120 feet and will be built of brick and slow burning construction.

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y, OCT. 28, 1903

We right here make the assertion that the building and real estate interests of this city, and we mean it from the architect who plans the houses, down the whole line, including the operative builder to the masters of the respective building trades, embraces more executive ability than almost any other calling that can be suggested.

If these men were properly loyal to each other more of them would reach preferment in official life as they justly merit it.

The candidacy of Mr. Henry R. Shoch, of the Twenty-ninth ward, for county and city treasurer, is a proper recognition of well merited worth as both a builder and a straight-forward business man, and while his election is assured it is not enough; for both as a complement as well as a recognition of honest worth and business enterprise, he should receive the vote of every citizen, regardless of either party, that is cast on election day, November 3d next.

ARCHITECTS' NOTES

We learn that sixty-one architects have entered into competition for the proposed Public High School to be erected at Reading, Pa., at a cost of $200,000.

Seymour and Paul Davis, Architects, 907 Walnut street, have completed plans and specifications for an addition to the Hotel Huntington at Easton, Pa. The addition will be four stories high, 150x30 feet, and will be built of brick. Local builders will be invited to bid. Frank Keisker, Architect, Quint-Sharpless building, has completed plans and specifications for fifteen houses and three stores to be built at Fifty-eighth and Vine streets, for Robert Buchanan. The houses will measure 15x53 feet and two of the stores 16x52 feet and will be two stories high. One store will measure 18x53 feet and will be three stories high. All to be built of brick and contain all modern improvements. The owner will take bids.

Horace Trumbauer, Architect, Land Title Building, has completed plans and specifications and sent same out to builders for estimates for the three new buildings to be erected at the Hahnemann Hospital on Fifteenth street above

Race. The buildings will be six-stories high and will be built of brick with terra cotta trimmings, each to measure 40x80 feet. They will comprise a nurses' home, a maternity ward and a power house, laundry and quarters for the help. The following builders have been invited to bid: Doyle & Doak, John R. Wiggins & Co., J. E. & A. L. Pennock, B. Ketchum & Son, Geo. F. Payne Co., Chas. Gilpin, Jacob Myers & Son, Thomas Little & Son and Stacy Reeves & Son, bids due November 3rd.

BUILDING AND REAL ESTATE NOTES

W. S. P. Shield's double-decker stone and frame barn at Middletown township, Pa., was recently destroyed by fire. As soon as the insurance is adjusted, it will be rebuilt.

Wm. Steele & Sons, builders, 1600 Arch street, have filed bids for extensive alterations and additions to the plant of Firth & Foster, at Emerald & Adams streets, according to plans prepared by them.

Bids have been filed with M. H. Dickenson, 2d, Architect & Engineer, Land Title Building, for an addition to the factory of Herman Morris, at 709 Poplar street. It will be one-story, constructed of brick and iron.

W. C. Shuster, Jr., builder, at Lansdowne, Pa., has been awarded the contract to build the new stone and brick bank building at Elmer, N. J., according to plans prepared by Watson & Muckel, Architects, 1211 Walnut street.

Henderson Co., Ltd., Heed Building, have been awarded the contract for the erection of the new buildings and a coal trestle, 480 feet long, at Bridgeport, Pa., for the Philadelphia & Reading Railway Company. The work will cost about $14,000, plans by the company engineer and will proceed at once.

F. L. Hoover & Son, builders, 629 Chestnut street, have filed bid for new residence to be built at Roslyn Terrace, Glenside, Pa., for E. A. Ducan, Esq. It will be two stories and attic high and will measure 27x47 feet and will be built of frame and stone and will have all up-to-date improvements.

P. J. Hurley, H. Marion Zane, Samuel Johnson, Appleton & Burrell and Preston & Co., have filed bids with Keisker & Nickelson, Architects, of the Quinn & Sharpless Building, 38 South Sixteenth street, for interior alterations to the Regal Shoe store at 1218 Market street, according to plans prepared by them.

Henderson & Co., Limited, builders, Heed Building, have been awarded the contract to build the new residence at Observatory Hill, Pa., for Mr. Harry G. Glenn. It will be three stories high of brick and frame, and will contain all modern improvements. Plans by Wm. Bretherick, Architect, 905 Walnut street.

D. W. Sperry, builders, 1305 Arch street, has been awarded the contract to build the new edifice for the congregation of St. John's Evangelical Lutheran Church at Ogontz, Pa. It will be one-story and basement high, 40x70 feet and will be built of stone with slate roof. Plans were prepared by Lawrence V. Boyd, architect, Harrison Building.

The American Art Marble Company, 613 North American street, has been awarded by the Bailey, Banks & Biddle Company, the contract to furnish and erect the decorative marble columns and pilasters, in the firm's new building at 1214-16 Chestnut street. The contract provides for completion in twenty-four working days at a cost of $10,000.

Metzger & Wells, builders, Heed Building, have been awarded the contract to build the handsome new Colonial residence at Ardmore, Pa., for Mr. George Peterson. It will be three stories high, 34x46 feet and will be built of stone (details previously noted) plans by McIlvaine & Roberts, Architects, Land Title Building.

D. W. Sperry, builder, 1305 Arch street, has plans posted for a new residence for A. P. Thomson to be erected at Ogontz, Pa. It will be three stories high, of stone with slate roof and will have a porch on the front. The interior will be in hardwood finish and will have all modern improvements. Bids due in Mr. Thos. Thompson's office, October 29th.

E. D. Lever, builder, of Abington, Pa., has been awarded the contract to build the house and stable at Rydal, Pa., for John Conyngham Stevens. The house will be two and a half stories high and the stable one-story and loft high, both to be built of frame and stone and will contain all modern improvements (details previously noted). Plans and specifications were prepared by Adin B. Lacey, Architect, 1012 Walnut street.

David McClelland, builder, 515-17 South Twentieth street, has been awarded the contract to build the new residence at Chelton Hills, Pa., for Miss L. C. M. Schrufer. It will be two and a half stories high and will be constructed of frame and stone and will have all modern improvements. Plans by private parties. Work will proceed at once.

Alex. Brownlee, builder, 136 East Price street, Germantown, has been awarded the contract for stable and coachman house to be erected at Mt. Airy, Philadelphia, for Mr. Walter J. Crowter. It will be two stories high of brick and shingle and will measure 41x29 feet (details previously noted) plans and specifications by Savery & Scheetz, architects, Stephen Girard Building.

P. J. Hurley and F. L. Hoover & Son, Inc., and Kendrick & Roberts, builders, have plans posted for the new clubhouse to be built at Tabor station for the Philadelphia & Reading Railway Company. It will be two stories high, of frame and stone and will have all the up-to-date appointments. Bids due November 2. Plans by Chief Engineer Hunter, of the company.

Kendrick & Roberts, Inc., builders, Keith's Building, have plans posted for a new stable to be built at the southeast corner of Winona and Morris streets for Wilkie Bros. It will be two stories high, 50x105 feet and will be built of brick. Bids due in about ten days' time. The same firm have been awarded the contract to build the church tower on the Wyland Memorial Church, at Fifty-second and Baltimore avenue. It will be constructed of stone (previously noted in these columns). Work will proceed at once. Plans by Chas. W. Bolton, Architect, Witherspoon Building.

JOHN A. SNYDER, Secretary

DEAR SIR:

I Will Contract

to heat your residence, however large or small, with HOT WATER, and file a Trust Company's bond for ten times the cost, the same to be forfeited if I fail in any direction.

This means that there shall be more than enough radiation at the smallest possible cost for coal. No leaks, no mistakes, no annoyances of any kind. The boiler to be of the best make.

The responsibility all mine, and the cost no greater because of good work and material.

Yours Truly,

JOHN C. F. TRACHSEL,

Long Branch Board of Trade has taken steps to secure the erection of a large and modern hotel and has secured from the Traders' Realty Company, of New York, a proposition similar to that made to Asbury Park for the erection of a large hotel to cost about $200,000, of which amount Long Branch will be expected to provide $100,000 and take stock for that amount. A property owner of Long Branch has offered a desirable site for such a structure on Ocean avenue, and will take stock in the new hotel for the whole of the purchase price. The Board of Trade is also endeavoring to secure the construction of a handsome Boardwalk along the ocean front and is now securing the consent of property owners for that improvement. It is said that there is no doubt but that the Board will be successful in its efforts.

At Newark, a permit has been issued for the erection of a handsome dwelling on South Seventh street, for Mr. Thos. Barton. It will be of brick, hardwood interior finish, open plumbing, tiling, etc. The estimated cost is about $12,000.—Mr. Herman Schneider will erect a dwelling at 111 and 113 Twelfth street, at a cost of about $10,000.—Sarah Hollenback and Viola Dunisch will erect a dwelling on Elizabeth avenue. It will be three stories high, of frame, fine interior finish, modern conveniences. The estimated cost is about $20,000.—Architect William E. Lehman has prepared plans for extensive additions and alterations to the brick and stone dwelling at to West Park street. It will be converted into an up-to-date Turkish bath establishment. There will be a store on the first floor, front tiled floors, bathing tank, etc. The estimated cost of the improvements is about $40,000. It is said that an artesian well will supply the water to the establishment by means of two steam pumps.

THROUGH DELAWARE

At Wilmington, Mr. William M. Connelly has bought a lot at Maryland avenue and Maple street, and will erect nine modern, well finished dwellings on the site. Mr. Connelly has bought ground at Maple and Van Buren streets, on which he has planned to erect thirty-one well finished dwellings.

THROUGH MARYLAND

At Baltimore, the Poole Engineering & Machine Company will erect a three-story brick building to cost $25,000.—A new Methodist Episcopal church will be erected at Govans-town, Md., on the site of the present structure, which will be torn down. It will be forty-two by fifty-two feet, with an adjoining Sunday-school room thirty-eight by forty-eight feet. The material will be stone and there will be a fine tower at one corner. The basement will be well finished and will contain the heating plant. Fine interior finish and fixtures, pews, all modern conveniences. The estimated cost is about $12,000.—J. A. Dempsey, of York, Pa., has prepared the plans for the brick office building to be erected by the Poole Engineer & Machine Company, at Woodbury, between Railroad and Union avenues.—The contract for the erection of the new No. 24 engine house has been awarded to Charles L. Stockhausen. It will occupy a site on Patterson Park avenue near Fayette street, and the cost will be about $16,000.

WASHINGTON, D. C.

Work will soon begin on the erection of an eight-room school building on Le Droit avenue. It is said that Edward P. Casey, r Nassau street, New York City, has prepared plans for a new clubhouse to be erected for the Daughters of the American Revolution.

KING'S WINDSOR CEMENT

Elastic in its nature, can be applied with 25% less labor and has 12 1/4% more covering capacity than any other similar material

FOR Plastering Walls and Ceilings J. B. KING & CO., No. 1 Broadway, New York

This tough piece of Dixon's Silica Graphite Paint, obtained by cutting away the material it was painted on, shows what a hard, flexible covering it makes. It's the only paint that is made of flake graphite. It can be bent double without cracking. Heat or cold, acid or sulphuric smoke fumes don't hurt it.

DIXON'S Graphite PAINT

has been used 40 years by railroads, contractors and corporations owning large properties. It is equally desirable and economical for the owner of smaller properties. It endures three times as long as any other paint. Put it on roofs, fences, porches, spouting, smoke stacks and all exposed metal or wood work.

ARCHITECTS' NOTES

Arthur H. Brockie, architect, and T. Mitchell Hastings, architect, desire to announce that they have formed a co-partnership for the practice of architecture under the firm name of Brockie & Hastings, with offices at 328 Chestnut street.

W. J. McAuley & Co., architects, Arcade Building, have completed plans and specifications for a three-story Pompeian brick stable to measure 24x77 feet, to be built in the rear of 1213 South Broad street, for Thompson Carson. Bids due November 6. Doyle & Doak, H. Marion Zane, Wm. Christie, Geo. Kessler, Wm. Morrow and Thos. Walsh are bidding.

Peter Kuhn, architect, 1524 Sansom street, is working on plans for 23 houses and 3 stores and dwellings to be built on the south side of Glenwood avenue between Seventeenth and Eighteenth streets, for John Loughran, operative builder. They will be two and three stories high and will measure 15x57 feet each, and will be built of brick with all modern improvements.

Pugh & Downing, architects and engineers, Lippincott Building, have completed plans and specifications for 6 houses to be built at Coatesville, Pa. They will be two stories high, 23x28 feet each, of frame with stone foundations, and will have a porch on front. They will be piped for gas and be heated by stoves and are estimated to cost about $2,000 each. The owner will take bids in a short while.

M. H. Dickerson, 2d, architect and engineer, Land Title Building, has prepared preliminary plans for a handsome new residence to be built at Oak Lane, Phila. It will be three stories high, 30x36 feet, and will be built of stone and will contain 13 rooms, with every modern improvement and convenience. It is expected that in a short time working drawings will be prepared and bids invited.

Architect M. I. Kast, Harrisburg, Pa., has prepared plans for the Citizens' Steam Fire Engine Company's Building to be erected at Mechanicsburg, Pa. The first floor will be fitted up to accommodate the steamer and combination wagon; the second floor will be used to accommodate a volunteer fire company. All modern conveniences will be provided. New apparatus will be bought in a few months. McElfattrick & Co., architects, of New York City, have been commissioned by Gustave Muller, president of the Girard Improvement Company, to prepare the plans for the new Girard Avenue Theatre, recently destroyed by fire. It is expected that plans will be finished as soon as possible and bids on the same invited at once so as the theatre will be ready for the lessees, Miller & Kaufman, some time after January 1, 1904.

Watson & Huckel, architects, 1211 Walnut street, are working on plans for extensive improvements and building an addition to the Italian Bank, situated at the northeast corner of Seventh and Fitzwater streets, for Mr. Bozzella, owner. The work will consist of the remodeling of the interior of the present bank and the building of a two-story and basement brick addition to the rear. It will be some time before plans are ready for bids.

Baker & Dallett's, architects, Crozier Building, plans have been accepted by the building committee of Wilmington Homeopathic Hospital for their new building to be built adjoining the present hospital. It will have the main entrance on Van Buren and will be three stories high and will be built of brick and be connected to the present hospital by a covered corridor. It is expected that this new addition will be fireproof in its construction. The first floor will be for the out patients. The two upper floors will be men and women's wards. It will have all the up-to-date hospital appointments and will cost between $30,000 and $40,000.

Savery & Scheetz, architects, Stephen Girard Building, have completed plans and specifications and sent same out to builders for estimates for a two-story frame stone and brick foundation residence, measuring 40.9x40 feet, to be erected at Central avenue near Elm street, Moorestown, N. J., for Mr. Jno. B. Leeds. It will have a porch on front, the interior will be in hardwood finish, heated by hot air, tile work and all modern improvements. The following builders have been invited to bid: J. S. Rogers, of Stanwick, N. J.; Irving Collins, of Moorestown, N. J.; Wm. Capern, Haddonfield, N. J., and W. C. Shuster, Jr., of Lansdowne, Pa. Bids due November 10.

BUILDING AND REAL ESTATE NOTES

Kendrick & Roberts, Inc., have moved from the Keith Building, 1124 Chestnut street, to their new offices on the first floor of 1211 Walnut street.

Harry B. Shoemaker & Co., builders, 17 South Ninth st, have been awarded the contract to make alterations and additions to a residence at Bala, Pa.

John R. Wiggins, builder, Heed Building, has submitted a bid for extensive alterations and improvements to the Northern Soup Society Building, at 87 North Fourth street.

The Midvale Steel Company, of Nicetown, have had plans prepared by their engineer for the construction of the building to be used for the manufacture of armor plate for battle-ships. It will be of structural steel construction, with sides of corrugated iron and foundations of concrete, brick and stone and will measure 336x197 feet. Bids due November 9.

A. & G. Bohem, Fifteenth and Federal streets, are doing all the Galvanized Iron Work on the Old Ladies' Home, at Wissinoming, and the Skylights and Copper Work on Apartment House, 1208 Walnut street, and Lyceum Theatre, Eighth and Vine streets, Messrs. A. & G.

Bohem are making a specialty of covering Bay Windows with Copper and Galvanized Iron.

A. Raymond Raff, builder, 1635 Thompson street, has been awarded the contract to build the four-story and basement and sub-basement warehouse and make other improvements for the Front Street Warehousing Company, situated on Front street north of Poplar street (details previously noted). Plans and specifications were prepared by Ballinger & Perrot, architects and engineers, 1200 Chestnut street.

The following builders have submitted estimates as well as those previously mentioned to Duhring, Okie & Ziegler, architects, South Penn Square Building, for the new residence to be built at Jenkintown, Pa. It will be three stories high, 35x60 feet, constructed of frame and stone: Wm. S. Kohl, Wm. Flemming, Kendrick & Roberts, Inc., and D. A. McClelland.

The Jno. L. Gartner Company, northeast corner Nineteenth and Hamilton streets, have just completed the wrought-iron outside and vestibule double doors, for residence of Mr. Alfred C. Harrison, 1616 Locust street. Cope & Stewardson, architects. These doors show workmanship seldom seen in this part of the country, and the character and class of the work reflect great credit on the manufacturers.

Scott & Kriebel, builders, Mutual Life Building, have been awarded the contract to build the warehouse for W. C. Young, 1211 and 13 North Second street. It will be three stories high, 15x65 feet, and will be built of brick and slow burning construction and is estimated to cost about $6,600. Plans by Clyde Adams, architect, 1202 Locust street. Work will proceed at once.

John H. Shone, builder, at Blackwood, N. J., has been awarded the contract to build the new school house at that place for the Board of Education. It will be two stories high, of frame with stone foundations and will contain four rooms. It will be heated by hot air and will cost about $6,000. Plans and specifications by Isaac Pursell, architect, 119 South Fourth street, this city.

YOU USE PAINT, OF COURSE?

There are but few more successful business firms in this city, in any line, than that of Felton, Sibley & Co., 136 to 140 North Fourth street. Before most of our readers were born Mr. Samuel K. Felton, the head and active member of the firm, established the paint and varnish manufacturing business on Fourth street, which has been continued up to the present time without a single interruption.

While the concern is old as to years of public service it is both vigorous and progressive as to modern methods.

Its business was established on the old-fashioned lines of rugged honesty, and the habit of selling honest goods at honest prices with honest measure and weight is even now as much a part of the concern as when it was first started.

Paint and varnish must be good to be lasting. You won't have to worry about purity if you buy it from Felton, Sibley & Co.

BUILDING AND REAL ESTATE NOTES

Sharpless & Watts, of 1524 Chestnut street, will build a new store building at 1510-12 Sansom street. It will be three stories high of brick. The work of demolishing the old buildings is now going on.

It is reported that the John B. Stetson Company will build a new modern, fireproof factory on the site of its present plant, bounded by Fourth and Cadwalader streets and Montgomery avenue. It will be eight stories high.

Armstrong & Latta, contractors, Land Title Building, will build a two-story brick stable, 30x52 feet, and a coal trestle for the Philadelphia & Reading Railway on the plot of ground east of Twentieth street south of Allegheny avenue, at a cost of $4,000.

D. A. McClelland, builder, 515-17 South Twentieth st., has been awarded the contract for the addition to the factory of Herman Morris, at 709 Poplar street, according to plans prepared by M. H. Dickerson, 2d, architect and engineer, Land Title Building.

Watson & Huckel, architects, 1211 Walnut street, have awarded to Botelli & Co., of New York and Philadelphia, the contract for marble altars and marble work in the Roman Catholic Church of the Annunciation, at Tenth and Dickinson streets, according to plans prepared by them.

Frank E. Wallace, builder, 1017 Chestnut street, has been awarded the contract to make interior improvements to the Philadelphia Museums, at Thirty-third and Spruce sts., according to plans prepared by Brockie & Hastings, architects, 328 Chestnut street. Work will proceed at once.

Wm. Russell, builder, Thirtieth below Chestnut street, has been awarded the contract for fitting up the first floor of the new building at Juniper and Chestnut streets, for the Crane Ice Cream Company, according to plans prepared by Savery & Scheetz, architects, Stephen Girard Building.

J. Sims Wilson, builder, 1125 Brown street, has been awarded the contract to build the boiler and laundry house for the Samaritan Hospital, at Broad and Ontario streets. It will be two stories high, 26x34 feet, and will be built of brick. Plans by Arnold N. Moses, architect, 134 South Fourth street.

John Owens, builder, 7151 Germantown avenue, has been awarded the contract to build the new Colonial residence at Chestnut Hill, Pa., for Mrs. Joshua Howell. It will be two stories and attic high, 27x83 feet, and will be built of stone and contain all modern improvements. Plans by Arthur Brockie, architect, 328 Chestnut street.

Jos. Dyson, builder, has been awarded the contract to build the stable and carriage house at Ardmore, Pa., for Mr. S. S. Eveland. It will be two stories high and will be built of stone and frame, and will have the usual sanitary stable appointments. Work will proceed at once. Plans by H. L. Reinhold, Jr., architect, 1002 Chestnut street.

Camden City Council adopted a resolution at their recent meeting, giving the plot of ground at Westfield avenue and Federal streets and the building in Cooper Park to the use of the trustees of the Free Public Library. The trustees were also given the privilege to alter the Cooper Park building to make it suitable for a branch of the Carnegie Library.

Grays Bros., builders, at Rosemont, Pa., have been awarded the contract to build the Norman Ellison new residence at Merion, Pa. It will be three stories high and will be built of stone with shingle roof. It will have a porch and Bergola, and the interior will be finished in hard wood. It will have open fireplaces, best plumbing, tile baths and every modern convenience. Plans by McIlvain & Roberts, architects, Land Title Building.

W. R. Dougherty, builder, 1524 Sansom street, have plans posted for a factory building to be erected at the northeast corner of Comly and Milner streets, Forty-first ward, near Wissinoning Station, for the Quaker City Rubber Company. It will be two stories high, 200x60 feet, and will be built of brick and slow-burning construction. Bids due November 6. Plans by J. F. Stuckert & Son, architects, 1421 Chestnut street.

Mathias Kerstulja, contractor, 32 North Herbert street, will erect 13 two-story brick and stone dwellings and one store in West Philadelphia. They will be built as follows: 10 to measure 15x38 feet, on East side of Redfield street between Arch and Filbert streets; 3 15x46 feet, on Arch street east of Redfield street, and one store, 15x32 feet, on Southwest corner of Arch and Redfield streets. They will contain all modern improvements and will cost about $25,000.

John Owens, builder, 7151 Germantown avenue, will erect, for himself, 8 houses to be built as follows: Three to measure 35x25 feet, on south side of Roomford avenue, west of Ardleigh; three, 28x48 feet, on southwest side of Boyer and McPherson sts.; one, 33x48 feet, northwest corner Gowen avenue and Boyer streets; one, 45x32 feet, northwest corner of Sprague and Roomford avenue. They will be three stories high, of stone, with peaked slate roofs, and will contain all modern improvements. This operation will cost about $57,000.

THROUGH PENNSYLVANIA

—At Bloomsburg, Columbia county, the store of H. J. Clark & son, will be remodeled from plans prepared by Architect Brugler, of Danville, Pa. The plans include a new front with considerable plate glass and interior changes.

—At Monongahela, Allegheny county, a charter has been secured by the Monongahela, Ellsworth & Washington Street Railway Company. The new line will run from Monongahela to Washington. Among those interested are Gerald O. Leary, G. W. Stevens, J. P. Multivill and others, of Pittsburg. The capital is $50,000.

—At Glassport, Allegheny county, it is stated that Nicholas Wolf will erect a three-story brick hotel from plans prepared by Architect W. F. Wilson, of McKeesport. The estimated cost is about $30,000. The structure will have fine interior finish, well equipped bathrooms, open plumbing, tile work and all modern conveniences.

—At New Castle, Lawrence county, plans have been prepared by Architect W. C. Eccles, of New Castle, for a stone church to be erected at Highland street and Park avenue, New Castle, for the Fourth Presbyterian congregation. It will have fine interior finish, handsome church furniture, fixtures and windows. The cost will be about $40,000.

—At Johnstown, Cambria county, it is stated that a trolley line is being planned to run between Johnstown and Seward Station, through the Conemaugh Valley. Mr. Blake A. Mapledoram and Mr. Joseph Hoffman, representing a syndicate of street railway capitalists, have been over the ground looking up the most feasible route for such a trolley line.

—At Harrisburg, it has been stated by John E. Stoll, secretary, Committee of Public Grounds and Buildings, that Emil Svensson, of Pittsburg, has been selected to prepare plans for a bridge across the Lehigh River at Allentown, Pa. Mr. Stoll has also announced that a bridge will probably be constructed across Shamokin creek, Northumberland county.

—At Braddock, Allegheny county, plans have been prepared by Architects Vogel & Hietzon for a brick parsonage for the First Presbyterian church. It will occupy a site on Library street. The structure will have fine interior finish, open plumbing, tile work, well equipped bathrooms, electric and gas fixtures, all modern conveniences. The estimated cost is about $8,000.

—At Harrisburg, plans have been drawn for five of twenty dwellings to be erected by Sherk & Wength. They will be three stories high, of frame, gas and electric light, bathrooms, sanitary plumbing, porches, modern conveniences.—Schwab & Whiteman have plans for a block of three storerooms to be fitted up with modern conveniences. They will cost about $7,000.

—At Chester, Delaware county, twenty acres of the Lukens farm on the west side of Edgemont avenue, at Twenty-sixth street, has been bought by Walter B. Perkins, of Lexington, Mass., who intends to make extensive improvements, including new streets, grading, tree planting, etc. The opening of the Media, Middleton & Ashton Railway has made this section accessible for homes, and, it is said, considerable building will be done in the spring.

—At Ambridge, plans have been prepared by Haller & Klepper, of Ambridge, for a three-story brick store and apartment house to be erected at Ambridge, at a cost of $8,000, for Mr. M. S. Bowser.—Mrs. A. J. Cook will erect a handsome dwelling. It will be three stories high, of brick, fine interior finish, tiling, open plumbing, plate and ornamental glass, modern conveniences. The contract has been awarded to R. H. Hill.

—At New Castle, Lawrence county, there is every prospect that a new theatre will be erected at the corner of South Mill and Phillips streets. The proposed structure will be finely finished and thoroughly equipped for theatrical purposes. The estimated cost is about $50,000. Among those interested are ex-Postmaster John B. Brown, ex-Sheriff Charles Matthews, W. C. Dunn, president of the New Castle Savings and Trust Company, and E. E. McGill.

—At Beaver Meadows, Carbon county, the Roman Catholic congregation will erect a church, from plans prepared by Architect Owen McGlynn, 61 Simon Long Building, Wilkes-barre, Pa. It will be well finished, provided with modern conveniences and will cost about $8,000.—The same architect has prepared plans for a dwelling to be erected at Nanticoke, Pa., for Rev. Father Nowicka. It will be 34x42 feet, well finished and provided with modern conveniences.

—At Franklin, Venango county, plans have been prepared by Architect Leland Craig for a two-story dwelling to be erected for Mr. Willis Mong. It will be 24 x 48 feet, two stories high, of frame and blue line stone, oak mantels, porcelain bath tub, handsome fixtures, porch columns, plain and ornamental glass, gas fixtures, open plumbing, all modern conveniences.

—At St. Petersburg, Clarion county, Mr. W. G. Freeman will erect a two and a half story brick dwelling from plans prepared by Architect J. H. Davenport & Son, of Grand Rapids, Mich. It will be 36x52 feet, slate roof, gas and electric fixtures, plate and ornamental glass, hot water heating, wood mantels, grill work, porcelain bath tub, tile work, dumb waiter, open plumbing. The estimated cost is about $5,600.

—At Harrisburg, estimates from experts on the cost of rebuilding the damaged parts of the Mulberry street bridge, have been submitted to the Sub-Finance Committee of Council. According to H. R. Leonard, chief of bridge construction of the Pennsylvania Railroad, the damaged sections cannot be repaired. He has recommended that a new steel girder viaduct be constructed at a cost of about $450,000, or a stone arch viaduct, which would cost about $1,216,000. No decision has been made as to what shall be done. In any case it is said that bonds will be issued to pay for a new structure or to repair the damage to the present bridge.

—At Chester, Delaware county, Mr. Samuel A. Crozer, the Upland manufacturer, has given a gymnasium to the South Chester Baptist church. The building will be of brick and the dimensions will be 36x40 feet. Mr. Crozer will thoroughly equip the structure. The contract for its erection has been awarded to Samuel R. Bell. Rev. W. D. Thatcher is the pastor.—The Gentlemen's Country Club has secured twenty-three acres of the Sharpless farm, adjoining the land already bought by the club.—Permission has been secured from Thomas Palmer to construct a thirty-five-foot driveway from the new road of the Philadelphia, Morton & Swarthmore Railway, into the grounds of the club.

—At Harrisburg, sixteen architects have sent in plans in competition for the proposed new school house to be erected on State street. All the plans have been drawn with a view to future enlargement of the building. The local architects who have sent in plans are C. Howard Lloyd, P. Bernheisel & Son, John C. Draimie, Thomas H. Hamilton, M. I. Kast and W. O. Weaver. The following out-of-town architects have sent in drawings: W. Douder, Millersburg; Wilson Potter, Thomas W. Lamb, Arthur W. Hall, New York City; Garber & Woodward, Cincinnati; Howard B. Emery, Wilkesbarre; Frederick Friend, Philadelphia; D. R. Levensgood, York; J. A. Salter, Rochester, and F. W. Smith, Durango, Colorado.

—At Lebanon, Lebanon county, the plant of the Lebanon Boiler Works, at Fourteenth street and the P. & R. Railway, was destroyed last week. It had been operated for some years by J. K. Petty & Co., and the plant is owned by J. K. Petty, of Philadelphia, and David O. Mader, of North Eighth street, Lebanon. The estimated loss is about $25,000.

—At Tremont, Schuylkill county, St. John's Evangelical congregation, of Tremont, will erect a church. It will be one-story high, of stone, slate roof, steam heat, tile floor, electric and gas fixtures, fine pews and windows, all modern conveniences. The plans have been prepared by Architect Frank Reilly, of Pottsville, Pa., who is now receiving bids for the work.

—At Chester, Delaware county, a number of councilmen and city officials have inspected the public parks with a view of deciding on improvements to be made before next season. The total estimated cost of these improvements is about $41,500. The work to be done includes: At Thurlow Park, 2,000 lineal feet of concrete walk, $2,000; at Crozer Park, new shelter pavilion, $500; concrete walks and gutters at Concord avenue entrance, $1,000; 1,200 feet macadam road, $1,200; filling in quarry hole etc., about $3,700; at Chester Park, cottage for superintendent, toll house, shelter pavilion, etc., $1,600; forming lake and reclaiming marshes on east side, $2,000; building macadam road down boulevard and through part to the Media car entrance, $16,000; 8,000 feet concrete gutters, $3,200; 8,000 feet concrete walks, $8,000; new bridge across the creek to replace the present structure, $5,000. Total $41,500. Among those who made the trip were Frederick A. Howard, president; Col. James A. G. Campbell, secretary, and John N. Wilson, members of the Board of Park Commission. Councilmen C. D. Willis, Andrew J. Johnson, William H. Morrison, J. C. Kepner, David W. Deakney, City Comptroller, W. J. Oglesby, and City Clerk Frank H. Harrison; Harry E. Williams, of the Republican; James J. McCabe, of the Times.

—At Johnstown, Cambria county, Mr. J. B. Denny, proprietor of the Merchants Hotel here, with D. C. Park, a Pittsburgh millionaire, has bought the Maple Park Springs Hotel and the Belmont Hotel at Maple Park Springs, near Ebensburg, Pa., the price paid for the property being about $50,000. Mr. Denny will at once assume control of the Belmont Hotel but will not take charge of the Maple Park Springs Hotel until the close of the season, when T. H. Heist, the present lessee, retires.

—At Scranton, Lackawanna county, it is stated that City Engineer, Mr. Jifkins, has submitted to Mayor A. T. Conwell, estimates for the construction of a retaining wall on both sides of the Lackawanna river from Old Driving Park to the old steel mill in South Scranton. He has estimated the cost of a mortared wall at $301,000 and a dry wall at $260,000.—Mr. W. H. Hutton, of Scranton, has been awarded the contract for wiring the extension to U. S. Postoffice for $2024.

—At Harrisburg, the following charters have been issued by the State Department: Irwin & McKeesport Railway Company; capital, $45,000; John George, President, Irwin. The Lancaster & Southern Street Railway Company; capital, $84,000; James G. McSparran, President, Furness. California & Allen Port Street Railway Company; capital, $50,000; R. B. Drum, President, California. Bank & Broad Street Railway Company; capital, $5,000; J. C. Boyer, President, Pittsburg. The Farmersville & Terre Hill Street Railway Company; capital, $48,000; S. M. Seldomridge, President, Farmersville.

—At Lansdowne, Delaware county, it is the intention of Mr. J. W. S. Kerlin and Mr. T. Leavitt Kerlin, of Melrose, Lansdowne, to erect a bungalow on the Kerlin Thornberry farm near Cheyney, J. Willard Hoopes, of Fernwood, is interested. Estimates for the structure will be asked early in the Spring. It will be well finished throughout and provided with all modern conveniences.—Contractor William Smith is pushing work rapidly at the new dwelling for Supervisor Stewart, of Upper Darby township. The structure will be handsomely finished and provided with all modern conveniences. It is situated on Oak avenue, near East Lansdowne.

—At Harrisburg, the Pennsylvania Railroad Company has been granted a charter for the Overbrook, Bryn Mawr and Paoli Street Railway Company. Samuel Rea, Fourth Vice President of the Pennsylvania Railroad, is President of the new company, which is capitalized at $138,000. The proposed line is to be 23 miles in length and extends from the intersection of City Line avenue and Lancaster turnpike, in Lower Merion, Montgomery county, to Paoli, thence to Villa Nova, thence to the intersection of the Philadelphia, Bala and Bryn Mawr turnpike, through Lower Merion, with the westerly line of City Line avenue; also from Narberth avenue, Lower Merion, to Narberth station.

—At Pittsburg, Architect Charles Bickel, 524 Penn avenue, has prepared plans for a number of warehouses to be erected on the south side between Third, Fourth and Bingham streets and the Monongahela River. They will be well finished and thoroughly equipped for the purpose intended. The estimated cost of the operation is about $2,000,000. The plans will be ready for bids in about a week.

—Plans are in course of preparation by the Century Architectural & Engineering Company, 309 Fourth avenue, for a three-story apartment house to be erected at Westmoreland and Braddock avenues, for Mr. C. C. Hamilton. It will be well finished and will be provided with modern conveniences. The estimated cost is about $20,000. It will contain twelve suites of apartments of four rooms each.

—It is stated that Mr. E. B. McCabe, 806 Duquesne Way, will improve the property at Swissdale avenue, near Edgewood station, in the Twenty-second ward, by the erection of

The contract for the super-structure will probably not be awarded until next Spring.

THROUGH NEW JERSEY

At Hoboken, contracts will be let in a short time by Town Council for paving Hill street, about six blocks, with vitrified brick. Sebastian Maulbeck, Town Surveyor.

At National Park, the Borough Council is stated to have decided to issue bonds to the amount of $10,000 for improvements to the sewerage system and the water works.

At Ventnor, Atlantic county, it is stated that the State Riparian Board has granted the town the right of way over a fifty-foot strip along the entire beach front upon which a board-walk will be constructed.

At Atlantic City, Mrs. Mary M. Drishman will erect a large apartment house with stores at the northwest corner of Madison and Massachusetts avenues. It will be 75x117 feet, fine interior finish, all modern conveniences.

At Summit, Union county, trunk and intercepting sewer bonds to the amount of $60,000 have been sold. The City Engineer has prepared plans for extending the East Summit intercepting sewer at a cost of from $4,300 to $9,000.

At Hoboken, the contract for the erection of a three-story brick and stone apartment house on Willow avenue between Ninth and Tenth streets, has been awarded to Charles Fall, 112 Fourteenth street, Hoboken. The estimated cost is about $14,000.

At Pleasantville, Atlantic county, it is said that grade crossings will be abolished on the line of the Reading Railway, at Pleasantville, by the erection of a bridge where the tracks cross the Shore Road. Application has been made to Council for permission to construct such a bridge so that the trolley cars and other vehicles along the road will pass over the top of the cars.

At Pompton Lakes, Passaic county, the German Artistic Weaving Company, 683 Broadway, New York City, has bought about five hundred acres of ground at Pompton Lakes and water power capable of developing about one thousand horse-power. It is the intention of the company to raise the dam and to erect an electric plant for supplying power and light to factories and dwellings in the village, besides supplying the plant of the company. The company is now erecting a factory with a floor space of about 15,000 square feet. Generators and motors will be installed.

At Newark, Architects Hurd & Sutton have prepared plans for a two-and-a-half-story frame dwelling, 36x59 feet, to be erected at 333 Roseville avenue, for W. J. Burke. It will be handsomely finished, open plumbing, finely finished and equipped bathrooms, plate and ornamental glass, all modern conveniences. The estimated cost is about $25,000.—Architect W. M. Eisenbiegler has prepared plans for a brick truck house, 39x98 feet, to be erected on Washington avenue for the City of Newark. Shoenig & Son, have made plans for a three-story building to be erected for Mr. H. M. Wallace at 9 and 11 South Fifth street, to be used as a dwelling and for business purposes. The estimated cost is about $8,000.

THROUGH DELAWARE

At Milford, Architect Charles G. Fisher has been selected to prepare plans for a new school building to be erected by the Board of Education.

At Wilmington, fire destroyed the works of the William C. Newport Company, manufacturers of fertilizers, at Gordon Heights, last week. The main building was entirely destroyed.

ed. The estimated loss is about $30,000. F. L. Erricsson is the superintendent of the plant.

It is said that the Johnson Forge Company's plant, recently destroyed by fire, will be rebuilt. The total cost of the plant was about $175,000. Six engines and a number of boilers were damaged by the fire. The loss is estimated at about $150,000. John R. Johnson, of Philadelphia, is president of the company and John Hare, secretary and treasurer.

It is reported that the Board of Trade has under consideration the erection of an office building. The DuPonts want the site of the present building of the Friendship Engine Company. In case the deal goes through the Engine Company will erect a new fire house on Tatnall street.—It is said that plans have been prepared for a reservoir to hold about 200,000 gallons of water on land of the Wilmington Malleable Iron Company, in South Wilmington. The company will pump its water supply from this basin.

ARCHITECTS' NOTES

We report the following work from W. G. Eckles, architect, of New Castle, Pa.: The work on the chapel for Highland U. P. church, of New Castle, is being started at this place. No contracts have been awarded except for foundations. J. A. Carpenter is the mason. Cost about $15,000.—The Hunter Memorial School to be erected at Tidontie, Pa., is being figured. Eight rooms, brick and stone, cost $35,000.—The Epworth M. E. Parsonage, of New Castle, has been let to H. A. Tom and the brickwork is started. Cost $7,500.—Twelve-room public school at Falls Creek, Pa., is being roofed. Cost $30,000.—Eight-room school at Sharon, Pa., is ready for interior finish. Cost $35,000.

Architect A. W. Lely, Rooms 8 and 10 Post Office building, South Bethlehem, Pa., has prepared plans for a church to be erected for John Capestran congregation. It will be 45 x 95 feet, one-story high and basement, of local stone with Indiana limestone trimmings, steam heat, all modern appointments. The cost will be $18,000.—Also plans for a fine residence to be erected at Allentown, Pa., to be of dark gray brick, terra-cotta and granite stone trimmings, tile roof, hardwood interior finish, mantels, etc.—Also plans for ten dwellings to be erected in South Bethlehem, Pa., for Mr. Benedict Birkel. They will be two-and-a-half stories high, well finished throughout and provided with modern conveniences.—Also plans for a residence for Mr. George Heller, of Bethlehem, Pa. It will be of brick, shingle and slate roof, fine interior finish, including handsome stairway, hardwood mantels, etc.

Angus S. Wade, architect, 1626 Chestnut street, is working on preliminary plans for a handsome new apartment house to be erected at Tioga, Phila. The owner's name and exact location withheld. It will be nine stories and basement high and will measure 100x180 feet, and will be built of brick, stone and terra-cotta and steel and will be fireproof in its construction. In the basement will be bowling alley, billiard room, barber shop, engine and boiler house. The first floor will be the exchange, a public and private dining-room, apartment offices and a few suites of rooms. The remaining floors will have about 25 suites to a floor with bath for each suite. It will have all the up-to-date apartment house appointments with steam heat, lighted by electricity, a passenger and freight elevator, etc. The proposed structure will be surrounded by spacious grounds will be one of the finest buildings of its kind in the city. It is estimated to cost about $225,000.

M. H. Dickerson, 2d, architect and engineer, Land Title Building, is making working drawings for a new amusement hall to be built on Eighth street, this city (the exact location withheld for the present), to be known as the "London Music Hall." It will be three stories high, 20x90 feet, and will be built of brick and stone. The first floor will be arranged for theatrical and musical entertainments, and it will have a stage with all up-to-date appointments. The second floor will be arranged for apartments and the third floor will be a photograph gallery. This structure will be wired for electricity, heated by steam and contain all modern improvements. The owner has awarded the contract for the erection of the above building and work will proceed as soon as the working plans are finished.—Mr. Dickerson announces that the contract for the handsome new residence as designed by him to be erected at Forty-sixth and Spruce streets, will be awarded in a few days.

John W. Vester, architect, Rooms 57, 58 and 59 Brown Bldg., Washington, Pa., has prepared plans for the following work: Residence for J. L. Iams, Waynesburg, Pa., cost $2000; barn for Jas. L. Iams, Waynesburg, Pa., cost $6,000; barn for the A. B. Caldwell Company, Washington, Pa., cost $6,000; residence for W. P. Warne, Washington, Pa., cost $15,000; laundry for R. F. Stevenson, Washington, Pa., cost $6,000; residence for J. D. McNary, Washington, Pa., cost $5,000; First National Bank, Canonsburg, Pa., cost $15,000; alterations and additions to Washington Hospital, cost $35,000; apartment house for T. A. Connors, Washington, Pa., cost $18,000. Also have plans on board for addition to residence of F. L. Wotringer, R. D. No. 11, Washington county, Pa. Size, 30x35, frame, slate roof, bathroom, etc. Also plans on boards for changes to storeroom of the A. B. Caldwell Company, Washington, Pa., consisting of all glass counters, shelving, carrier system, etc.

Thos. Stephens, architect, Masonic Temple Building, Camden, has completed plans and specifications and will send same out to builders for estimates on November 12 or 13 for the new soap plant for the Camden and Philadelphia Soap Company, Mr. Penrose Hirst, president, to be erected at Pine and Haddon avenue, Camden, N. J. The plant will consist of a five-story building, 80x80 feet; a one-story and basement boiler and engine house, a two-story stable and a one-story wagon shed, all to be built of brick and slow burning construction (details previously noted). Bids due about November 20. P. J. Hurley and Lynch Bros., of this city, will be invited to bid.—Also working on plans for altering the residence at Broadway and Stevens streets, Camden, N. J., into store.—Also preparing plans for interior improvements to the residence of Dr. Gross, at Seventh and Market streets, that city.—He also has plans in the course of preparation for an addition and improvements to the stable of Allen R. Mitchell, Esq., at Langhorne, Pa. Plans provide for a one-story stone addition and general interior improvements to the stable. It is estimated to cost about $3,000.

Hurd & Sutton, architects, 925 and 926 Prudential Building, Newark, N. J., are working on the following plans: A three-story brick store and apartments for Chas. Turich and Morris Kolodin. Cost $17,000. PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y, NOV. 11, 1903

ARCHITECTS' NOTES

W. L. Plack, architect, has moved from 1403 Filbert street, to 1208 Chestnut street, where he will occupy the entire eighth floor of this building. This move was necessary owing to him being cramped for room and to accommodate his increasing business.

Architects Parker & Thomas, Baltimore, Md., have had their plans selected by the Government for the new Government building to be erected at Huntingdon, W. Va. The design is classical in character, of stone, brick and iron. It will be three stories high, with three large two-story windows in the front. The post office will be located on the first floor and the courtroom will occupy the second floor, together with offices for the judges, United States Marshal, District Attorney and other officers. It will have fine interior finish and will be provided with all modern conveniences. The estimated cost is about $126,000.

Peter Kuhn, architect, 1524 Sansom street, is working on plans for a new residence to be built at Tyson, Pa., for Mr. Droeffer. It will be two stories and attic high, 32x36 feet, and will be built of frame with stone foundations. It will have hardwood on the interior and will contain all modern improvements. Will be ready for bids in about two weeks' time.

Heacock & Hokanson, architects, 631 Chestnut street, have completed plans and specifications and sent same to the owner who will take bids for a new glass factory to be built at Newark, N. J. It will be two stories high, 60x60 feet, and there will be a pipe alley 7x90 feet, both to be built of frame with slag roofs. The factory will have freight elevator and all modern improvements. The same firm are working on the estimate drawings for the Calvin Presbyterian church. It will be one-story and basement high, of stone and will be erected at Sixtieth and Master streets.—They are also working on stable and carriage shed for Commissioner Building of the Cheltenham township. It will be two stories high.

THE RESULTS OF THE BUILDING SEASON ENDING WITH OCTOBER 31, LAST.

4,919 New buildings of all kinds erected and in course of erection, costing $25,499,825 exclusive of the cost of the land, a gain over the same months of last year of 564 new buildings of various kinds, while the investment is greater by $3,840,729.

1,864 Alterations and additions (costing $300.00 and over) costing $2,796,000 or 96 less of these than last year, and the improvements of this character cost this year $144,000 less.

14,881 Transfers of Real Estate against 12,906 for the same months of last year. The cash consideration in 1902 was $73,498,759.31, while this year it is $79,555,537.28, an increase of $6,055,777.97.

We desire to make two statements at the start, the first of which is: Operative building will not be overdone, because of the difficulty of financing large operations.

Second: The Pencoyd Iron Works will not be abandoned. Nor will they be removed to Pittsburg, nor will the works be permanently closed.

We get this information semi-officially, and it can be relied on.

The company has, it is stated, over 20,000 tons of structural iron and steel work, which was ordered but has not been used owing to labor troubles. It is said that the company has not been able to collect a dollar for this product and that it has been stored in all kinds of places awaiting its use.

It was but natural that the report that this important industrial plant, employing thousands of workmen, was to be permanently closed should have sent a tremor throughout the entire community, but it is now certain that the works will be reopened just as soon as conditions will justify it.

The Pencoyd shut-down is a simple reflection of labor troubles, nothing more nor less. As an episode it involves the welfare of thousands of unfortunate innocents who were in no way responsible for, as we understand it, the company had no issue with its working force. It is over-loaded with its products which cannot be used owing to disturbances in labor circles, for which it is in no way responsible.

The foregoing statement which we believe to be absolutely correct, goes very far in clearing the atmosphere; for while the effect of its shut-down, however limited, is the same, there is a vast difference between the cause as it has been reported and the one as stated above, which we and others have been assured is the fact.

From a few similar episodes in the industrial life of the country, together with the barbarous way in which the lambs were shorn of their fleeces in the stock market, quite a number of very estimable gentlemen became seriously alarmed even to the extent that they predicted a panic as inevitable. Industry was to be seriously impaired, and the wage earners had already begun to double-up in houses, and the doubling-up was and is to go on to the serious detriment of real estate.

If we can only partially succeed in quieting the nerves of these good people, we shall, feel fully repaid for the effort.

To do this is now a part of our task; we must rise or fall upon results.

There are many persons yet alive who were in active business life when the War of the Rebellion broke out in 1861. At the beginning of that great historical event the alarmists were as thick as the proverbial hairs on a dog's back. Men of good judgment in other things created a veritable stampede. They rushed pell-mell to sell their houses, their farms and their chattels, sacrificing these things in many instances regardless of their worth.

Fortunately, however, men are not constituted alike, for while there were very many who were built on pessimistic lines, the majority of the men of the North were made of better stuff. When the capital was threatened that good old man, the President, wildly walked up and down the corridors of the White House calling aloud for the men of the North, and upon being told that all transportation was cut off he fairly shouted out in wild defiance, "Why, in the name of God, don't they walk?" They were walking by the thousands, they were walking on the rails, on the railway tracks, the country lanes and through the streets of the cities, and they got there; and thousands of these selfsame boys of '61, grown to be old men now, and hundreds of thousands of their sons, imbued with the same spirit, are ready to walk to-day, to-morrow or the next day. Nor will they worry over the condition of the stock market or waste any time in predicting panics.

The fact is, the hard headed men of this or any other country are not easily demoralized. If they were, there wouldn't be any countries worth living in.

There is nothing in the business situation to create a doubt in the minds of sensible and observing men as to the future, unless the lambs who lost their fleeces in the last raid on the stock market count for something; and even on that basis it was but a change of ownership. The fluctuations of the stock market never was and never will become a reliable barometer of the business or industrial energies of any country.

Are our good brethren who have been wisely rubbing their chins while predicting a panic basing their prediction upon the shrinkage in business? If so, then we ask, why shouldn't there have been a shrinkage? Has there ever been a period in the history of civilization when so much has been accomplished as in our own country during the last five years in repairing depletion in every direction as well as providing for the wants of an increased population with needs as well as ability augmented a hundred fold as a result of this selfsame era of prosperity?

How much more might have been accomplished if the labor leaders had not lost their heads! The 20,000 tons of structural steel and iron, the product of a single Eastern industrial plant, which they have kept tied up, will only partially answer.

To the predictors of panics and hard times really believe that the rush and crush for material of a few months ago could last forever or that there is no end to the abnormal demand for things substantial such as warehouses, factories, office buildings, steamships, thousands of miles of additional railway tracks, or that these substantial, when erected or constructed, are without endurance?

If the workmen of the country, skilled and unskilled, will only suppress their blooming idleness for a single year and start in as free men, untrammelled and unhampered by union and that if trade unions and "make hay while the sun shines," there is even now enough work that has been held up and postponed in the building line to keep them hustling through 1904.

The fact alone is quite enough answer for the worst pessimist in the country. It is usual as the nation approaches its Presidential year, for a waiting policy to prevail in most all directions. Why this is so is beyond our ken, but it is one thing certain, and that is, if trade unionism will only subside for a single year and shake its leaders or lock them up, there will be work galore for the man who handles the axe, the plane, all branches of the building trades, to the most skilled mechanic.

At the present writing the delegates of the Marble Setters' Union at their own solicitation are holding a conference with the view of prevailing upon the master builders to recall the shut-out. This is a faculty may be settled before we get to press, and yet right here in our own city it is proposed to substitute wood for marble floors in the Land Title Annex as a result of union arrogance and undisciplined tomfoolery on the part of full-grown men.

The carpenters have wisely concluded to abandon the sympathetic to the idleness and by resolution have declared that they will not take orders from the Building Trades Alliance. This is an important step towards a settlement of all difficulties by January 1, next.

Dun & Co. say there were more failures in October of this year than for that month in ten years. If these were heeded down to the true cause it will be found, Mr. Pessimist, that most of them were stock brokers or those who tickled the fickle goddess.

The railroads are making money. The Western farmers have a big crop of grain behind them, and this settles the freights both East and West for another year, at least. The only difficulty that the agricultural interests of the country had to cope with, that we can see, was a continued scarcity of labor, as the more remunerative employment which attracted the farm hands to the cities and by resolution and shut-outs that prevailed during the harvest seemed to have had but little influence in compelling their return to agriculture.

The savings fund institutions of the city show considerable change since last July in deposits and withdrawals. The deposits have increased, but the volume of deposits is considerably less and the withdrawals greater during October than for a long time, as a result of people seeking more interest than they can pay on the paying off of mortgages, for the purchase of stock because of the drastic break in market values, and for a hundred other reasons.

The sentiment is in favor of the proposed city loan of $27,000,000 even at three and a half per cent. In preference to the former even at the four per cent episode the calling in of a number of the four per cent. real estate mortgages by a few of the trust companies, and a demand for a larger rate of interest has created considerable talk as well as some severe criticism. In a regard of interest it is thought that higher rates will prevail.

It is estimated that there is at least $10,000,000 worth of heavy construction work held up at present through labor troubles in this city alone. We notice, however, that the building industry is several building propositions that have reached the contemplated period only, but the deterring influence is just as important in this direction as though excavations had been made.

Money is not plenty in business circles, and the enormous per capita of nearly $30.00, while a generous governmental proposition on paper, fails to practically materialize with those who are dependent upon their collections to pay wages as well as to meet their bills when they have received no express financial strength, of course, but they live by small consolation to the business man whose needs are compounded through increased business without a proportionate increase of ability to procure the cash when most needed.

Pig iron was never much lower than at present. It has lost its former prestige as a barometer of conditions. The demand has been seriously impaired as a very natural result of strikes and requirements, but it must not be forgotten that one great corporation, which has absorbed hundreds of industrial plants that were formerly constantly in the market as purchasers of this product, is now able to exercise a most potent influence in shaping prices.

We think that the transfers of real estate this year merit more consideration than usual, and we now believe that our predictions made several times that for the twelve months of 1903 they would reach nearly $100,000,000 will be verified.

For the ten years ending the present year it will be seen by our tables that they already amount to considerably over $79,000,000, and, indeed, the records of transfers in this class of business for the month of November last were larger in number than we have ever reported during the existence of this journal.

There is certainly a prevailing wholesome disposition on the part of our people to become the owners of homes, and while many of these purchases are heavily mortgaged, the disposition is toward the small percentage of cases, yet the sentiment should be encouraged as it always has been, as it is the basis on which we build and making our claim as the single American City.

The economic proposition it expresses, besides more incentive to industry, economy and commendable energy in the proper direction, than any other influence that can be suggested.

If the former Mr. York tenement house commission, while in its former position, for its report as was the fact a few years ago, could have had as a Philadelphia example of decent living methods, the conditions of tenement life prevalent in the first street district of West Philadelphia, it would have been overcome with wonder and amazement.

To say that the demand for two-story dwellings in this section of the city is strong is to say too mildly to convey a proper idea of the facts—but we do say, because we know it to be the fact, that in many instances the demand enters into the market before the houses are finished. The absence of mantels and paperhangings is of but small consideration for it is known that the absence of all but the outside doors cut no figure in delaying occupancy.

It is gratifying to recognize the commendable effort of being able to secure for the city greater prominence as well as recognition in outside business circles. The city is in closer touch and on a better standing with the Southern merchants than at any time since the war.

In face of the fact that there are trust companies in this city that have not financed a single building project, and by reason of their appreciation of investments of this character in former years, the results of the year thus far is highly creditable to our city.

There are 527 more new buildings known as operative work than for the same months of last year. There are 702 more two-story dwellings and 125 less three-story.

The sentiment has largely favored the two-story dwellings as a result of the decided preference of buyers and renters.

The operators cannot be blamed for confining their efforts mostly to two-story houses, as the merchant must keep for sale the goods that people prefer, the builder must do likewise or become loaded with dead wood and meet a loss.

There are no more unoccupied dwellings than there were in the same month of last year. The opinion is general that the dwellings of the city were never so generally occupied as at the present time. Rents have advanced about 10 per cent, and small dwellings are still scarce and in demand.

In analyzing the operative building by wards for the year, the following were the results: First ward, 1; Second ward, 5; Nineteenth ward, 6; Twentieth ward, 53; Twenty-fifth ward, 139; Twenty-ninth ward, 62; Thirtieth ward, 62; Thirty-first ward, 6; Thirty-third ward, 15; Thirty-fourth ward, 445; Thirty-fifth ward, 10; Thirty-sixth ward, 167; Thirty-seventh ward, 85; Thirty-eighth ward, 13; Fortieth ward, 63.

The increase of population in the Thirty-fourth ward for 1902 was 1,139. In view of the fact that dwellings, provision has been made for living accommodations for at least 6,000 persons, and if there is any one who doubts our statement that these small houses are occupied we respectfully submit the whole for a critical examination.

The losses by wards in two-story dwelling construction for the year were: First ward, 1; Second ward, 125; Twenty-fourth, 7; Twenty-sixth, 23; Twenty-ninth, 51; Forty-first, 161; Forty-second, 25. West Philadelphia is popularly known as the home of our operative builders, as is proven by the loss this year of 125. The wards that have important gains are the Third, 4; Fourth, 2; Fifth, 8; Nineteenth, 3; Twentieth, 5; Twenty-fifth, 80; Twenty-ninth, 3; Thirtieth, 3; Thirty-third, 3; Thirty-sixth, 4; Thirty-seventh, 13; Thirty-ninth, 5; Forty-second, 15.

The proposition on paper, as a residential section seems to be on the increase and inasmuch as the Thirty-fourth ward leads both in increase of population, as well as in dwelling house construction, it is but fair to attribute a large share of this result, to the energy of the Thirty-fourth Ward Business Men's Association, under the practical and judicious management of its president, Mr. Amos Christ, of the firm of Huey & Christ, Market street.

It will be seen that West Philadelphia is responsible for 1,139 of the two and three-story dwellings erected this year or 48.7 per cent. of the whole number erected in this city. Of the 2,159 erected in West Philadelphia, the Thirty-fourth ward must have credit for 1,368 or 63 per cent.

Mr. W. Bruce Barrow, whom we regard as the highest authority on industrial building necessities, says:

"Since my last report, I think of July, the condition of the building market as to factories, mills, warehouses and business properties has been practically unchanged. The demand for building sites for all classes of property has been good, but we have not been able to find many of the prospective investors to borrow sufficient to help through with the enterprise. This, I think, would not have happened had the unions not interfered so largely with the completion of the labor question before the complete operations without being tied up has caused financiers to withhold money as loans.

"If the trades could be established on a rule upon 5 or 10 years' basis even at the present high rates it is my opinion that building would be continued. I believe that the labor question before erecting large sites on which the applicant contemplates erecting large and handsome manufacturing plants.

"I represent a number of owners who are waiting for settlement of the labor question before erecting large commercial houses in the centre of the city. The demand for old buildings of the medium and small classes has been very large and there are very few without tenants to-day.

What Philadelphia requires most is large modern buildings space for manufacturing. The city has now have from 10,000 to 20,000 or even 30,000 square feet per floor, so that their entire business can be concentrated on one floor. I believe it would be a good thing if the city could have a few large buildings on a property.

I have constant demand from New York and other cities for building sites for the various lines of trade, some parties saying they would wait a year for same to be erected.

"A New York correspondent states that the year past has been good but that the prospects for 1904 are not encouraging, laying the principle cause to labor matters."

We recommend our pessimistic friends to dwell long and earnestly upon Mr. Barrow's statement.

There are 31 warehouses this year, costing $975,880, against 29 last year, costing $420,225, a gain of $555,655.

Dye and dryhouses, 7, costing $3,950; a loss in the investment of $38,450.

Factories, 62, costing $1,500,200; last November we reported 62, costing $1,483,606, a loss of $16,594, and an investment less by $983,496.

Engine and boiler houses, 13, costing $591,750. For the same months of last year there were 22 of these and the investment was $790,000; a gain this year, thus far in this direction, of $280,850.

Breweries and bottling houses, but 2 so far this year, costing $21,800; last November we reported but 1, costing $42,000, a loss here of $20,200.

Foundries and shops, 37, costing $426,550; there were 32 of these last November, and their cost was $374,495, a gain this year of $52,055.

Stores, 55, costing $6,182,700, against 53 last year up to November 1, costing $748,440, a gain of $5,434,260.

Here, then, are 207 industrial buildings of all kinds up to and including October 31 of this year, representing an investment of $12,483,606, a loss of $16,594, and for the same months 242 industrial buildings and their cost was $12,418,125. This falling off in numbers can justify attention to the states and the conservation of business men in their estimate of business conditions.

There are 13 school houses, against the 4 erected during the ten months of last year.

Stables are 121, an increase of 3, and the investment is greater by $4,500.

There are 11 churches, costing $391,300; there were also 11 in our last November report, costing $355,757, a loss of $35,543.

The one hundred miscellaneous buildings include: Power houses, $17,000; round house, $115,000; apartment houses, $1,021,000; freight house, $2,000; hotels, $5,000; fire houses, $61,000; crematorium, $11,000; storage house, $18,000; orphanage, $13,000; hospitals, $86,000; car barns, $39,000; mercantile building, $50,000; parish houses, $50,000; gymnasium, $375,000; library, $30,000; infirmary, $18,000; telephone exchange, $125,000; generator house, $40,000; building for filter plant, $30,000; patrol house, $10,000; bath houses, $22,000; fire houses, $61,000; bank, $145,000; administration building, $55,000; home, $27,000; dormitories, $37,475; battery house, $18,000; laundry, $10,000; and a few other buildings of minor importance.

There were 1,966 alterations and additions, costing $2,040,000, in our November report of 1902, while in our tables this year there are but 1,864, and their cost is $2,976,000. We think that the postponing of improvements of this character as a result of the proposed change during the early part of the year of the assessed value of real estate is responsible for the falling off this year.

We show 14,881 transfers of real estate recorded this year from January 1 to October 31, inclusive, against 12,000 for the same months of 1902. Here is an increase in the number of 1,975. The cash consideration in this year's tables is $79,555,537.28, while last year it was $75,498,759.31.

The mortgage incumbrance this year on the properties transferred is $88,823,345.63 or 36.2 per cent. In 1902 it was 39.8 per cent.; in 1901 it was 40.8 per cent.; in 1900 it was 39.6 per cent.; in 1899 it was 40 per cent.; in 1898 it was 36.4 per cent.

The ground rents on the real property transferred amount to $208,200.26, which on a per cent basis represent a further incumbrance of $5,317,771.00.

The sales at auction this year aggregate $2,519,820.25, this is an increase over the aggregate for the same months of 1902 of $226,608.84. It would seem from this increase that the auction room is a method of finding customers is growing more popular.

A careful canvass among the prominent architects of this city proves their sentiment to be optimistic as to 1904. Of course, such opinions are the result of requests for sketches, estimates, and probe costs and inquiries of various kinds which are precursors to orders for plans. There are already inquiries of this kind for enough material to build 100,000 houses, hospitals, school houses, iron piers, power houses, warehouses, residences, etc., to justify this opinion if labor affairs are adjusted.

Private capital cuts an immense figure in the financing of operative building construction as is made evident by the fact that Messrs. Hazlett & Moss, 631 Walnut street, for the year thus far, have made advances to builders aggregating $1,000,000. Mr. Moss predicts a good business in building as well as in sales of real estate during 1904.

Messrs. Pemberton & Co., operative builders, inform us that this is the most successful year in disposing of their building property.

On page 741 will be found our table of new buildings of all kinds, erected during the building season—January 1st to October 31st—of each year since 1887 inclusive.

LARGEST OLD BOOK STORE IN AMERICA

Books Bought

If you have a library or a small parcel of books, send your address and we will call and examine them. If you live away from Philadelphia and have a small lot—say of fifty, one hundred, two hundred, three hundred books—not enough to pay us to make a special trip—send us a list and we will let you know by mail how we buy small quantities. We have thousands of such transactions, and never a dissatisfied seller.

DO IT NOW!!

Insure Your Home, Furniture, Store, etc., in the

DELAWARE

INSURANCE COMPANY OF PHILA.

Has Paid Over $20,000,000 in Losses Against Fire should be adapted to your circumstances, age and occupation.

If you need to emphasize Protection you will buy a Life Policy.

If you wish to combine Savings and Investment with Insurance you will buy an Endowment Policy.

If you are advanced in years and wish to be relieved from financial care, you will buy an Annuity Contract, assuring you an annual income for life.

If you are undecided as to the kind of Policy, or if you do not now feel able to carry the kind you think you want, THE PENN MUTUAL has a low premium Policy well suited to your case. This contract enables you to start your Insurance now and to have your payments credited on any other Policy you may wish to select later—the premium rate of the new Policy to be that of your present age.

ARCHITECTS' NOTES

Lindley Johnson, architect, Harrison Building, is preparing plans for alterations and additions to city residence of W. H. Corbin, Esq., at Elizabeth, N. J.

Carl P. Berger, Architect, South Penn Square building, is taking sub-bids on the Dr. G. Kellner Memorial to be erected in Mt. Vernon Cemetery, Philadelphia. Concrete foundations, granite, bronze work, carvings and sculpture.

Theodore Presser has commissioned Lawrence V. Boyd, architect, Harrison Building, to prepare plans for remodeling the buildings, 1712-14 Chestnut street, recently purchased by him, into an office building. The first floor will be a store and will be occupied by Mr. Presser. Further details later.

Lincoln H. Smith, Architect, has opened up an office on the sixth floor of the Crozer Building, room 617, where he will be pleased to see his patrons and friends. He is also working on plans for a bungalow to be built at Stearns, Whitley county, Kentucky, for W. L. Nevrens. It will be one-story high, 40x50 feet.

Lacey & Hayes, associate architects, 1012 Walnut street, have completed competitive drawings and forwarded them to the proper officials for the new court house to be erected at Window, Minn., at a cost of $50,000. It will be three stories and basement high and will measure 60x110 feet, and will be constructed of stone and brick.

Charles W. Bolton, Architect, Witherspoon Building, is working on plans for a church and Sunday School building to be erected at the southwest corner of Nineteenth and York streets, for the Bethel Presbyterian congregation. It will be one-story and basement high and will be constructed of stone, with slate roof. Plans will be ready for bids in about three weeks' time.

Newman & Harris, Architects, Land Title Building, are working on preliminary plans for a handsome new residence to be built at Broad Axe, Pa., near Chestnut Hill, Phila., for E. Price, Esq. It will be two-stories and attic and will be L shaped. It will measure 68x40 feet and will be constructed of half-timber and stone. It will have porches and stone terrace. The interior will be in hardwood finish and will be in the Old English style throughout and will have all modern conveniences.

Otto Wolf, Architect, 1025 Arch street, has completed plans and specifications and sent same out to builders for estimate for a new storage house to be built at Fairhill above Clearfield streets, for the Philadelphia Brewing Company. It will be three stories high, 54x83 feet, and will be built of brick and slow burning construction. The following builders have been invited to bid: John Gill, J. R. Wiggins & Co., Stacy Reeves Sons, Roydhouse & Arey Co., J. E. & A. L. Pennock. Bids due November 20th.

Louis C. Hickman, architect, 328 Chestnut street, has completed plans and specifications and sent same out to builders for estimates for the new foundry building of W. S. Potts & Son, to be built on Spring street between Fifteenth and Sixteenth streets. It will be two stories high, 56x61 feet, and will be built of brick and slow burning construction and will have slag roof. The following builders have been invited to bid: Henderson & Co., S. R. Riley, Dietrich & Bower, John R. Wiggins & Co., H. Marion Zane, J. S. Wilson and P. J. Hurley.

Rowland W. Boyle, Architect, 1626 Chestnut street, has completed plans and specifications and sent same out to builders for estimates for the new rectory to be built at Bridgeport, Pa., for St. Augustine R. C. congregation, Rev. M. Gately, rector. It will be three-stories high and will be built of stone. The interior will be in hardwood finish and it will contain all up-to-date improvements. The following builders have been invited to bid: Wm. J. McShane, John McShane, P. J. Hurley, Mitchell Bros. and two local builders. Bids due November 20th.

J. R. Ogden, Architect, 1003 Atlantic avenue, Atlantic City, N. J., has prepared plans and specifications for a two-story club house to be built at Massachusetts and Baltic avenues, in that city. It will be constructed of frame and will measure 23x48 feet and will have all up-to-date improvements, including boat slip, etc. Bids for the above work have been submitted. He is also working on plans and specifications for 10 two-story frame cottages to be built at Paulshoro, N. J. They will have all modern improvements, such as up-to-date plumbing, carpenter work, painting, plastering, etc. He will be ready for bids in a very short time.

BUILDING AND REAL ESTATE NOTES

R. C. Ballinger Co., builders, 213 North Thirteenth street, have been awarded the contract to make extensive alterations and additions to the Northern Soup Society Building, at 817 Fourth street.

Daniel Knauer, builder, at Atlantic City, has been awarded the contract to make alterations and additions to Brighton Hotel, at that city, according to plans prepared by Lindley Johnson, architect, Harrison Building.

R. Humphries, builder, 2514 South Broad street, will erect 39 two-story brick dwellings on the east and west side of Frazier street west of Master. They will contain all modern improvements and will cost about $31,200.

The following builders: R. C. Ballinger Co., John P. Thompson, I. W. Thompson, J. R. Wiggins & Co., John W. Gill, Joseph Bird, and Robert Tarlow Co., have filed bids with Architect Addison Hutton, Stephen Girard Building, for extensive interior and exterior improvements to the Hotel Winsor, 1221

Filbert street, according to plans prepared by him.

John K. Mann, builder, at Fernandino, Fla., has been awarded the contract to build the shingled church at Jekyll Island, Ga., for the Jekyll Island Club, according to plans prepared by Lindley Johnson, architect, Harrison Building.

Miller & McGraw, contractors, Arcade Building, have been awarded the contract for the two-story frame clubhouse to be built at Tabor Station, for the Philadelphia & Reading Railway Company (details previously noted). Plans by the company's engineers.

J. P. Thompson, Geo. S. Roth, W. J. Patterson, W. G. Gruher, W. C. Wright and John W. Fritzinger, builders, have filed bids with Baker & Dallett, Architects, Crozer Building, for alterations and additions to the residence of Mrs. A. C. Roberts, 229 W. Walnut Lane, Germantown, according to plans prepared by them.

Henderson Co., Limited, Heed Building, have submitted bids for the New Jersey City General Hospital, to be built at Baldwin and Montgomery streets, Jersey City, N. J. It will comprise a main building, three stories and basement high, a Power House, Morgue, In-sane and Alcoholic Building, Tuberculosis Building, Nurses' Home and Stable, all to be built of brick and stone and will contain all modern hospital appliances and equipments. Plans and specifications were prepared by Charles F. Long, Architect, 76 Montgomery street, Jersey City.

Wells Bros. Company, builders, Stephen Girard Building, have filed bids for the new Kenesaw Apartment House, to be built at the corner of Sixteenth and Kenesaw avenue, Washington, D. C. It will be seven stories, basement and sub-basement high and will measure 192x72 feet, and will be built of brick and terra-cotta and will be fireproof throughout. It will have all the up-to-date appointments of a first-class apartment house, such as steam heat, electric wiring, best plumbing, elevator, etc. Plans by Geo. W. Stone, architect, Washington, D. C.

W. W. Moore, of Downingtown, Pa.; Chas. B. Palmer, of Wayne, Pa.; W. H. Burns, of Berwyn, Pa.; Wm. Russell, of Paoli, Pa.; Lewis Warner, of Devon, Pa., and W. Wads-worth, of Chester Valley, Pa., builders, have filed bids with Duhring, Okie & Ziegler, Architects, South Penn Square, for tenant house and farm building to be built at New Centerville, Pa., for Mr. George R. Yarrow, according to plans prepared by them. They have also awarded the contract for the brick and stone residence to be built at Jenkintown, Pa., (details previously noted) to Wm. Hauser, builder, at Glenside, Pa. Work will proceed at once.

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y, NOV. 18 1903

ALWAYS IN WORKING ORDER.

They don't shrink! nor swell; nor warp; nor stick; nor do they wear out or become shabby, because they are "Allsteel."

The above is a condensed commendation of the Wm. H. Hoskins Co.'s steel filing cabinets for letters, invoices, documents of all kinds, embracing numerous devices, including an omnibus and vault truck, a check filer, together with an entire vault equipment for banks and trust companies, all pictured and explained in the company's booklet, which is entirely devoted to that purpose.

The filing cabinets are made of hardened steel; every drawer and part is carefully adjusted and is made to fit the place to which it belongs.

As a useful feature of office furniture they are symmetrical, highly finished and attractive, besides which they make business cares a pleasure, for there is nothing more vexatious or annoying to a prompt and careful business man than a mix-up among his papers at a critical moment when promptness may mean both time and money.

The Hoskins Co. is one of the oldest, most enterprising stationery and printing establishments in the city. It makes blank books, sells desks chairs and other office furniture. Paper is sold there by the pound and a pound means sixteen ounces and a ton 2240 pounds.

Our readers should investigate these all-steel cabinets and as well look into the original methods of the company. Stores, 904 and 906 Chestnut street.

N. & G. TAYLOR CO. INCREASE ITS FACILITIES.

The N. & G. Taylor Company, it will be remembered, were compelled, owing to the increased popularity of their roofing tin, to enlarge and improve their manufacturing plants in this city and at Cumberland, Md.

At the Cumberland works a new open-hearth furnace has been completed and is now running regularly, together with a new gas producing equipment consisting of four Fortes Miller producers in addition to the old producers' capacity.

A spacious new warehouse has been completed for the sheet steel department. This was necessary owing to increased business in blue annealed gauges from number 6 to 16. New annealing furnaces are being erected in the black plate department to increase the producing capacity for black plates for tinning purposes.

At the Philadelphia plant several new departments have been established, additional warehouses, storage rooms, box factory and blacksmith shop have been erected, and the tin house is being enlarged to obtain better lighting and ventilating facilities.

The N. & G. Taylor Company has recently furnished its "Columbia" brand of tin plates for roofing a number of the buildings of the Louisiana Purchase Exposition Buildings, at St. Louis.

BUILDING AND REAL ESTATE NOTES

J. E. & A. L. Pennock, Roydhouse, Arey & Co., Jacob Myers & Son, Thos. Little & Son, James Johnson, Geo. F. Payne & Co., Ransome Construction Company, Geo. Fuller & Co., have filed bids with Hewett Bros., architects, Bulfinch Building, for the new plant of John Frishmuth Bros., at Sixteenth and Lehigh avenue (details previously noted).

S. Gourley, builder, Twenty-first and Ridge avenue, has been awarded the contract for the one-story brick extension to St. Joseph's Hospital, at Sixteenth and Girard avenue. It will measure 16x48 feet. Mr. Gourley's contract is for the structural work only, the interior equipment is reserved. Plans by Rowland W. Boyle, architect, 1626 Chestnut street.

On account of being cramped for room and to accommodate his increasing business, P. I. Hurley, builder, of 1216 Chancellor street, has made extensive improvements to his office. The estimating room is now on the first floor front, with private office in the rear. Mr. Hurley occupies the entire building. He has submitted a bid for an addition, measuring 75x100 feet, to the plant of the Bridgeton Bleach and Finishing Company, at Bridgeton, N. J.

Jas. Arthur, operative building, 937 Real Estate Building, will break ground for 154 dwellings and stores to be built on the plot of ground bounded by Sixty-first street and Sixty-second street and Market street and Arch street, at a cost of $400,000. They will be two and three stories high and will measure 15 and 16 feet by 32 feet, and will be built of Pompeian brick and will have porch front. The stores will be on Market street. They will contain all modern improvements.

WASTED POWER

You stop leaks in your steam pipes as soon as you know of them. But until pipes and boilers are properly covered they are leaking just as certainly as if there were holes in them.

This useless radiation means wasted power.

ARCHITECTS' NOTES

The firm of Newman & Harris, architects, are now in their permanent offices. They occupy suites comprising Rooms 2215-16-17 Land Title Building, Broad and Chestnut streets.

Peter Kuhn, 1524 Sansom street, architect and engineer, has prepared plans for 14 houses to be built in pairs at Pittsburgh, Pa. They will measure 18x60 feet, and will be built of brick and will have porches on the front. They will contain all modern improvements and will contain 12 rooms with two baths each. Stearns & Castor, architects, Stephen Girard Building, has completed plans for a two-story office and warehouse to be built at the southeast corner of Montgomery avenue and Fawn street, for F. A. Willis. It will measure 48x56 feet. The first floor will be reinforced concrete; second floor will be construction. Bids due in about one week's time.

J. R. Ogden, architect, 1003 Atlantic avenue, Atlantic City, N. J., is now ready for bids on plans and specifications prepared by him for a new hotel to be built at Connecticut avenue and the beach, that city. It will be four stories high and will be built of brick and frame and will measure 32x84 feet. It will have all the appointments of a first-class hotel.

Stearns & Castor, architects, Stephen Girard Building, have completed plans and specifications and sent same to the owner, William M. France, of Frankford, who will take bids for an operation of 29 two-story brick and stone dwellings with porches, to measure 16x42 feet, and to be erected at Gillingham and Tackawanna streets, Frankford. They will contain all modern improvements.

Wm Bretherick, architect, 905 Walnut street, has moved into his handsome new offices on the third floor back, of the above building. He has also completed plans and specifications for alterations and additions to the residence of S. M. Mitchell, Esq., at Nantucket Island, Mass. Bids due December 27. William Henderson, of this city, and A. A. Norcross, Nantucket, Mass., are bidding.

Ballinger & Perrot, architects and engineers, have been commissioned by the Board of Directors of the Methodist Episcopal Hospital at Broad and Wolf streets, to prepare plans for the Miss Mary Robinson Burton Memorial Dispensary Building, to be erected on the grounds of the hospital. It will be two stories and basement high, 40x80 feet, and will be built of Pompeian brick and stone and will contain 21 rooms with all modern up-to-date appointments. Plans will be ready for bids in about 1 week's time.

W. J. McAuley & Company, architects, Arcade Building, are working on plans and specifications for a new bank for the First National Bank, to be erected at Schuylkill Haven, Pa. It will be two stories and basement high, 24x80 feet, and will be built of brick and stone. It will be equipped with all the necessary bank furniture. Will be ready for bids the latter part of January, 1904. The same firm has sent revised plans out for estimates for the stable of Thompson Carson, to be built at the rear of 1213 South Broad street. The original builders are bidding.

C. C. Zantinger, architect, 263 South Fourth street, has completed plans and specifications and sent same out to builders for estimates for the new country residence for Robt. Sewell, Esq., to be built at Rydal, Pa. It will be three stories high, 35x64 feet, and will be built of brick and frame with shingle roof. It will have a porch on front. The interior will be in hardwood finish and will have all modern improvements. Bids due December first. The plumbing, heating and electric lighting is reserved. Stacey Reeves & Son, A. S. Tourison, F. E. Wallace, Thos. Seeds & Son and Appleton & Burrell, of this city, and Ed. S. Lever, of Jenkintown, are bidding.

Carl P. Berger, architect, South Penn Square Building, plans have been accepted in competition from 14 designs submitted for the new bank building for the North Philadelphia Trust Company, to be built at Broad and Germantown road. It will measure 38-105 feet, one-story and mezzanine or gallery floor and basement, stone front and side, fireproof construction. Working plans to be started at once.—He has also completed plans and invited bids for Dr. Kellner's Memorial to be built at Mt. Vernon Cemetery. Work to be started at once and to be completed by May, 1904. The work comprises the following: Granite, concrete, bronze and sculpture work.

W. W. Potter, architect, 1012 Walnut street, has completed plans and specifications and sent same out for estimates for altering the present structure into a handsome Colonial residence for Mrs. Jos. R. Wainwright, situated near Ardmore, Pa. There is a kitchen wing and a rear addition to be built. The proposed structure will have a handsome porch with a porte cochere. The interior will be in hardwood finish, it will be wired for electricity, tile baths, best open plumbing work, etc. Bids due December 17. The following builders are bidding: F. H. Mahan, of Ardmore, Pa.; Grey Bros., of Rosemont, Pa.; Milton W. Young, of Overbrook, and W. R. Dougherty, of this city.

To give them more room at their stores at Twelfth and Market streets, and to afford them better accommodations so necessary for their increasing clothing department, the firm of N. Snellenburg & Co., will erect a clothing factory at Broad and Wallace streets. Wm. Steele & Sons, builders, 1600 Arch street, will prepare plans and specifications and submit estimates. It will be six stories and basement high, 80x180 feet. It will be built of brick and slow burning construction. It will have tower fire escape, modern elevators equipped with automatic fire extinguishers and every up-to-date appointment. Of course, this may be held up by labor conditions. Nothing sure when it will be started.

Seymour & Paul Davis, architects, 907 Walnut street, designs for the new high school to be erected at Reading, Pa., have been accepted in competition by the building committee. The proposed structure will be erected at Eighth and Washington streets, that city, and will be three stories and basement high, measuring 205x100 feet, and will accommodate 800 pupils. It will have a base of granite with the superstructure of cut stone and will be fireproof in its construction. It will contain assembly room, gymnasium and will have every modern appointment and convenience, heated by steam, wired for electricity, etc. It is estimated to cost about $300,000. Working drawings will be made at once and it is expected that they will be ready for estimates the latter part of December.

Chas. E. Oelschlagel, architect, Harrison Building, is completing plans and specifications for an eight-story fireproof tenement house to be erected on a lot 60x60x124 feet, situated on the corner of Price, Lena and Stafford streets, Germantown. The building is erected for the purpose of furnishing accommodations for Italian families of modern means, of which there is a very large element in that section. It will be modeled after some of the most recent structures of its kind in New York City. The exterior will be limestone and red brick and is designed in the pure Italian style. It will contain about 60 suites with bath. It will be heated by steam, wired for electricity and be equipped with modern fire escapes and will be up-to-date in all its appointments. It is expected that the estimating plans will be ready about the latter part of next month and the work of erecting the proposed structure will start the early part of next year.

Rowland W. Boyle, architect, 1626 Chestnut street, has completed revised plans and sent same out to builders for the new rectory for the congregation of St. Augustine, to be built at Bridgeport, Pa. It will be three stories high, of stone. The following builders will bid: Wm. McShane, John M. Shane, of this city; M. E. Lawler, of Norristown, Pa. Bids due November 27.—He has also sent plans out for the janitor house adjoining the new parish building at Twenty-first and Naudain streets. It will be three-stories high, 16x42 feet, and will be built of brick with tin roof. Bids due November 27. John McShane, John Welsh, Mitchell Bros. and C. Melloy are bidding.—He is also working on plans for addition to the A. O. H. Hall, situated on Eighteenth above Reed street. The addition will be one-story high, 15x20 feet, and will be built of brick. The proposed addition will be fitted up as a banquet room will be ready for bids in a short while.

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y, NOV. 25 1903

The Richardson & Boynton Company, of New York and of the Master Builders' Exchange of this city, is one of the oldest manufacturers of heaters and rangers in this country, and, indeed, it is claimed that the superiority as well as the proverbial success of American warm air furnaces as well as ranges. The Richardson & Boynton people as manufacturers are recognized as among the strongest in the country. As commercial factors the company's business extends not only throughout the entire country but it is also heavy exporters of furnaces and ranges to all parts of Europe.

The Philadelphia branch of the company is under the fostering care of Mr. Jacobus, who has been identified with the concern for many years. Mr. Jacobus has a host of friends among our builders, many of whom recognize the beauty and durability of both the heaters and ranges made by this company, and it is asserted that builders recognize that no better card can be offered to buyers of small dwellings than the statement that an old reliable Richardson & Boynton furnace is in the cellar and one of the company's ranges in the kitchen.

The company is also the manufacturer of the Richardson steam and hot water boiler which is making rapid strides to general popularity among house owners.

ARCHITECTS' NOTES

Geo. Bispham Page, architect, Harrison Building, has sent plans to Plummer Jeffries, J. D. Lengel and Gray Bros., builders, for the new gate lodge to be built at Malvern, Pa., for Mr. H. B. Cox, according to plans prepared by him. Bids due November 27.

Heacock & Hokanson, architects, 931 Chestnut street, have completed plans and specifications and sent same out for estimates for a stable and wagon shed to be built adjoining the Commissioner Building now in the course of erection at Ogontz, Pa. The following builders have been invited to bid: M. E. Hauser, of Glenside, Pa.; Samuel Poole, of Ashbourne, Pa., and F. L. Hoover & Sons, Inc., of this city. Bids due November 30, 12 o'clock noon.

Lincoln Smith, architects, Crozer Building, is working on plans and will send same out the early part of next week for a new residence to be built at Narberth, Pa., for Mr. J. Howard Wilson. It will be two-and-a-half stories high, 30x42 feet, and will be built of stone and frame. It will be surrounded by a porch. The interior will be in hardwood finish, it will be heated by hot water and will have all modern improvements. P. J. Hurley and Thomas Seeds & Sons, of this city, and two local builders will be invited to bid.

ARCHITECTS' NOTES.

Carl P. Berger, Architect, South Penn Square Building, has moved from the ninth floor to the sixth floor front of the same building.

A smoker will be given by "Atelier" Paul A. Davis, 3d, under the auspices of the T-square Club, at their clubhouse, 1204 Chestnut street, on Thursday, December 8. A good time is promised.

W. L. Plack, architect, 1208 Chestnut street, is working on preliminary plans for alterations to the Farmers' National Bank, at Oxford, Pa. Plans provide for raising up part of the building to provide space for new vault and directors' rooms.

It is reported that E. Rice, of Wilmington, Del.; Lacey & Hays and Hale and Morse, Architects, of this city, have been invited to prepare revised plans by the building committee of the Y. M. C. A. of Wilmington, Del., for their new building to be built at that city at a cost of $125,000.

It is reported that Clarence B. Kugler, who has a restaurant cafe at Broad and South Penn Square, has purchased the unexpired lease of the building, 1412-14 Chestnut street, now occupied by Jacob Reed & Sons, and will open a restaurant and cafe as soon as he takes possession, which will be early in 1905.

Thos. Bennett, architect, 1022 Walnut street, is working on plans for a new residence to be built at Glenside, Pa., for Mr. J. Dorfner. It will be two-and-a-half stories high, and will be built of frame and brick. It will contain 9 rooms and will have all up-to-date improvements. Will be ready for bids in a short while.

Price & McLanahan, architects, 1624 Walnut street, have finished plans and specifications for a new residence to be built at Ardmore, Pa., for William C. Scott. It will be three-stories high, 175x48 feet, and will be built of stone. The interior will be in hardwood finish, and it will contain all modern improvements. It will be built by day work.

Price and McLanahan, Architects, 1624 Walnut street, have been commissioned to prepare preliminary plans for the new building for Allan H. Reed, at 1424-26 Chestnut street. At the time of going to press it is impossible to get any further details as the architects have not decided on the number of stories and what the building is to be constructed of.

Philip H. Johnson, architect and engineer, Land Title Building, is working on plans for a new hospital for the State Homoeopathic Hospital for the Insane, to be erected in Hanover township, Lehigh county, Pa. It will be brick and steel and fireproof in its construction, and is estimated to cost about $500,000. Working plans will be ready the early part of February, 1904.

Bailey & Truscott, architects, 421 Chestnut street, have prepared plans for a new Episcopal church to be erected at Heppner, Oregon. It will have a quasi apsal choir. It will be constructed of stone and shingle, 70x40 feet, and will have a sacristy 16x16 feet. It will be heated by steam, wired for electricity and will have the usual church furnishings. Local builders will be invited to bid.

Newman & Harris, architects, Land Title Building, are working on plans for a store and office building to be erected on the Boardwalk, Atlantic City, N. J. (the exact location withheld), for Messrs. Bartlett & Lippincott. It will be two stories high, 100x80 feet, and will be built of brick and will be fireproof. The first floor will be a store, the second floor will be a sun parlor. The owner will take bids.

Duhring, Okie & Ziegler, Architects, South Penn Square Building, are working on plans for a new hospital for the Women's College to be erected at Twenty-second and North College avenue. It will be four stories high and will have a detached amphitheatre operating room. It will be constructed of brick and will be fireproof in its construction. It will have every modern hospital appliance and appointment.

W. Elbert Dickinson, Architect, Paterson, N. J., has prepared plans and specifications and is taking estimates for a doctor's office to be erected at Straight corner of Hamilton streets, that city, for Dr. H. V. Pike. It will be two stories high, 18 x 40 feet, and will be built of pressed brick and limestone trimmings, the interior woodwork in light oak, operating room finished in white tiles and marble and first-class up-to-date hospital plumbing fixtures. Reception room will have large open fireplace and brick mantel.

Milligan & Webber, architects, 520 Walnut street, have completed plans and specifications and sent same out to builders for estimates for alterations and additions to 717 North Second street, for M. Zimmerman & Co. (details previously noted). The following builders have been invited to bid: H. B. Shoemaker & Co., William Christy & Sons, Jos. Bird, J. Singer, Robt. Tarlo & Son and Harry Gli. Bids due December 5. They are also working on plans for a three-story stone and shingle residence, 75x40 feet, to be erected at Lansdowne, Pa., for John Castle Rice, Esq.

Thomas Bennett, Architect, 1022 Walnut street, has completed plans and specifications and sent same out to builders for estimates for a new store building to be erected at the northwest corner of Front and Cumberland streets for Rosenau Bros. It will be three stories and basement high, 26 x 40 feet, and will be built of Pompeian brick, stone and steel construction. It will have plate glass windows, hot water heating and contain all modern improvements; bids due December 10th. The following builders have been invited to bid: Thos. Seeds Son, John W. Whelan and Graham & Morrison.

BUILDING AND REAL ESTATE NOTES

Chas. Gilpin, builder, Pennsylvania Building, has been awarded the contract for the erection of photometer houses and office at Pittsburg and Altoona, for the Fintsch Compressing Company, of New York.

F. L. Hoover & Son, Inc., 629 Chestnut street, have been awarded the contract for remodeling the entire second floor of the building at the southwest corner of Thirteenth and Arch streets, for the Bell Telephone Company.

David McClelland, builder, 517 South Twentieth street, will make alterations and improvements to 338 South Lawrence street, for the Society for Organizing Charity. When the alterations have been made it will be used as a soup house.

W. J. Grubler, 77 Herman street, has been awarded the contract to make alterations and additions to the residence of John M. Whitall, Esq., Church Lane, Germantown, according to plans prepared by Brockie and Hastings, Architects, 328 Chestnut street.

Wells Bros. & Company, builders, Stephen Girard Building, have submitted bids for the proposed addition to the plant of John Byrd, situated on Catharine street above Broad. It will be three stories high, 32x114 feet, and will be built of brick with slag roof.

Frank E. Wallace, builder, 1017 Chestnut street, has filed bid with W. W. Potter, architect, 1012 Walnut street, for the alterations, additions and improvements to the residence of Mr. Joseph R. Wainwright, situated near Ardmore, Pa., according to plans prepared by him.

Henderson & Co., builders, Heed Building, have plans posted for bids for a one-story pumping station to be built at Charlotte Pier, N. Y., for the Rochester & Lake Ontario Water Company. It will measure 58x201 feet, will be built of brick. Bids due December 5.

Geo. Watson & Sons, builders, 905 North Marshall street, have been awarded the contract to make general interior improvements and alterations to the Windsor Hotel, 1229 Filbert street (details previously noted). Plans by Addison Hutton, architect, Stephen Girard Building.

Collingswood Land Company, of 240 South Third street, Philadelphia, will erect the store and dwelling at West Collingswood, N. J., for Mr. H. G. Pettit. It will be two stories, of frame and stone and will measure 28x50 feet, plans by Harry Macomb, architect, Real Estate Building.

W. R. Dougherty, Chas. Gilpin, Geo. Watson & Son and J. S. Cornell & Sons, builders, have filed bids with Addison Hutton, architect, Stephen Girard Building, for the new ambulance house for the Pennsylvania Hospital, to be erected at Eighth and De Lancey streets. It will be one-story, 49x40 feet, and will be built of brick. It is expected that the contract for this work will be awarded very promptly.

SACKETT PLASTER BOARD.

For many years architects and builders have sought a material that is both a sound deadener and a fire retardant, and that can be satisfactorily substituted for wood or metal lath without prohibitory cost.

Sackett Plaster Board is now the only sound-proof and fire retardant material on the market which is in successful use. Finished work on these boards costs no more than a good grade of wood lath and hard wall plaster, and is cheaper than work done on metal lath.

Less than one-half the amount of water is used in constructing walls and ceilings with this board than is required in plastering on other lath, resulting in a great saving of time, due to its quick drying properties, and reducing the chances of the plaster freezing to a minimum.

Sackett Plaster Board is a practical insulation against heat and cold, will not warp, buckle or shrink, and it is impossible for walls and ceilings constructed with this board to fall.

For repairs and alterations it will be found that, without increasing the cost of construction, the work is greatly facilitated by using this method.

When considering the question of partitions for the New England Conservatory of Music Apartments, Boston, Mass., the architect, wishing to have the separation between rooms as sound-proof as possible, caused a comparative test to be made of methods of constructing partitions to determine the relative value of each sound-deadener. Sackett Plaster Board showed such positive merit that it was used throughout the building.

The following is a list of buildings in Philadelphia and vicinity where Sackett Board is in use: Lu Lu Temple, new buildings of Samaritan Hospital, Phila.; Sanitarium, White Haven; Pa.; S. E. cor. 21st and Spruce sts., 3034 Chestnut st., 1320 Walnut st., 719 Pine st., Bullitt Building, Robert M. Green Building, Bromley's Mills, John Wanamaker's Store, 2014 De Lancey st., Phila.; 1125 Main st., Darby, Pa.; residence at St. Mark's Place, Phila.; two at Colwyn, Pa.; two at Haverford, Pa.; two at Wildwood, N. J.; three at Bridgeport, Pa.

BUILDING AND REAL ESTATE NOTES

Lam Building Company, S. R. Riley, A. S. Tourison and W. R. Dougherty, builders, have submitted bids to Amos W. Barnes, architect and engineer, 901 Walnut street, for alterations to the store front at 426 Market street, for Arthur Rosenberg, according to plans prepared by him.

W. R. Dougherty, builder, 1604 Sansom street, will build the new isolating ward building for the Jewish Hospital, situated on York Road. It will be two-stories high of stone. It will have all the up-to-date appointments of a building of its kind and will cost about $20,000. Work will start at once.

Doyle & Doak, builders, 1509 Sansom street, has been awarded the contract by the Board of Trustees of the Hahnemann Hospital and College to build the new maternity ward building, power house and laundry adjoining the hospital. It will be six stories and basement high and will cost $200,000.

Kendrick & Roberts, Inc., Henderson & Co., Ltd., E. F. Fender, of this city, are bidding on the new power house to be erected at League Island for the United States Government. It will be one-story high, 104x106 feet, and will be built of brick and steel. Bids due with Chief Endicott on December 26.

Armstrong and Latta, builders, Land Title Building, have been awarded the contract to build a new coal office and shed at the northeast corner of Twenty-first and Lippincott streets for the Philadelphia and Reading Railway. It will be constructed of brick and iron and will cost $2500. Work will proceed at once.

Director Costello recommends improvements to the water supply system in the section bounded by South and Vine streets and the Delaware and Schuylkill Rivers, at a cost of $95,000. He also recommends that three new boilers and a new boiler house to be constructed at Spring Garden Pumping Station, at a cost of $63,000.

Lewis Haven's Son, builder, Girard Building, have been awarded the contract to build the new stock house at Sixth and Clearfield streets, for the Philadelphia Brewing Company. It will be two stories high, 54x86 feet, and will be built of brick and slow burning construction. Plans by Otto Wolf, architect, 1025 Arch street. Work will proceed at once.

W. R. Dougherty, builder, 1604 Sansom street, has plans posted for a new cottage to be erected at Cape May, N. J., for Harry Hudson Smith. It will be three-stories and basement high, 38x50 feet, and will be built of frame with stone foundation and will have all modern improvements. Bids due December 4. Plans by Louis E. Marie, architect, of this city.

Architectural Woodworking Company, 1416-18-20 Wood street, have been awarded the contract for the interior fixtures for the G. P. Snyder & Co. Shoe Store, 1227 Chestnut street. These fixtures will be made in oak and will be ornamented with 60 grotesque figures. Also awarded the contract for the fine mahogany fixtures for S. Rosenbach Art Store, 1320 Walnut street.

Wm. Steele & Sons, builders, 1600 Arch street, have been awarded the contract to build the addition to the Industrial Trust Company Building, on Front street below Norris street. The addition will be two stories, 31x109 feet, and will be constructed of brick and granite. The interior will be finished with Mosaic floor. It will be fireproof in its construction and will cost about $70,000 (details previously noted).

S. Casals & Co., builders, Lippincott Building, will erect six houses on Sixty-third street north of Vine street, for Emmet S. Taily. They will be as follows: Three houses on Gross street, and they will be two stories high; one on Sixty-third street, will be two stories high, and two on Sixty-third street, will be three stories high. They will be constructed of brick and contain all modern improvements. This operation will cost about $15,000. Work will proceed at once.

Plans for increased postal facilities in the southern section of the city have been approved by the Post Office Department, and within a short time the erection of two branch post offices will be begun. One will be built on lot at the southwest corner of Tenth and Snyder avenue, and will be one-story high, of brick; also for another to be built at Tenth street above Washington avenue, which will be one-story high of brick. The new office will be ready for use by April 1st.

A report has been received from the sub-committee on Fire Houses on a number of bills in which they recommend the approval of the measures appropriating $35,000 for the construction of a truck house in the Fifteenth ward; $18,000 for the purchase of the premises at Cumberland, Letterly and Almond streets for fire purposes; $16,000 for the purchase of 2401-03-05 East Cumberland street for a new fire house; $3,000 for repairs to Engine House No. 42, located in the Thirty-third ward; $18,000 for the purchase of property at Frankford avenue and Wheatsheaf Lane; $5,600 for the purchase of property at Fortieth and Haverford avenue; authorizing the erection of a fire house on ground owned by the City at Second and Lehigh avenue, and $15,000 for the erection of a fire station at Ridge avenue and Dawson streets.

THROUGH PENNSYLVANIA

—At New Holland, Lancaster county, Mr. Jacob Doll will erect a dwelling.

—At Meadville, Crawford county, Council has passed a resolution to pave State street. W. A. Doane, City Engineer.

—At Bensalem, Bucks county, it is stated that bonds to the amount of $75,000 will be issued for road improvements.

—At Glen Campbell, a charter has been granted to the Grant Electric Light, Heat and Power Company. The capital is $10,000.

—At Bellevue, Allegheny county, a franchise has been secured by the Pittsburgh Railways Company for the construction of lines on the new streets of Bellevue borough.

—At Jermy, Lackawanna county, the Grand Jury has been petitioned to have a bridge constructed across Rushbrook Creek at Main street, at a cost of about $14,000.

—At Allentown, Lehigh county, it is stated that the Grand Jury has reported favorably for the construction of a bridge at Tilghman street, at a cost of about $120,000.

—At New Castle, Lawrence county, the C. D. & F. Telephone Exchange Building will be enlarged by the erection of an addition from plans prepared by Architects Alden & Harlow, Frick Building, Pittsburg, Pa.

—At Uniontown, Fayette county, Architect Andrew P. Cooper, is preparing plans for a brick laundry building for the Uniontown Laundry Company, to be erected at Uniontown, Pa. The estimated cost is about $15,000.

—At McKees Rocks, Allegheny county, it is stated that the Methodist Episcopal congregation will erect a new church from plans prepared by S. E. Greene, 409 Market street, Pittsburg. The estimated cost is $25,000.

—At Homestead, Allegheny county, Architect D. S. Pratt has prepared plans for the erection of a brick and stone church building for the first Reformed Hungarian congregation on Ninth street. The cost will be $35,000.

—At Corry, Erie county, the Armory Building will be extensively improved at a cost of about $2,000, and fitted up for theatre purposes, for Mr. Mossinor. The plans have been prepared by Architect J. T. Brenot, of Oil City, Pa.

—At Scranton, Lackawanna county, a resolution has passed Common Council directing the City Engineer to prepare plans and specifications for a wagon and railroad bridge from Mulberry street and Mifflin avenue to Carbondale street.

—At Johnstown, Cambria county, it is said that work will begin on February 1, 1904, on the proposed "Conemaugh" Valley Street Railway to connect Johnstown and Ebensburg. The line will run by the way of South Fork, Maple and Wilmore.

—At Aspinwall, Bradford county, Architect W. R. Hastings, of Aspinwall, is receiving bids for the erection of a three-story brick store and apartment building for Mrs. J. A. Tingley, to be erected at Ambende, Pa. The cost will be about $7,000.

—At York, York county, Joseph Black & Sons Hosiery Company will erect a new hosiery mill from plans prepared by Architect Hamme & Leber. Attorney-at-Law John A. Hooper, of York, Pa., can give information. The estimated cost is about $50,000.

—At Bloomsburg, Columbia county, an ordinance has been passed by Town Council granting the Danville & Bloomsburg Electric Railway entrance to the town by the way of Fifth street. The road will connect Bloomsburg and Danville and will be ten miles long.

—At Ligonier, Westmoreland county, the Westmoreland Central Railroad Company has been organized to construct a railroad fifteen miles long from Bolivar Station to Ligonier. The capital is $150,000. Mr. O. E. Hallam, of Pittsburg, is president of the company.

—At McKeesport, Allegheny county, plans are being prepared by Architect J. H. McMillen, of McKeesport, for four two-story and attic brick veneered dwellings for the Mutual Realty Company to be erected on Hughes street, McKeesport. The cost will be about $45,000.

—At Danville, Montour county, the right of way has mostly been secured for the Danville-Bloomsburg Electric Railway. Bids for furnishing ties and poles will be asked for at once. The power house will be erected at Grovania and work on its construction will begin in a short time.

—At Scranton, Lackawanna county, it is said that the managers of the Lackawanna Hospital have selected the plans of Edward Langley, Cornell Building, for a four-story brick fireproof addition to the hospital. It will be finely finished, provided with modern conveniences and will cost $100,000.

—At Turtle Creek, Allegheny county, it is reported that the Councils of Turtle Creek, East Pittsburg and Wilmerding have under consideration the appointment of engineers to make surveys and estimates of dikes five miles long and about fifteen or twenty feet high to protect Turtle Creek Valley from floods.

—At Wilkesbarre, Luzerne county, the Y. M. C. A. Building was daaged by fire a few days since, including the destruction of the stores on the first floor and the reading-room on the second floor. The third floor is occupied by a number of lodges. The loss will be about $30,000. Steps will probably be taken at once to repair the damage.

—At Shamokin, Northumberland county, surveys have been made between Shamokin and Sunbury by way of Irish Valley, also by way of Trevorton and Angustaville to Little Shamokin Creek near Sunbury, and to Sunbury, for a trolley line to be constructed by the Shamokin Extension Electric Railway. The company is planning other extensions.

—At New Hope, Bucks county, at a meeting of the Newhope Delaware Bridge Company held a short time since it was decided to award the contract for a new bridge to Louis F. At Bayshore, Long Island, New York side, it is stated that the directors of the South Bank will erect a new building and have appointed Josiah Robbins, chairman of a committee to formulate plans and to present the same at the next meeting of the board. The proposed building will be of brick or stone with fine interior finish and will be provided with all modern facilities. The estimated cost is about $20,000. George B. Howell, Perry S. Wicks, Frank S. W. Whitman and Jos. Wood are members of the committee.

At New York City, Architect Hugo Kafka has prepared plans for a brick and stone hotel to be erected at 153-155 West Forty-third street, for the Goletto estate. It will cost about $200,000.—Architects Neville & Bagge have prepared plans for ten brick and stone tenements to be erected at 102d, 103d streets and Madison and Park avenues, for Mr. C. M. Silberman. The cost will be about $450,000.—Bids will be received on November 30 by C. B. J. Snyder, Superintendent of School Buildings, New York City, for the erection of School

Number 24, the work to include plumbing and drainage; also bids at same time by same for installing electric light wiring, fixtures and electric bell system; also for ventilating and heating apparatus for School Number 84, borough of Queens.

At Kansas City, Mo., plans have been filed for a brick apartment house to be erected at Baltimore avenue near Eleventh street, at a cost of $60,000. Owner, John Moore; architects, Brecklin & Martling.—Also plans for a brick society building to be erected at Fourteenth and Vine streets, at a cost of $45,000. Owner, Masonic Building Association; architect, S. E. Chamberlain, 560 Sheldy Building.—Local press reports state that the Fraternal Order of Eagles intends erecting a clubhouse, which, including site, is not to cost more than $30,000.

At Brooklyn, N. Y., it is stated that Prof. Despradelle, of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, who was selected by Borough President Swanstrom to report on plans for the new municipal building for Brooklyn, has recommended the plans of Architect Washington Hull, 16 East Twenty-third street, New York City. These plans call for an eight-story structure to cost about $1,750,000. Bids will be received by President Swanstrom on December 2 for furnishing the material and for erecting an interior public bath building on Duffield street.—Also by same at same time bids for the erection of a court house on Gates avenue.

THROUGH MARYLAND

At Baltimore, Mr. J. C. German will erect fourteen two-story dwellings at Pautux and Currier streets.—Thomas P. Johns, contractor, has begun work on improvements to the property of E. A. & E. B. Gaffin, 411 North Charles street. The cost will be about $6,000.—Mr. George A. Blake has been awarded the contract for the erection of a three-story addition to 1031 St. Paul street. The cost will be $2,500.—Contractor James Carey has been awarded the contract for a building to be erected for the French Dominican Sisters, at Irvington. The structure will be of brick and stone, fitted with modern conveniences and will cost about $7,000.—Henry A. Nagle has begun work on a ward 24x78 feet, for the Richard F. Gundry Sanitarium near Catonsville, Md. The cost is estimated at about $23,000.

—The new church for Christ Methodist Protestant congregation will be erected at Bucher's Lane and North avenue. The contract has been awarded to A. Knell, Jr. The structure will be of frame, 35x70 feet, well finished and provided with modern conveniences.—Fourteen modern brick dwellings will be erected by J. C. German.—The Board of Awardees of the Hospital for Consumptives, at Bayview, have under consideration plans and specifications for a new building for which an appropriation of $25,000 has been made. The structure will be of red brick and will be two stories high, with finished basement. Two long porches will be constructed to extend the length of the front of the building from the first and second stories. The basement will be well finished and will contain the heating plant and a number of toilet rooms. The first and second floors will be alike, having each a large main ward with a capacity for about eighty beds. There will also be a room for attendants on each floor, a pantry and bath-rooms. The interior will be well finished and all modern conveniences and facilities for hospital work will be provided. Gas and electricity will be used for lighting.

LARGEST DOME IN THE WORLD

The plans and specifications for the World's Fair Festival Hall at St. Louis, which is to stand at the head of the main cascade on Art Hill, have been given to the contractors. The pre-eminent feature of the hall will be a sculpture-crowned top to the immense dome, 260 feet high. The dome, it is said, is to be larger than that of St. Peter's, in Rome, which is the largest in the world.

The auditorium in the interior of the building will be 112 feet high, from the floor of the theatre to the soffit of the dome. The proscenium arch of the stage has a space of ninety-three feet four inches, one of the largest in the country, and is fifty-four feet deep.—Exchange.

PHILADELPHIA, WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 9, 1903.

$5.00 PER YEAR.

ARCHITECTS' NOTES.

Ralph White & Co., architects and engineers, Pennsylvania Building, is working on plans for interior alterations and additions to 333 South Twelfth street. Plans will be ready for bids in about two weeks' time.

Baker & Dallett, Architects, Crozer Building, are preparing plans for a new club house and stable to be built at Wallingford, Pa., for the Spring Haven City Club. It will be two-stories high and will be built of stone and contain all modern improvements. Will be ready for bids the latter part of this week.

David Knickerbacker Boyd, architect, Harrison Building, is working on plans and specifications and expects to send same out for bids the latter part of this week, for an addition to shops of the Wayne Iron Works, at Wayne, Pa. The addition will be two stories high, 50x50 feet, and will be built of brick and slow burning.

Keisker & Nicholson, architects, Quinn Sharpless Building, are preparing plans in competition for the proposed new high school to be erected at Warsaw, Ind., at a cost of $30,000. It will be three stories and basement high, and will be constructed of brick and will accommodate about 160 pupils. Competitive plans are to be in the hands of the Board of Education by December 28.

Plans are being prepared for a new memorial ward building to be erected on the grounds of the Presbyterian Hospital, at 51 North Thirty-ninth street. It will be three or four stories high and will be built of brick and stone, and will have every modern hospital appointment. It will be sometime before plans are ready for bids. The Rev. Dr. Dickey is president of the board of trustees.

Wm. Bretherick, architect, 905 Walnut street, is working on sketches for a handsome new flat house to be erected in this city (the exact location and owner's name will be given later). It will be five stories and basement high and will measure 60x100 feet, and will be built of brick and terra-cotta. It will have every modern appointment and convenience, such as steam heat, tile baths, wired for electricity, elevators, etc.

James Knox Taylor, Supervising Architect of the Treasury Department at Washington, D. C., has selected the architects to enter the competition for the drawing plans for the new post office to be erected at Allentown, Pa., at a cost of $80,000. The architects are all from Philadelphia and are as follows: George B. Page, D. K. Boyd, Totten & Rogers, H. L. Reinhold, Jr., Adin B. Lacey and Wm. Charles Hays. Competitive plans due March 1.

Chas. W. Bolton, architect, Waltherspoon Building, has completed plans and specifications and sent same to the building committee for the proposed new church for the Zion Union congregation, to be built at Strausstown, Pa. It will be one-story and gallery high, and will measure 65x90 feet, and will be constructed of local stone with slate roof. It will have the usual church furnishings, such as steam heat, wired for electricity, etc. Local builders will be invited to bid.

Adin B. Lacey and William Charles Hays, associate architects, 1012 Walnut street, will prepare plans for a twin house to be erected in West Philadelphia (the exact location has not been decided as yet), for Mr. B. A. Jenkins, of 4202 Girard avenue. It will be two and a half stories high, 20x55 feet, and will be built of brick and stone and will have all modern improvements. It is expected that the plans and specifications will be sent to the owner after the first of the year, who will take the bids.

Prof. Laird has been appointed Consulting Architect by the Library Committee of the Camden Carnegie Library for the proposed new library to be erected at Broadway and Lime street, that city, at a cost of $80,000. It is their intention to invite four architects from other cities and all the architects in Camden county. The four will receive a prize of $15,000 each and two of the best plans of the Camden architects will receive $15,000 each. The program for competition will be sent out about January 1st, 1904.

McIlvaine & Roberts, architects, Land Title Building, have prepared plans for three new houses to be erected at Cynwyd, Pa., for McIlvaine & Co. They will be two-and-a-half stories high, and will measure 20x30 feet, each will be constructed of stone and plaster. They will have porches on the front, the interior in hardwood finish and will contain all modern improvements.—The same firm have completed plans for interior alterations to the residence of Mr. J. B. Riley, on St. Charles' Place, Atlantic City. Mr. J. B. Riley will take sub-bids.

Heacock and Hokanson, Architects, 931 Chestnut street, have completed plans and specifications and sent same out to builders for estimates for a new residence to be built at Jemintown, Pa., for Mr. W. B. Cooke. It will be three-stories high and will be built of frame and stone. It will have a porch on front and will contain all modern improvements. Bids due December 14th. The following builders are bidding: Metzger & Wells, D. W. Sperry, Lynch Bros., F. M. Davis, W. J. Grubler, of this city; John Knafie, of Lansdale, and Wm. Conrad, of Glenside, Pa.

Revised plans have been prepared and bids will be filed with Amos W. Barnes, architect and engineer, northeast corner of Ninth and Walnut streets, on December 10 for the new manufacturing building to be erected at 13-15-17 South Third street, for Mr. Charles Snickson. It will be five stories and basement high and will be constructed of brick and stone. The first floor will be stores. It will have all modern improvements. The following builders have bid: Geo. L. Sipps, John R. Wiggins & Co., The Chas. McCaul Co., Doyle & Doak and Cramp & Co.

M. H. Dickerson 2nd, architect and engineer, Land Title Building, has completed plans for a three-story residence to be built at Seventy-second street and Gibson avenue for Jos. Reibel. It will measure 17 x 62 feet and will be built of brick and stone with slate roof. It will have a porch on front and side and the interior will be in hardwood finish. It will have modern plumbing, tile bath and will have all modern improvements. Bids due December 12, at 10 o'clock. The following builders are bidding: Lynch Bros., M. P. Murphy, D. A. McClelland and P. J. Hurley.

Chas. J. Brooke, architect, 14 South Broad street, has completed plans for the handsome new edifice for the Kensington Congregational church to be built at Indiana avenue and C street. It will be two stories high and will measure 53x88 feet, and will be built of stone and brick with slate roof. It will be heated by steam, lighted by gas. The Sunday-school will be on the first floor; the main audience room on the second floor, and heating plant in the basement. It will have the usual church furnishings. Bids due December 28. The following builders are bidding: Stacey Reeves & Son, Burd P. Evans, P. J. Hurley and D. McClelland.

Wilson, Harris and Richards, Architects, Drexel Building, have completed plans and specifications and sent same out to builders for estimates for alterations and addition to 806-08 Arch street for L. Dannebaum Sons & Company. Bids are due December 11th. The following builders have been invited to bid: Burd P. Evans, H. M. Zane, Wm. Steele & Son, Thos. Seeds, Jr., Thomas Little & Son, A. Raymond Raff, John R. Wiggins & Co., Lewis Haven & Sons, Doyle & Doak, Roydhouse, Arey & Co., J. E. & A. L. Pennock, Chas. Gilpin, Henderson & Co., The Chas. McCaul Co., Geo. F. Payne & Co., and F. L. Hoover & Sons, Inc.

Thos. Bennett, architect, 1022 Walnut street, has been commissioned by W. Devine to prepare plans for a new factory to be erected at 921 North Fifth street. It will be five stories and basement high, and will be built of brick and slow burning construction, and will be equipped with modern factory appliances. It is expected that plans will be ready for bid after the first of the year.—The same architect has completed plans and specifications and sent same out to builders for bids for a new residence to be built at Glenside, Pa., for Mr. J. Dorfner. It will be two and a half stories high and will be built of frame and brick. It will have a porch on front and will contain 9 rooms with all modern improvements. Bids due December 16. The following builders are bidding: Thos. Seeds & Son, J. B. Thompson, Graham & Morrison, D. W. Sperry.

OBITUARY

Architect Amos J. Boyden at the time of his death was employed by the United States Treasury Department to supervise the construction of the Government Post Office Building at Indianapolis, Ind., previous to which he had supervised the construction of the United States Mint Building in this city, and the United States Post Office Building at Camden, N. J.

Mr. Boyden was a member of the American Institute of Architects, which organization has already passed suitable resolutions deploring his death.

Mr. Boyden was a refined and educated gentleman, and had a host of warm personal friends, both in and out of his profession.

He was both efficient and conscientious in his efforts to secure for his Government the best possible construction work for the buildings intrusted to his care as a supervisor.

BUILDING AND REAL ESTATE NOTES

Wm. Morrow, builder, 320 Harmony street, has been awarded the contract to build the new foundation and wall to 4601-03 Meredith street. Work will start at once.

Crimp & Co., builders, 1421 Filbert street have been awarded the contract for additions to dye house and drying room of the Southwalk Mills Company at Eighth and Tasker streets. It will cost about $6,000.

H. Marion Zane, builder, 314 North Fifteenth street, will make interior alterations to 120 South Seventeenth street for Captain Lair. He will also make interior improvements to building at 36 South Sixteenth street.

Dorsey & Smith, builders, 111 North Seventh street, will erect the new store building at the southeast corner of Ninth and Race streets, for M. J. Mallon. It will be three stories high, 15x 30 feet, and will be built of brick and stone and will cost $4,500.

The Eighth National Bank at the northeast corner of Second street and Girard avenue have purchased the adjoining property on Second street and will utilize it for increasing the size of the bank. Nothing definite will be done, however, for some time.

Richard Kerns, builder, of Bridgeport, has been awarded the contract to build the new rectory for St. Augustine congregation at Bridgeport, Pa. It will be three-stories high of stone and contain all modern improvements. Plans by Rowland W. Boyle, architect, 1626 Chestnut street.

S. R. Riley, 627 Filbert street, builder, has been awarded the contract to build the new foundry at 1517-19 Spring street, for W. S. Potts & Son. It will be two-stories high, 56 x 61 feet and will be built of brick and stone, slow burning construction and will cost $5000. Plans by Louis C. Hickman, Architect, 328 Chestnut street.

M. E. Hauser, builder, of Glenside, Pa., has been awarded the contract to build the new stable for Cheltenham Township at Ogontz, Pa. It will be two-stories high of frame and brick (details previously noted). Plans and specifications were prepared by Heacock and Hokanson, Architects, 931 Chestnut street, Philadelphia.

Henry P. Schneider, builder, Ninth and Tio-ga streets, will break ground for an operation of 35 dwellings to be erected on the west side of May south of Fairmount avenue, 34th ward. They will be two stories high and will measure 14x25 feet, and be built of brick and contain all modern improvements. This operation will cost about $24,500.

W. R. Dougherty, A. Raymond Raff, Stewart Construction Company, John Gill have filed bids with Stearns & Castor, architects, Stephen Girard Building, for the milk depot for Mr. F. A. Wills, to be erected at the southeast corner of Montgomery avenue and Fawn street. It will be two stories high, 48x65 feet, and contain all modern improvements.

Roydhouse, Arey & Co., builders, Fidelity Building, have been awarded the contract to build the storage warehouse known as building number four for Frishmuth Bros. at Lehigh and Glenwood avenues. It will be one-story high, 285 x 100 feet and will be built of stone. Plans by Hewett Bros., architects, Bullitt Building. Work will proceed at once.

John Drummer, builder, of Wino, N. J., has been awarded the contract to build the new residence at that place for S. M. Jordan. It will be two and a half stories high and will be built of stone and frame. It will have a porch on front. The interior will be in hardwood finish and it will contain all modern improvements. Plans by Isaac Pursell, Architect, 119 South Fourth street.

Chas. Gilpin, builder, Pennsylvania Building, has plans posted for the proposed new building for the Public Service Corporation of New Jersey, as designed by Geo. B. Post, architect, of New York. It will be 13 stories high with basement and sub-basement, and will measure 100x63x79x92 feet, and will be constructed of marble, terra-cotta and brick and is to be erected on the northeast corner of Park Place and North Canal street, Newark, N. J., and will contain every modern appointment and convenience of an up-to-date office building. Bids due December 17.

ARCHITECTS' NOTES

A number of Philadelphia architects have been invited by the Board of Directors of the West Chester Trust & Savings Company to prepare plans in competition for a new bank building to be erected by them at West Chester, Pa. Plans are due December 21.

J. R. Ogden, architect, 1003 Atlantic avenue, Atlantic City, N. J., is now ready for estimates for a four-story brick and frame hotel to be erected at the corner of Central and South Carolina avenue, for Lippincott estate. It will measure 32x92 feet, and will have the usual appointments.

Jacob Naschold, architect, 504 Walnut street, has completed plans and specifications and is now ready for sub-bids for the new house to be built on Church Lane, Lansdowne, Pa., for the Misses Sette. It will be two stories and attic high, 34x25 feet, and will be constructed of stone and frame, and will contain all modern improvements.

Otto C. Wolf, architect, 1025 Arch street, is working on plans for a four-story brick stock house for the Christian Schmidt Brewing Company, to be erected at Hancock and Edward streets. It will measure 60x100 feet, and will be built of brick and slow burning construction. Will be ready for bids in about one week's time.

Miles Knudsen, Kendrick & Roberts, Inc., Metzger & Wells and J. P. Thompson have been added to the original list of builders by Architect Charles J. Brooke, of 14 South Broad street, to submit bids to him by December 28 on the proposed new edifice to be erected at Indiana avenue and C street, for the Kensington Congregational congregation (details previously noted).

Cope & Stewardson, architects, 320 Walnut street, will complete plans and invite estimates on or about January 4 for the new building for the Commissioners of the District of Columbia, at Washington, D. C. It will cost about $1,500,000. It will be six-story fireproof building of brick and stone and will be erected on the south side of Pennsylvania avenue between Thirtieth-and-one-half and Fourteenth streets.

Newman & Harris, architects, Land Title Building, are working on plans for a new residence to be built at Brewster, N. Y., for S. B. Quick, Esq. It will be two-and-a-half stories high and will be constructed of frame, shingle and plaster. It will have a porch on the front, the interior will be in hardwood finish and will have all modern improvements. Plans and specifications will be sent to the local builders for bids in a short while.

Stearns & Castor, architects, Stephen Girard Building, have been commissioned to prepare plans for a new warehouse to be erected near Twelfth and Cherry streets (the exact location and owner's name withheld). It will be five stories high, 32x140 feet, and will be built of brick and slow-burning construction.—Also preparing plans for alterations to an old Presbyterian church, this city. The work will consist of rearranging the choir loft, new entrance, steam heating plant, wiring for electricity, new plumbing, etc.

Herbert J. Wetherill, architect, 328 Chestnut street, has completed plans and specifications and sent same out to builders for estimates for alterations, additions and repairs to the residence of Mr. Ralph Wilson, at Harpers, Montgomery county, Pa. Bids due December 18. The following builders are bidding: Henderson & Co., Ltd., S. R. Riley, Joseph Ashby, J. D. Hudson, W. J. Gruhler.—He is also engaged on competitive plans for the new cloister for St. Mary's P. E. church, at Thirty-ninth and Chestnut streets, to be built at a cost of $4,500.

Seymour—Paul Davis, architects, 907 Walnut street, are working on plans for a new factory to be erected at Lancaster, Pa., for D. B. Locher estate and to be occupied by the Lancaster Silver Plating Company. It will be four stories and basement high, 106x32 feet, and will be built of brick and slow burning construction. Local builders will be invited to bid in about one week's time.—The same firm have been commissioned by the Board of Education of Camden, N. J., to prepare plans for two public schools to be erected in that city. One to be erected at Seventh and Vine streets, and the location of the other has not been determined as yet. They will be two stories and basement high and will be constructed of stone and brick. One will cost $30,000 and the other $35,000.

Lawrence V. Boyd, architect, Harrison Building, has completed plans and specifications and sent same out to builders for estimates for remodeling the buildings at 1712-14 Chestnut street, for Theodore Presser. The plans provide for altering the first floor for stores; the upper floors to suit the need of office purposes. A new iron stairway is provided for and will run from the basement to the sixth floor. An elevator will be installed. It will be wired for electricity, heated by steam and will be provided with all up-to-date appointments. The following contractors are now ready for sub-bids: Wm. R. Dougherty, Patrick J. McDevitt, Francis Maguire, McClintock & Weaver, Thos. Little & Son, Appleton & Burrell, Kendrick & Roberts, Inc., and P. J. Hurley. Bids due December 19.

Frank T. Miller, architect, Lippincott Building, will invite estimates in a short time for a new boiler house for the Johnson Printing Company's plant at Tenth and Lombard streets. It will be a basement structure and will be built of stone. He is also ready for bids for two 150 H. P. boilers to be installed at the above building.—He is also working on plans for a parish house and gymnasium building for the congregation of the Protestant Episcopal church of the Good Shepherd, to be erected at Franklin avenue and Cumberland street. It will be two stories high, 40x70 feet, and will be constructed of stone. The first floor will be the gymnasium; the second floor will be the auditorium. It will contain all modern improvements such as steam heat, wired for electricity, etc. Plans and specifications will be ready for bids in about two weeks' time.

BUILDING AND REAL ESTATE NOTES

W. R. Dougherty, Wm. Steele & Son and Cramp & Co. have filed bids for revised plans for the proposed new Mt. Siani Hospital to be built on Fifth street below Reed street. Plans by W. R. Scott, architect.

Wm. Steele & Son, builders, 1600 Arch street, have filed bids for the new power house for the American Lace Manufacturing Company to be erected at Glenwood and Allegheny avenues. It will be one-story high, 60x40 feet, and will be built of brick and slow burning construction.

Smith & Hartigan, D. W. Sperry, Robt. Tarlo & Son, I. Walter Thompson and James A. Bradin, builders, have filed bids with Paul P. Elkington, architect, 1002 Chestnut street, for two stores to be erected at Swarthmore, Pa., for Mrs. E. Neal. They will be two-and-a-half stories high, 46x44 feet, and will be built of brick and rough-east with porch on the front and sides. They will contain all modern improvements. It is expected that bids will be awarded as soon as possible.

Lynch Bros., builders, Lippincott Building, have revised plans posted for the new stable to be built at 1213 S. Juniper street, for Thompson Carson. It will be three stories high and will be built of brick.—Bids due December 23.—They also have plans posted for a hotel and store building to be erected at Wildwood, N. J., for Jos. Geisenberger, Esq. It will be four stories high, 34x72 feet, and will be built of brick and frame. It will have the usual appointments. Plans by Chas. Balderson, architect, 411 Walnut street. Bids due December 22.

Both branches of Council have passed the ordinance providing for a permanent loan of $16,000,000 to be used as follows: Filtration, $5,000,000; schools, $2,200,000; municipal hospital, $900,000; new almshouse, $500,000; sewers, $1,000,000; repaving intersection and grading, $700,000; Torresdale Boulevard, $1,000,000; South Boulevard, $500,000; bridges, $1,000,000; police, patrol and fire houses, $200,000; the Parkway, $2,000,000; to abolish grade crossings, $1,000,000; to deepen channel, $1,000,000; League Island Park, $500,000; Insane Hospital, $1,000,000, and small parks, $1,000,000. Should the ordinance be signed by the Mayor it will be voted upon at the February election.

AN OUNCE OF CAUTION MIGHT SAVE YOU THOUSANDS OF DOLLARS

To be able to obtain for the small sum of $3.00 a book of nearly three hundred pages containing the things which architects, contractors and material men ought to know, as to their status, rights, privileges, etc., both offensive and defensive, under the laws of the State, strictly appertaining to building and construction work, is the best Christmas present any man in the building line can make himself.

To tell all that "Shissler's Pennsylvania Law of Builders" contains with which every man in the building line ought to be familiar, would require more space than we can afford, but if you will send your request to the office of the Real Estate Record, we will mail you a circular, which when read will make you want the book at once, or if you remit the $3.00 to this office, we will send you the book, which you can return and get your money if it does not more than meet our representations in every respect. This is fair and honest, isn't it?

BUILDING AND REAL ESTATE NOTES

D. A. McClelland, builder, 515-17 South Twentieth street, has been awarded the contract to repair fire damages at the Grays Ferry Ink Manufacturing Company's plant at the corner of Thirty-third street and Grays Ferry road.

Kendrick & Roberts, Inc., 1211 Walnut street, have plans posted for the new store and sun parlor to be erected on the Boardwalk, Atlantic City, N. J., for Bartlett & Leeds, according to plans prepared by Newman & Harris, architects, Land Title Building, Phila.

J. P. Thompson, builder, 1432 South Penn Square Building, will submit bids for alterations and additions to 1631 Chestnut street, for Frank Muller, on December 17, according to plans and specifications prepared by Warden H. Fenton, architect, New York City.

Lynch & Bros. builders, Lippincott Building, have plans posted for the addition to the plant of John Byrd, on Catharine street above Broad street. It will be four stories high and will measure 114x32 feet, and will be built of brick and slow burning construction. Bids due December 18.

P. J. Hurley and Kendrick & Roberts, Inc., builders, have plans posted for the four-story and basement hotel to be built at South Connecticut avenue and the Beach, Atlantic City, N. J. It will measure 32x84 feet, and will be constructed of brick and frame. Plans by J. R. Ogden, architects, 1003 Atlantic avenue, Atlantic City, N. J.

Proposals will be invited by Chief Endicott of the Bureau of Yards and Docks at Washington, D. C., after January 1 for the extension to two piers of League Island Navy Yard, for which an appropriation of $115,000 is available. The extension will be each 250 feet long and will be constructed of steel cylinders, concrete foundations and steel beams.

Camden County Building Commissioners have invited the members of the Master Builder's Exchange to submit proposals until February 1, 1904, for the general construction of the new Camden County Courthouse, at Camden, N. J., according to plans and specifications prepared by Rankin & Kellogg, architects, 1012 Walnut street.

The following builders: Lynch Bros., E. J. Kreitzburg, D. A. McClelland, M. P. Murphy, Dietrich & Bowser, have filed their bids to M. H. Dickerson, 2d, architect, Land Title Building, for the proposed new residence for Mr. Jos. Reibel, to be erected at Seventy-second and Gibson avenue (details previously noted), according to plans prepared by him.

J. S. Rogers & Co., of Stanwick, N. J., have been awarded the contract to build the new residence at Moorestown, N. J., for Mr. Leeds. It will be two-and-a-half stories high, 28x40 feet, with a kitchen wing and will be built of frame and brick with shingle roof. It will have a porch on the front and back and will have all modern improvements. Plans were prepared by Savery & Scheetz, architects, Stephen Girard Building.

H. C. Rea, Herbert S. Glasier, P. J. Gaffney, Burd P. Evans and J. Sims Wilson have filed bids with Duhring, Okie & Ziegler, architects, South Penn Square Building, for alterations and additions to the adjoining building of the Colonial Biscuit Company, at the northeast corner of Twelfth and Brown streets, according to plans prepared by them. It is expected that the contract will be awarded in a short time and work will proceed at once.

W. W. Rea & Sons, builders, 1815 Francis street, have been awarded the contract to rebuild the Kolb Bakery at 1403-27 South Tenth street, recently destroyed by fire. It will be four stories and basement high, and will be built of brick and slow burning type and will have every modern convenience such as ice plant, electric motors, electric elevators and baker's machinery. The proposed building to cover 57,000 square feet. Work will proceed at once.

THROUGHOUT PENNSYLVANIA

—At Waltersburg, Fayette county, the Waltersburg Water Company has been organized with a capital of $5,000.

—At Sayre, Bradford county, it is reported that the Sayre Water Company has decided to extend its plant and to install a filter system.

—At Lancaster, Lancaster county, City Council has appointed a committee to investigate and to report on the construction of a filtration system.

—At Catasauqua, Lehigh county, the Davies & Thomas Company, foundry and machine works, will enlarge its plant by erecting a new building and putting in additional machinery.

—At Braddock, Allegheny county, the Braddock Tool & Machine Company will erect a large addition to its plant on Braddock avenue, Braddock.

—At Lititz, Lancaster county, Israel G. Erb will erect a cement plant, Mr. Shaeffer, of Nazareth, Pa., will superintend the erection of the plant.

—At Allegheny, Allegheny county, the Twelfth United Presbyterian congregation will erect a new church at Manhattan street and Western avenue. The Building Committee is composed of Mr. H. C. W. Hutchinson, Mr. W. H. Smoyer and Mr. John Gwyer.

—At Allentown, Lehigh county, the Lehigh County Agricultural Society has under consideration the erection of a hotel building on the Fair Grounds. The estimated cost is about $8,000. Mr. H. B. Schall is the secretary of the society, and can give information.

—At Glassport, Council will receive proposals in a short time for the erection of a municipal building to cost about $8,000. The proposed structure will contain a public hall, offices for burgess, engineer, clerk and Board of Health, also a police station and headquarters for the fire department.

—At Elliott, considerable paving and grading will be done. Plans for the work are being prepared by Engineers McCully and Henderson, Fifth avenue and Grant streets, Pittsburgh, Pa.

—At Grafton, Huntingdon county, Mr. A. M. Dutton will erect a dwelling at a cost of about $5,000. It will be well finished throughout and provided with modern conveniences. The contract has been awarded to C. Carroll, 624 Brownsville avenue, Pittsburgh, Pa.

—At Homestead, Lackawanna county, Mr. W. L. B. Hayes has had plans prepared for a four-story business block to be erected at Eighth and McClure avenues, Homestead. It will be well finished and will be provided with all modern conveniences. The estimated cost is about $125,000.

—At Chester, Delaware county, the Solid Steel Casting Works were damaged by fire last week at a loss of about $25,000. The chipping shop, a new building, 120x50 feet, was destroyed and most valuable machinery lost. The foundry building was somewhat damaged. Mr. Richard Peters is president of the company. The plant will be put in shape as soon as possible by the erection of other buildings to replace those destroyed and damaged.

to heat your residence, however large or small, with HOT WATER, and file a Trust Company's bond for ten times the cost, the same to be forfeited if I fail in any direction.

This means that there shall be more than enough radiation at the smallest possible cost for coal. No leaks, no mistakes, no annoyances of any kind. The boiler to be of the best make.

The responsibility all mine, and the cost no greater because of good work and material.

Yours Truly,

JOHN C. F. TRACHSEL,

At Narragansett Pier, R. I., plans have been prepared by Joseph H. Taft, of Taft and Belknap, No. 1 East Fortieth street, New York City, for a new casino to be erected at Narragansett Pier to replace the structure destroyed by fire some few years since. The proposed structure will be old English in style, two stories high, with a tower, of stone and cement, fine interior finish and all conveniences for such a building. The estimated cost is about $50,000.

ARCHITECTS' NOTES

Edwin F. Bertolette, architect, Heed Building, has completed plans and sent same to the committee in charge for transforming the opera house at West Chester, Pa., into a hall to be occupied by McCall Post, G. A. R., and the Chester County Historical Society. They are now ready for bids.

The Property Committee for the proposed Carnegie Library to be erected at Lansdowne, Pa., at a cost of $10,000, has selected the lot facing on Baltimore avenue in front of the present school house at that place. Keisker & Nicholson, Bunting & Shirligley and E. D. Lewis will prepare plans in competition.

Koelle & Speth Company, formerly W. S. Koelle & Company, architects and engineers, have moved from the Heed Building to larger quarters at 608 Chestnut street, Room 629. They will send plans out on December 24 for alterations and additions to stock house of Philip Hildebrand, at Sixth and Erie avenue.

Chas. Barton Keen, architect, 1602 Chestnut street, has sent plans and specifications out to builders for estimates for a two-story stone stable to be built near Merion, Pa. Bids due December 31. The following builders are bidding: E. J. Kreitzburg, F. D. Mahan, Gray Bros., J. D. Lengle, H. P. Wolfe and Milton W. Young.

Chas. L. Hillman, architect, Provident Building, 50 South Fourth street, has completed plans and specifications and sent same to the Board of Directors of the Florence Crittenton Home at 139 Queen street, Germantown, for alterations and additions to the home. The work comprises the following: the building of an additional story to the present building and the building of a one-story brick laundry building, also new plumbing and the installing of a heating plant.

Horace Trumbauer, architect, Land Title Building, is working on plans for a new building for the Garretson Hospital for Oral Surgery, to be erected on Hamilton street between Eighteenth and Nineteenth streets, this city. It will be five stories and basement high, and will measure 61x37 feet, and will be constructed of brick, stone and iron, and will be fireproof in its construction. It will have all the latest modern appliances of a building of its kind. It will probably be ready for bids about February 1, 1904.

H. L. Reinhold, Jr., architect, 1002 Chestnut street, has completed revised plans and sent same out to builders for estimates for a new residence to be built at Morton, Pa., for Mr. Hertel. It will be two-and-a-half stories high, 31x41 feet, and will be built of stone and frame with all modern improvements. Bids due December 30. The following builders are bidding: Mitchell Bros., Metzger & Wells, I. W. Thompson, Chas. F. Sharp, Scott & Kriebel, Smith & Hartigan, of this city; Ward & McGinnis, of Chester, Pa.; Frank Shee, of Clifton Heights.

Henry Dagit, architect, 431 Chestnut street, has completed plans and specifications for rear addition and alterations to 110 South Thirtieth street for the Misses Quinn. The plans provide for the building of an addition three-stories high and making minor alterations, bids due December 29th. The following builders are bidding: John McShane, Kendrick & Roberts Inc., John N. Gill, M. P. Murphy, E. M. Smith, W. R. Dougherty, Herbert Glazier, F. S. Maguire, P. J. Hurley, D. A. McClelland, Dietrich & Bowers, Wm. Christie & Son and Lamb Building Company.

Field & McDary, architects, 1414 South Penn Square Building, have sent plans and specifications out to builders for estimates for a new residence for Mrs. W. Schoff, to be built at Cynwyd, Pa. It will be three stories high, of frame and plaster, 46x45 feet. It will have a porch on front with an uncovered porch on the side. The interior will be in hardwood finish and it will contain all modern improvements. Bids due December 28. The following builders are bidding: Appleton & Burrell and F. E. Wallace, of this city; J. N. Meckert, of Glendon, Pa.; D. A. Fritz, Cynwyd, Pa., and Gray Bros., of Rosemont, Pa.—They have also sent out revised plans for the Summer residence to be built at Cape May, N. J., for Mr. W. Field (details previously noted). Bids due December 28. The following builders are bidding: P. J. Hurley, Appleton & Burrell, Lewis Havens & Sons, of this city, and W. S. Cummings and Elwell & Son, of Cape May, N. J.

A plot of 200 acres in South Altoona, Pa., has been purchased by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company and they have decided to build an immense modern steel plant upon this site. The new mills will be operated on the lines of the company's rail mills at Johnstown and Steelton, Pa. Plans will be prepared at once and work on the erection will be started in the early Spring and quickly rushed to completion.

Rev. Angelo Caruso, rector of the Italian Church of Our Lady of Good Counsel, has purchased for use as an annex to the parish school, the two-three-story houses 815 and 817 Montrose street. The first floor of the properties will be used as a hall for the Young Italian Catholic Association. The second and third floors will be arranged as class rooms for the children. A bridge will connect the main building with the annex. The purchase price of the properties was $11,000. The alterations that are necessary will cost about $4,000. It is expected that the buildings will be ready for use by the coming Spring. Edwin F. Durang, 1200 Chestnut street, is the architect.

BUILDING AND REAL ESTATE NOTES

F. E. Wallace, builder, 1017 Chestnut street, has filed bids for new stable for Thompson Carson to be built in the rear of 1213 South Broad street. Details previously noted.

D. W. Sperry, builder, 1305 Arch street, has filed bids with C. E. Rahn, architect, 410 Walnut street, for a new three-story brick dwelling to be built at Logan, Pa., according to plans prepared by him.

It is reported that a new stone Lutheran church is to be built at Allegheny avenue, D and Hurley streets. It is to be one-story and basement high, 60x95 feet, and that plans will be ready for bids in about 10 days.

John M. Kennedy, Jr., of Mutual Life Building, will erect a new factory on the south side of Westmoreland street between Boudinot and Hurley streets. It will be three-stories high, 97x60 feet and will be built of brick and slow-burning construction.

F. B. Davis and Lynch Bros., builders, have filed revised bids with Heacock & Hokanson, architects, 931 Chestnut street, for the new residence for Mr. W. B. Cooke to be built at Jenkintown, Pa. It will be three-stories high and will be built of stone.

Charles Gilpin, builders, Pennsylvania Building, has been awarded the contract to make alterations and additions to 806-08 Arch street for L. Dannebaum Sons & Company, according to plans prepared by William Harris & Richards, architects and engineers, Drexel Building.

W. T. Smedley, builder, at Narbeth, Pa., has been awarded the contract to build the new residence at that place for Mr. J. Howard Wilson. It will be two-and-a-half stories high, 30x42 feet, and will be built of stone and frame. Plans by Lincoln Smith, architect, Crozer Building.

Doyle & Doak, builders, 1509 Sanson street, have been awarded the contract by Mr. Richard Loper to construct a bridge over the deep ravine which separates Allentown from Salisburg, at Allentown, Pa. The structure will be 1904 feet in length and 120 feet high and will cost about $300,000.

P. J. Hurley, Thomas Seeds, Jr., H. B. Shoemaker & Co., have plans posted for a coal yard, a coal trestle, 180 feet, a two-story frame stable, 29x31 feet, and an office building, 12x17 feet, to be erected at Forty-ninth street station of the Philadelphia & Reading Railway. Bids due December 28th.

J. S. Connell & Sons, builders, Land Title Building, have been awarded the contract to build the new ambulance stable for the Pennsylvania Hospital at the northeast corner of Eighth street and De Lancey Place. It will be two-stories and basement high, 40x50 feet and will be built of brick with stone trimmings and will cost $15,000. Plans by Addison Hutton, architect, Stephen Girard Building.

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y DEC. 23 1903

THE FIRST COMPLIMENT OF THE SEASON.

As the boy is father to the man in more senses than one, so also old-time habits become an essential part of the make-up of a business institution, great or small.

Over 59 years ago the old building material firm of Samuel H. French & Co., even then as now at Fourth and Callowhill streets, this city, was noted for its prompt delivery of orders as well as the great care exercised in filling them.

Prompt delivery as a habit grows in time to become a cardinal virtue, and in this instance the coming of 1904 is heralded thus early by Messrs. Samuel H. French & Co., by the early arrival of its desk memorandum pad and calendar, which not only gives a blank memorandum space for every business day in the year, but the spaces themselves are ingeniously divided by lines of type imprint in red ink, setting forth the very many articles of practical value the concern keeps constantly on hand in the way of builders' and contractors' supplies.

This house was established in 1844, and while its originators have long since gone to their fathers, the sterling business principles of 59 years ago are now just as much a part of the make-up of the concern as they were at its inception.

TAYLOR'S CHRISTMAS "ARROW"

A great deal is said and a great deal more has been left unsaid in the N. G. Taylor Co.'s monthly called the "Arrow." The peculiar characteristic of the "Arrow" is to find its way through the vulnerable part of every reader's reasoning-box, if he has one, in the interest of Taylor's old style roofing tin, which for the last 75 years has asserted its peculiarly durable, economical goodness to the great advantage of those who prefer a lasting roof covering to the tissue paper sort, which no one really wants except the fellow who means to dupe some credulous buyer who is always found on Easy street. It is strange how careful most men are as to the soles of their shoes, and not less strange as to the indifference of many men as to the character of the roof covering of their houses.

BUILDING AND REAL ESTATE NOTES

Frank S. Riggs, builder, 608 Chestnut street, will make alterations and additions to the store at the front of the Continental Hotel and when improvements are finished it will be occupied by the Union Pacific Railroad Company as their local office. Plans by Westley L. Blithe, architect, 14 South Broad street.

Lehr & Son, builders, of New York, have been awarded the contract to make alterations and additions to 717 North Second street, this city, for M. Zimmerman & Co., (details previously noted) plans and specifications by Milligan & Webber, architects, 520 Walnut street, work will proceed at once.

Jno. S. Rodgers & Son, of Stanwick, N. J., S. Mains of Morristown, N. J., and R. C. Ballinger & Co., of this city, have filed bids with Morris & Vaux, architects, Stephen Girard Building, for the alterations and additions to the residence of Miss Mary R. Williams, according to plans prepared by them.

White & Coyne, builders, at Long Branch, N. J., have been awarded the contract to build the new Roman Catholic church at Deal Beach, N. J., for the congregation of St. Mary's. It will be one-story high, 100x48 feet and will be built of stone with slate roof. Plans by Henry Dagitt, architect, 431 Chestnut street.

Kendrick & Roberts, Inc., builders, 1211 Walnut street, have filed bids with the owners for the rebuilding of the Girard Avenue Theatre, situated at Girard avenue and Marshall street, recently destroyed by fire. Plans and specifications were prepared by J. B. McElfatrick & Son, architects, 1402 Broadway, New York.

The old iron rails and lamp posts which stood at the entrance of Carpenter's Hall for so many years, have been replaced by bronze rails and lamps of artistic design and are another evidence of the progress and high class of work turned out by the makers, Jno. L. Gaurer Company, northeast corner Nineteenth and Hamilton streets.

Wm. Steele & Son, builders, 1600 Arch street, will post plans this week for the proposed factory for N. Snellenburg & Co., to be built at Broad and Wallace streets. It will be six stories and basement high, 80x180 feet, and will be built of brick and slow burning construction, and will have tower fire escapes and all up-to-date factory appointments (details previously noted). Plans and specifications by Wm. Steele & Son.

The following builders: Isaac N. Flounder, W. S. Worral, Jos. Seal, of Media, Pa.; Samuel Bell, of Upland, Pa.; Wm. Prevost, of Chester, Pa.; H. Cheney, of Brandywine Summit, Pa.; Mr. W. Wells, of Glenolden, Pa., and Wm. Yarnall, of this city, are bidding on the new clubhouse and stable to be built at Wallingford, Pa., for the Spring Haven City Club. It will be two stories high, of stone. Plans by Baker & Dallett, architects, Crozer Building, this city.

Doyle & Doak, The Chas. McCaul Company,

Wm. Steele & Son, Henderson & Co., Cramp & Co., builders, of this city, are bidding on the new $500,000 Camden County Courthouse to be built on the site of the present courthouse at Camden, N. J. The building will be four stories and basement high, 203x96 feet, and will be built of stone and brick (details previously noted). Bids due January 30, 1904. Plans and specifications by Rankin, Kellogg & Crane, architects, 1012 Walnut street, Philadelphia.

John Maddock, builder, 7242 Gray's avenue, has broke ground for an operation of 18 three-story and 46 two-story houses to be built as follows: 9 three-story dwelling, 15x53 feet, to be built on south side of Callowhill street west of Robinson street; 7 three-story dwellings, 15x53 feet, on Vine street west of Robinson street; 1 dwelling, 16x53 feet on north side of Vine street west of Robinson street and 1 dwelling, 16x53 feet on Vine street west of Norton street; 23 two-story dwellings, 15x46 feet on east side of Norton street north of Vine street, and 23 dwellings, same size, to be erected on north side of Robinson street, north of Vine. They will be constructed of brick and contain all modern improvements. This operation will cost $155,000.

FORT WORTH, TEXAS, June 12th 1903.

The Tubular Heating and Ventilating Company, Philadelphia, Pa.

Dear Sir,—In sending you the inclosed check, to cover the small balance due you on account of extras, we take the opportunity to say that the two No. 6 Forbes Heaters purchased from you last fall have given the fullest satisfaction in every particular. They are in use in the "Maddid," a small apartment house in this city, containing twenty rooms that are heated by them, and we have found that they not only furnish plenty of heat, but did it with a very satisfactory coal bill. The fuel used was soft lump coal for the first fire in the morning but the rest of the day only slack from soft coal was used, costing $2.50 per ton. We think the heaters a great success and do not see how you can improve upon them.

Very truly, etc.,

KING'S WINDSOR CEMENT

Elastic in its nature, can be applied with 25% less labor and has 12½% more covering capacity than any other similar material

FOR Plastering Walls and Ceilings J. B. KING & CO., No. 1 Broadway, New York

This tough piece of Dixon's Silica Graphite Paint, obtained by cutting away the material it was painted on, shows what a hard, flexible covering it makes. It's the only paint that is made of flake graphite. It can be bent double without cracking. Heat or cold, acid or sulphuric smoke fumes don't hurt it.

SILICA

has been used 40 years by railroads, contractors and corporations owning large properties. It is equally desirable and economical for the owner of smaller properties. It endures three times as long as any other paint. Put it on roofs, fences, porches, spouting, smoke stacks and all exposed metal or wood work.

JOSEPH DIXON CRUCIBLE CO., Jersey City, N. J., or 1020 Arch St., Phila.

At Baltimore, Architect Edward H. ARCHITECTS' NOTES

Duhring, Okie & Ziegler, architects, South Penn Square Building, are working on plans for a handsome new public school to be built at Mount Pleasant, Pa. It will be two stories high, 65x65 feet, and will be constructed of stone and will have the usual schoolhouse appointments. Plans will be ready for bids the latter part of this week.

Heacock & Hokanson, architects, 931 Chestnut street, have completed plans and specifications and invited bids for a new residence to be built on Simpson road, Ardmore, Pa. It will be two stories and attic high, 58x35 feet, and will be built of frame and plaster. It will have a porch on front, the interior will be in hardwood finish and it will contain all modern improvements. Bids due January 11.

Chas. Bolton, architect, Witherspoon Building, has completed plans and specifications and sent same out to builders for estimates for the Dotterer Memorial Chapel to be erected at Twenty-fourth and Dickinson streets. It will be one-story and basement high and will be built of stone. Bids due December 30. The following builders are bidding: Lynch Bros., E. J. Hedden, Burd P. Evans, Kendrick Roberts, Inc., and P. J. Hurley.

Walter Smedley, architect, Stephen Girard Building, has completed plans and specifications and sent same out to builders for estimates for alterations and additions to the Hotel Aberdeen, at Longport, N. J. The following builders have been invited to bid: Daniel Knauer, of Atlantic City; John R. Minnick, of Longport, N. J.; Chas. Adams, of Pleasantville, N. J.; R. C. Ballinger & Co., and Kendrick & Roberts, Inc., of this city. Bids due January 6.

A number of architects have submitted designs in competition for the new Y. M. C. A. Building to be built at Washington, D. C., and forwarded same to the Building Committee for their approval. It will be six stories and basement high, and will be constructed of stone and brick. It will be equipped with all the modern improvements of a building of its kind, such as billiard-room, bowling alley, gymnasium, auditorium, etc., and is estimated to cost $300,000.

Rowland W. Boyle, architect, 1626 Chestnut street, has completed plans and specifications for the superstructure of the Home for Aged Poor under the auspices of the Little Sisters of the Poor, to be erected at Fifty-third and Chester avenue. The proposed home will be four stories and basement high, and will be built of Port Deposit stone (details previously noted). The following builders have been invited to bid: Wm. McShane, John R. Wiggins & Co., James Doyle, Mitchell Bros., and Henderson & Co. Bids due January 6.

The West Chester Lodge of Elks have appointed a committee of nine members to take charge of the Smith Building on South Church street, West Chester, Pa., recently purchased as a clubhouse. Several Philadelphia architects have been asked to make suggestions looking to the remodeling of the building and present rough sketches to the Building Committee, and from them the committee will select the one best suited. Plans and specifications will then be made and bids invited. It is their intention to be in possession April 1.

Addison Hutton, architect, Stephen Girard Building, has completed plans and specifications and sent same out to builders for estimates for two new buildings for the State Lunatic Hospital to be built at Harrisburg, Pa. The new hospital will be two stories and basement high, 155x88 feet. The treatment building will also be two stories and basement high, 127x54 feet. They will be built of brick and stone and fire-proof construction. The interior finish will be of red oak. There is an appropriation of $150,000 for construction. Bids will be open in Harrisburg on January 12, 1904. The following builders have been invited to bid: Geo. Beard & Co., of Reading, Pa.; Henderson & Co., R. C. Ballinger & Co., James Bradin, Cramp & Co., Wells Bros & Co., and Kendrick & Roberts, Inc., of this city.

BUILDING AND REAL ESTATE NOTES

John R. Wiggins & Co., J. E. & A. L. Pennock, builders, have filed bids for the rebuilding of the Girard Avenue Theatre, situated at Girard avenue and Marshall streets. Plans by J. B. McElfatrick & Son, architects, 1402 Broadway, New York.

Otto Domsgen, electrical contractor, 2613 Germantown avenue, has been awarded the contracts for all electrical work at Tioga Station and clubhouse at Tabor Station, both for Philadelphia & Reading Railway; also dwelling 2028 Camac street, for Mr. F. W. Shuler.

Darlington & Co., 1126 Chestnut street, will add the adjoining building, Bailey, Banks & Biddle's old store, to their present large store. Extensive interior alterations will be made by the above firm. It is expected that they will be in the new store property shortly after the first of the year.

Cramp & Co., builders, 1421 Filbert street, have been awarded the contract to build the United States Post Office and Custom House Building at Jacksonville, Fla., for the United States Government. Their price was $207,800. It will be two stories and basement high and will be constructed of stone.

Frank B. Davis, builder, 6 North Thirteenth street, has been awarded the contract to build the new residence for Mr. W. B. Cooke, at Jenkintown, Pa. It will be three stories high and will be built of stone and contain all modern improvements. Plans and specifications by Heacock & Hokanson, architects, 931 Chestnut street.

The directors of the Merchants' Warehouse-ing Company, who abandoned the building of the large warehouse on Delaware avenue below Chestnut street (details previously published), on account of the high prices, will again invite bids from local builders for the erection of the proposed structure after the first of the year.

Archbishop Ryan has taken title from Emma C. Bergdoll for the property, 1137 Spring Garden and also for five stores at Ridge avenue, Twelfth and Spring Garden streets. These properties adjoin the Catholic Church of the Assumption, and it is expected that the present buildings will be torn down and a new parochial school erected on the site.

At a special meeting of the Master Builders' Exchange, at 32 South Seventh street last week, the following were nominated for directors: F. M. Harris, Jr., John S. Stevens, John R. Huhn, Cyrus Borgner, George Watson, Patrick Smith and William B. Irvine. The regular election for the above gentlemen will be held at the Exchange on the afternoon of January 26, 1904.

Kendrick & Roberts, Inc., builders, 1211 Walnut street, are bidding on a brick bakery for the Fret Biscuit Company. It will be three stories and basement high, 75x98 feet, and will be erected at Nos. 404 and 406 East Thirty-second street, New York. Bids due January 5. Plans by John W. Ingle, architect, New York.—The same firm filed the lowest bid for the proposed new power house to be erected at League Island, Philadelphia, for the United States Government.

Bids have been received by the Department of Supplies, Frederick J. Shoyer, Director, for furnishing and delivering at the various Bureaus of the Department of Public Safety, Public Health and Charities, the following supplies: Plumbing, brick work, cementing, plastering, patent pavement, heating, iron and steel, etc.; also at the Bureau of Water and Department of Public Works the following supplies: Wrought iron pipe fittings, iron and steel, cement, bricks, gravel, Belgian blocks, paving sand and gravel, water pipes and castings, electrical supplies, etc.

C. Melloy, builder, 1707 Moravian street, has been awarded the contract for alterations to the clubhouse of the A. O. H., situated on Eighteenth street above Reed street. The proposed alterations provide for the building of a banquet room on the first floor back, and other minor improvements. Plans by Rowland W. Boyle, architect, 1626 Chestnut street.

John McShane, builder, 631 North Seventeenth street, has been awarded the contract to build the janitor house adjoining the new parish house now in the course of erection at Twenty-first and Naudain streets, for St. Patrick's Roman Catholic congregation. It will be three stories high and will be constructed of brick and stone. Plans by Rowland W. Boyle, architect, 1626 Chestnut street.

THE YEARLY TEST OF "LIMOID"

Booth, Garrett & Blair, chemists of this city, have filed their report of yearly tests as to the strength of "Limoid," Portland cement and sand mixtures. These yearly tests, to the great satisfaction of the Charles Warner Company, the manufacturers of "Limoid," establish beyond controversy the fact that all the grinding under the sun of any mixture of "Limoid" and Portland cement does not increase its strength and, that there is no better way than that practiced by the mason and plasterer, while at work, who takes from bulk the quantity of "Limoid," cement and sand he desires for his mixture and mixes them thoroughly before wetting.

This fact is not only established by these yearly tests, but also the terrible adhesiveness of "Limoid" mixtures when properly dried and seasoned by age after being in place.

To make clear the results of this very important range of yearly tests of "Limoid" mixtures it must be understood that the mixture was in every case made before the sand was added, and that in every case two parts of sand and only one of the mixture were used, to wit: One and a half parts of "Limoid" and 1 part of Nazareth Portland cement (averages being given). Seven days, 81 pounds; 28 days, 134 pounds; 3 months, 148 pounds; one year, 245 pounds.

One and a quarter parts of "Limoid" and 1 part of Nazareth, 7 days, 101 pounds; 28 days, 144 pounds; 3 months, 154 pounds; one year, 228 pounds. Three-quarter parts "Limoid" and 1 part of Nazareth, 7 days, 119 pounds; 28 days, 173 pounds; 3 months, 217 pounds; one year, 288 pounds. One-half part of "Limoid" and 1 part of Nazareth, 7 days, 129 pounds; 28 days, 179 pounds; 3 months, 181 pounds; one year, 281 pounds. The special test of a mixture composed of 1 part of "Limoid" and 1 part of Nazareth, after having been ground together in a ball mill for one hour, the tests of this mixture yielded the following results: 7 days, 137 pounds; 28 days, 169 pounds; 3 months, 174 pounds; one year, 224 pounds. It will be seen that the test of a year's drying and seasoning yielded better results in the sand.

ground mixture than was obtained from the mixture which was well ground.

SEVENTEENTH ANNUAL DINNER.

At the close of each year it has been the custom for the members of the Master Builders' Exchange to drop all cares of business and to have an entertainment and luncheon for the members and their friends. Therefore, on Thursday, December 31, they will give a luncheon and an entertainment at the Master Builders' Exchange, 18 to 24 South Seventh street. The luncheon will be served at 12.30 P. M. and the musical, vaudeville and Smoker will commence at 1.30 P. M. The talent is all professional and a good time is promised. It is expected that there will be a large number of the members and their friends present.

CONVENTION OF PORTLAND CEMENT MANUFACTURERS. Important Trade Topics Discussed—Election of Officers

Forty-two companies manufacturing Portland cement were represented at the second annual meeting of the Association of Portland Cement Manufacturers, held on September 11 last, in New York. The membership of the Association represents a large percentage of the $350,000,000 invested in this business. Reports were received from committees appointed to confer with other associations in the matter of standard specifications for cement and steel concrete construction and uniform contracts between manufacturer and dealer, and manufacturer and consumer, the reports being discussed at some length.

The condition of the trade evoked much discussion. It was the sense of those present that, with prices as in September last, there would be a considerable decrease during the coming year of imports of foreign cement, which amounted to about 2,000,000 barrels on the Atlantic Coast in 1903. The representatives of a number of mills stated that because of the great demand for cement during the past two years which caused their mills to run night and day it had been impossible to make the repairs which are absolutely necessary. In consideration of this fact it was agreed that the members of the association should close their mills for repairs for a period of not less than six weeks between December 1, 1903, and April 1, 1904. The amount of cement on hand at the various mills on December 1, 1903, was taken by districts and found to be light and considerably lower than was anticipated.

Consideration was given to the tentative agreement reached between the Secretary of the Interior and the cement manufacturers looking for the furnishing of cement for the Tonto basin dam in Arizona, estimated at 200,000 barrels. The dam will be constructed forty miles from the nearest railroad point, and owing to the high freight rate on material a cement mill will be erected by the Government at the site of the dam with a view of having the cement manufactured there in case it can be done cheaper than if manufactured in an established mill and transported to the site of the dam.

The association voted to erect a building at a cost of some $35,000 to $50,000 at the Louisiana Purchase Exposition. A novel feature of this exhibit will be that the building will be constructed entirely of cement furnished by members of the association, and will be erected during the progress of the Exposition; thus illustrating the process of erecting buildings of cement.

The following officers were elected: President, John D. Lober, of the Vulcanite Co.; vice-president, A. F. Gerstell, of the Alpha Co.; secretary, E. M. Young, of the Lehigh Co., and treasurer, E. R. Ackerman, of the Lawrence Co. Executive Committee—H. W. Maxwell, of the Atlas Co.; W. H. Harding, of the Bonneville Co.; R. W. Lesley, of the American Co.; W. R. Warren, of the Virginia Co.; George E. Bartol, of the Dexter Co.; E. M. Hagger, of the Illinois Co., and S. B. Newberry, of the Sandusky Co.

At the banquet, Mr. R. W. Lesley, the retiring president, was presented with a silver loving cup in recognition of his services. Mr. Bard made the presentation speech, to which Mr. Lesley appropriately replied.—Journal of Commerce.

THE AMERICAN FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY'S CALENDAR FOR 1904.

A calendar for a fire insurance company, when confined to a single style of print and makeup, becomes its trade-mark after years of continual use.

Many years ago this company adopted its present style of calendar and sticks to it. It would be difficult to suggest one more appropriate or one more effective for the American flag with its graceful folds symbol both the company's name with its straight forward, fair dealing with its many policy holders and its nationality. Offices of the American Fire are at 308 and 310 Walnut street. Thos. M. Montgomery, President; John F. Packard, Jr., Vice-President; Wm. F. Williams, Treasurer and Assistant Secretary; Wm. B. Kelly, General Manager.

THE MECHANICS' INSURANCE COMPANY'S CALENDAR FOR 1904.

Entirely without experimental idiosyncracies either in its management or in its annual calendar this company sticks to its former old-time methods of practical utility as is always expressed in everything in the company's perfect management.

The same style, color, red ink off days, the 1904 calendar is no better than in former years, just because it could not be made any better.

The company owns its own office building at the southwest corner of Walnut and Fifth streets. Simon J. Martin, President; Chas. J. Gallagher, Vice-President, and John A. Snyder, Secretary.

Burnham, Rookery Bldg. 8, Chicago, Ill., architect.

THE RAILROAD YIELD OF 1903.

Statistics of the railroad construction in this country during the past year have been roughly compiled, showing that the early anticipations that a great aggregate would be yielded for the twelve months have not been realized. The total mileage of the new constructions is 5,723.45 on 380 lines in all the states and territories. This is only thirty-nine miles more than the result of the works in 1902. Had it not been for the strikes in the various parts of the country during the spring and summer, however, and the low state of the money market, both of which factors operated seriously to deter railroad managers from extending their lines, it is believed that the year's aggregate would have gone fully 1,000 miles ahead of 1902's record.

It is a noteworthy fact that the heaviest railroad building during the year was in the southern states. Oklahoma leads all with a credit of 653 miles, followed by Louisiana with 446 miles, Texas with 371 miles, Indian territory with 319 miles, Arkansas with 263 miles and Demmler Bros.' stores—one of the best known business blocks of Pittsburgh was covered with an MF roof in 1850, and that house has a waterproof top to day, 53 years after. A block of residences in Boston was covered with MF 33 years ago, and they have never leaked. These are but two of thousands of like cases. It was such service that gave MF its name—Most Favored—and made it the standard of tin manufacture in America and Great Britain. We have made an improvement in these wonderful

Missouri with 250 miles. Thus in these adjacent six states and territories the year's work yielded 2,302 miles, or very nearly one-half of the total construction for the entire country. There is no information at hand to indicate whether the money stringency and the labor troubles kept down the other parts of the country particularly or affected all alike. Presumably the latter is the fact, and in that event it is evident that the southwest is actively at work in the provision of the lines of transportation which are needed for its development.—Washington Star.

BANK OF ENGLAND NOTES.

The first forger of a Bank of England note, who was tried and executed in 1758, must have tried his hand at a twenty-pound one, for none other was issued from the date of the bank's foundation, in 1694, until 1759, when ten-pound notes were issued for the first time. In 1793 five-pound notes were first issued, and from 1797 onward notes to the value of one and two pounds were issued. In 1829 all notes below the value of five pounds were withdrawn by law. The smaller notes would never have been allowed to become current but for the crisis in 1797, caused by the landing of some French troops in Wales. An invasion was instantly feared, and the consequent run upon the bank made it necessary to suspend cash payments except for sums under one pound—a course that was legalized by parliament in the restriction act. Cash payments were partially renewed in 1817, and all restrictions were finally removed in 1821. It is curious that the foreign custom of handling money in small notes should have been initiated by the threat of a French invasion.—From the London Chronicle.

THE FIRST STOVES.

A heating apparatus called a "stuba" (stove) was widely used among the higher class of Romans before the beginning of the Christian era. This class of heaters was fixed and immovable, besides being in several other respects wholly different from the modern stove. In Germany and Scandinavia they were used in bath rooms and hothouses during the middle ages. They were usually constructed of brick, stone or tile and were of immense size. They sometimes covered the whole side of a twenty or thirty foot room and often extended out into the room as much as ten feet, in which case the smooth, flat top was used for a bedstead, the heated surface imparting an agreeable feeling of warmth during those cold nights of long ago when such things as covers were quite rare.

Cardinal Polignac, of France, was perhaps the first to attempt the construction of a stove wholly of iron, this at about the beginning of the eighteenth century. The first real improvement over the old Roman "stuba" was brought about by Franklin in the year 1745. One of his efforts produced a typical base burner, almost perfect and a model of workmanship. Stoves were not used in private houses to any great extent prior to the year 1830.
